

THE MUSIC FAN'S SCORECARD TO WDAM RADIO'S GREATEST BASEBALL HITS

It's a hit! WDAM Radio's "Greatest Baseball Hits" is the greatest roster of songs about baseball of ever assembled on one team of MP3 files! The WDAM Sports Department has scouted our famous Groove Yard (one of the largest collections of recorded music this side...or any side...of Cooperstown) to find the most major and minor league melodies you could ever imagine – from "America's Greatest Imaginary Station."

In addition to these diamond discs and all-star anthems, our lineup also includes memorable play-by-play moments, just as you might have heard them on the radio. And in between innings, we pinch hit some selected baseball movie themes.

You'll need a scorecard to truly enjoy this collection, so we have provided one, along with important stats about the songs, on the pages that follow." These stats include the year, and for those recordings that actually made Billboard magazine's pop music charts, the highest position reached is designated by "#." Many of these selections are particularly rare (and they are labeled as such), so you won't find them at your favorite music source or sports store.

Obviously, WDAM Radio's "Greatest Baseball Hits" is in a league of its own. All of us at the station hope you'll have as much fun with this collection as we did assembling it!

Play ball!

*The Fight Song was the introductory music for all Angels broadcasts on KMPC, the team’s first flagship and a station Gene Autry owned even before he was awarded the Angels franchise. (Golden West Broadcasting; the original corporate name of the team was Golden West Baseball Club.) After Autry, and after the broadcasts bounced around from station to station, it fell into disuse. But it was rehabilitated (along with the halo) in 2002. And it blared from the stadium loudspeakers when they clinched the AL pennant and again when they won Game 7 of the World Series (right after the Hallejuah Chorus!). And it has words! The day after the Angels clinched their first-ever division championship, in 1979, KMPC played the version with the lyrics throughout that day in celebration. The song was written in 1966, the year the Angels moved from Los Angeles to Anaheim, and copyrighted by Walt Disney Music Co. The lyrics appeared in the Angel game programs for several years thereafter; the sheet music currently is on display in the "Baseball as History" exhibit at the Natural History Museum of Los Angeles County.

The "Golden West" referred to the name used by Gene Autry, the Angels' founding owner, for his baseball and broadcasting companies. The fight song traditionally preceded Angel broadcasts on Autry's KMPC/710 AM, and that instrumental jingle can be heard as the Angels Baseball March on a Web site devoted to the old radio station at: <http://www.710kmpc.com/jingles.htm>. So, here you go. The official lyrics to the original Angels Fight Song. Let’s all sign along, and GO HALOS!

California Angels A-O-K!
California Angels all the way!
Hear them shout that you’re the best, clear throughout the golden west
Watch ‘em play, night and day, Keep the crowds in the clouds!

California Angels, Win that game!!
California Angels, Win that fame!!
Everybody blow your horn!
With the Halo we adorn the California Angels team!
GO ANGELS!!
