"Night and day we continue praying with all our heart that we can see you again and give you all the things you need to make your faith strong." -1 Thessalonians 3:10 the Apostle Paul

Trinity friends,

We have all been through an eventful second half of 2020 and are now on our way into February already! Despite the fact that there are now two effective vaccines, we are still in a time of pandemic with perhaps even the highest number of cases since it began. However, we can see light at the end of the tunnel if you squint just right.

The question that many members are asking us is "When will we be able to return to in-person worship?" This is heart-warming and reassuring in a way. You have missed gathering together for fellowship, education and worship. You want to "see" on another again!

Church leaders are considering what "church" will look like when we get back to "normal". Perhaps that could happen as soon as this Spring, but probably not by Easter. Remember we are just squinting really hard! What will church life be like when we finally return to in-person worship?

We hope to have one big special celebration when we get out of the woods, where we can share our hopes and dreams together and perhaps talk about our experiences during the pandemic.

"Invitation" is perhaps the most important word for the church. In order for a church to thrive, members need to be invitational and reach out to friends and family to come to church with them. In our digital age "sharing" is the most important word for any organization. Please be intentional about "sharing" our videos on social media or recommendation. This time of "Virtual Church" has convinced us that in everything that we do, we need to be sure to think about those outside the church as well as those inside the church. When we offer special music, special programs and events, think about those on the outside, whose lives would be enriched by the same things that you enjoy. Exciting things happen when churches begin to invite. Throughout 2021, we plan to offer opportunities for connection through Bible Studies, small groups, and special events. Hang on. We're almost there!

Your Partner in Christ's Ministry,
Dr. Franklin

Even back in the 1950's, the corner of Buckeye and North streets was a place that had an open door to welcome all!

While we can't welcome you now because of the pandemic, our mission in downtown Wooster remains the same:

FINANCIAL POSITION - December 2020

Trinity UCC Wooster - "Embracing & Celebrating God's Love"

General Operating Fund Financial Snapshot

| | Actual | Budget | Actual | Budget | YTD |
| Income | $ 45,186 | $ 68,603 | $306,446 | $379,493 | $ 339,573 |

Comments: December member contributions were strong at $30,134. We thank our members and friends who made additional donations to help 2020. On the expense side we paid $1,500 to help the warming center, $530 to have our organ tuned and received as workers compensation dividend payment of $2,095 which was a credit to our workers compensation expenses.

For the year, Trinity ended up with a deficit of $14,033. We had budgeted a deficit of $29,319. We are so thankful for everyone who continued to donate to the church during the pandemic. Without your continued support we wouldn't have gotten this close to balancing out the year. Consistory guidelines say that our budget must be balanced each year. We were able to cover the deficit of $14,033 with church reserves. When we have a surplus we add to the church reserves and when we have a deficit we use them to cover. We still have church reserves of $49,293 remaining.

Building Repair Fund Balance: $ -(29,258)

During December we received strong donations of $4,597. We incurred $6,504 in building expenses: $2,835 in upgrades to our Kitchen fire suppression system and $3,669 for replacing the bearing assembly in the furnace room.

Breakfast Program Balance: $22,800

God Provides

One way to define “stunning” is to find winterberry plants in a snow-covered landscape. The dense clusters of bright red berries defy the monochromatic look of a winter background.

Winterberry is a holly shrub native to the eastern United States. It is medium-sized, usually 6-10 feet tall. Winterberry has become popular as a landscape plant and is readily available.

Although the plant is a holly, the leaves of the common winterberry do not have the classic sharp teeth found on typical hollies. While many holly shrubs are evergreen, winterberry is a deciduous plant. It loses its leaves in late fall and reveals its spectacular red berries. Initially the berries are hard, so birds wait a bit and feed on the berries after they have had a chance to soften

The dense clusters of bright red fruits are not just impressive, they are also life sustaining. The berries can remain on the plant throughout the winter and provide an important food source for birds even after other sources of nutrition are depleted.

Winterberry is a beautiful reminder that God will provide. On grey winter days the bright red berries seem even more brilliant, just as faith can shine its strongest when challenges loom.

Trinity Climate Crisis Committee – Update and Green Hints

Carol & Ed Eberhart and Margaret Bourne

Happy New Year 2021! It is a new day with new ways of showing our care for the Earth.

Our Ohio Representative to congress for district 16 is Anthony Gonzalez. I have looked up his voting record on the environment and want to share with you his “yes” votes for 2019-2020. The first one was for the Ocean Acidification Innovation Act of 2019 and the second was for the Great American Outdoors Act of 2020. Those are the only two environmental issues he voted yes on out of the many environmental or climate change bills put before the house of representatives. For example, why not vote yes for the Climate Action Now bill, or the Expanding Access to Sustainable Energy Act bill, both put to the vote in 2020? I don’t have the answer to that question. However, I do have a voice and I am going to use it this year to encourage our elected officials to understand the urgency of global warming issues on our only home, Earth. If you feel that climate change should be at the top of the state and national agenda and want some positive and innovative action on the situation from your elected officials, please join me in encouraging yes votes for bills that will help slow and mitigate the effects of global warming.

You may wonder what opened my mind to feel more fervent than ever about the health of our planet. Well, it was a book I received for Christmas. I couldn’t put it down and felt re-energized to act on bigger issues when I finished reading it. Yes, we all recycle, reduce plastic use, garden responsibly, try to drive low emission cars and live our lives as carbon light as we can. Unfortunately, that is probably not going to be enough to keep global warming from continuing to happen. We need some cooperation, innovation and big changes from the top elected public servants in Ohio and the Country. In the book “The Ministry For The Future,” by Kim Stanley Robinson, a road map of sorts is laid out for worldwide plans to mitigate and control the effects of climate change. This is a fascinating novel which starts with a catastrophe and ends with...well, I won’t tell you that. However, it is a story of how the scientists, doctors, teachers, diplomats and politicians finally work together to make sure there is an Earth for future generations to thrive on. So, I am energized to speak about and try to bring about the same outcome...a future on this planet for not just humanity but all living creatures large and small.

Continue

Since we are all mostly, still staying safe at home I want to propose that we have a book club, reading books focused on the issues of sustainability and global warming. If you read a good book that inspires you or... depresses you, write up a little book review and send it to me. I will put it in our monthly newsletter blurb to share with others. Maybe, we can choose a book to read together and then Zoom to talk about its merits or ideas. You can contact me at mbourne@wooster.edu. Here are the names and contact info for our Ohio senators and our representative for district 16.
