5/12/2021 18:40:12	Rebecca Bair	rebecca_bair@beaverton.k12.or.us	In group 3 the role of the SRO was brought up. While I agree with the notion that the SRO need not be brought in for non-legal issues, I would like to highlight the positive roles of the SRO in the building in creating community, safety, and helping to teach positive citizenry. How can the role of the SRO been seen as one who uplifts safety for all students instead of a traumatizing presence? (I get how and why this is such a tough issue, but it came up for me today)	While the policies can be fairly straightforward around protecting students from hate and bias, the nuance comes in the procedures that will be used to respond. 5/12/2021 19:55:33	Jona Davis	jtd1863@gmail.com		We can reimagine our systems today and come away with real solutions.	Is there a way to know about some of the legal boundaries that restrict our policies before we spend a ton of time hashing out the details of a concept that is not viable due to privacy laws, union policies, or State statutes.	No

I take away inspiration from the dedication and genius of this collective group to make change in BSD.	Wondering if the board and district admin will use the task force efforts and not dilute it.

5/13/2021 10:00:53	Jordan Peterson	Jordan_Peterson@beaverton.k12.or.us	That the legislature language asked for staff members to review and investigate whether discrimination happened.	-That SO many considerations need to be considered to ensure that students and staff feel supported and safe in their schools and communities. -That EVERYONE needs to be considered as someone who can also fill out this form -A task force team that is neutral party would be AMAZING at handling these types of situations. -A flow chart/visual would be amazing to have for schools so that the action steps are clear	I wonder if the district will put stock into a task force/flight team. I wonder if the groups will come together to provide feedback and/or ensure that the systems for reporting are matching up.
5/13/2021 11:14:06	Itzel Chavez Gomez	ichavez@adelantemujeres.org	I wasn't aware of the complexities and legalities when it comes to addressing instances of bias/hate, particularly when investigating the alleged student offender.	Restorative practices and healing of the communities that have been harmed.
