From the Editor

Welcome to the Q1 2026 edition of International Elite 100 your front-row seat to the world's most dynamic leaders, boldest innovations, and defining success stories.

This quarter, we again honour resilience and reinvention on a global scale. As spring gives way to summer, we also pause to acknowledge those living through conflict and uncertainty. Reflection matters, but so does forward motion, and forward motion is everywhere. Across industries, businesses are pushing boundaries, launching ambitious ideas, and thriving amid change. The year is just beginning, and the momentum building across the corporate world is unmistakable.

In this edition, we spotlight once again standout achievements from every corner of the globe. Our award-winning businesses span specialist sectors including business and marketing consultancies, care providers, marine services, special event solutions, PR agencies, influencer marketing, dog breeders, and many more. Each one represents excellence in action, driving progress, elevating standards, and shaping the future of their industries.

This is your invitation to explore, reflect, and be inspired by the leaders redefining what success looks like today.

Here's to a powerful year ahead for you, your team, and your business.

Strategic UK Group Ltd

Most Innovative Strategy Consultancy & Business Startup of the Year - UK

A missing insight of strategy today

Strategic UK Group is commitment to disrupt the broad structure of UK consultancy. Conventional consultancy is losing traction. A disruptive movement is required to take a bold move to enable a different methodology and thinking to strategy and management.

The firm's powerful ethos: to disrupt and speak truth to power is fuelling its ambitions to challenge conventional consultancy by transforming change through the firm's enabling services.

Consultancy a Deep Dive

Strategic UK Group uses "disruptor" and "disruptive" constantly to reiterate that strategy and management consultancy is losing traction in the UK market. Where it is sometimes viewed as a "show and tell" and a "presentation of ideas", it should form a structure of military precision that relates to military shock and awe. In practice, this involves a concentrated strategy review using a methodology created by our firm "Operation Deep Dive".

Deep dive is often carried out in companies to deeply understand fundamental operations. A deep dive gives an opportunity to evaluate a business' capability and how efficiently the firm's resources adapt to changing economic and social environments - internally and externally. This is where five forces focus a business to look at rivalry among competing sellers, firm in other industries offering substitute products, and potential new entrants.

Operation Deep Dive is not a new way of thinking in many businesses or companies. Strategic UK Group devised operation deep dive to concentrate operational excellence in a fundamental to strategy success. Deep dives are a valuable tool to transforming resources that are allocated to various activities in various parts of a business operation.

Definition of strategy by the at Strategic UK Group

"Strategy is the execution and development of resource, capabilities, that support the achievement of organisational intentions that achieve superior operational expansion."

Part of operation deep dive is to deconstruct strategy which often sits in the head of the CEO, and often does not translate in clear writing. A critical dive into strategy should look at a firm's capabilities, resource to enable better insight to operational effectiveness, a firm's strategy context, content, and process. As a Chief Executive, they need to take a hands-on approach to setting strategy for their company - not taking a back seat by just saying words that have no meaning to their leadership team and other staff members. This may be the reason why so many businesses are not keeping up with their market competition and may be too reliant on others to set a strategic view.

There must be scope for real meaning; a full rethink of what people understand by strategy.

Occurring questions in strategy to consider:

1. Where is the firm competing?
2. How is it competing?
3. Where are we competing?
4. What is the basis our competitive advantage?

One Strategy Vision - A UK First

Creation of One Strategy Vision is to be a UK first standard to establish a fundamental grounding that is needed in a changing business environment - enabling leaders and teams to have better context of seven concepts encapsulated within One Strategy

Vision: Operational Effectiveness, Competitive Advantage, Five Forces, Core Competence, Game Theory, Diversification Strategy. These concepts have existed for a long time but there is no proper use of these concepts in setting strategy direction and vision by many businesses today.

Companies frequently encounter strategy as a series of isolated tools: a growth model here, a competitive analysis there, an operational review conducted separately. One Strategy Vision seeks to consolidate these domains into a unified standard, ensuring that operational effectiveness aligns with competitive positioning and long-term growth.

Serious Rethink

As the Chief Executive of Strategic UK Group, I constantly see material and social media posts on strategic thinking, strategy that is hyped up with words like objectives, goal, vision, and direction that, at times, is easy to say but has no substance to back how a business should apply these words correctly to make sense to form part of their strategic thinking. The other bug bear that I have is hearing the word "strategy" written or spoken by companies and teams as a 'show and tell'; as an idea with words written down in point form which on many instances has no meaning or bearing to set clear strategic vision to help the company delivery incremental improvements and meaningful performance change.

There must be scope for real meaning; a full rethink of what people understand by strategy. Strategic UK Group take s the bold step in re-educating businesses and people on their thinking and understanding of strategy through a series of papers on the basics of strategy understanding.

As part of a re-educating to understand strategy there is a series of papers available on Strategic UK Group website: <https://strategicukgroup.com/future-context>.

As part of this series of strategy papers, there is a welcome to all sectors of business to take part and collaborate with re-educating our understanding of strategy; plus a welcome to be involved with our Re-Educating Series Papers: The Context – Strategy: thecontext@strategicukgroup.co.uk ■

Presman & Colard International Agency
Franchising Consultancy of the Year - Global

Transforming local concepts into globally-recognised brands

Presman & Colard are global franchise consultants assisting brands to expand and transform their business into internationally recognised concepts.

Presman & Colard International Advisory has emerged as one of the most dynamic forces in global franchise expansion, blending strategic clarity with a distinctly modern understanding of how brands grow across borders. As a multi-award-winning consultancy headquartered in London, the firm has built its reputation on a simple but powerful premise: sustainable international growth requires both vision and rigour. Their work with more than 100 SMEs scaling into multimillion-dollar enterprises across 40+ markets demonstrates just how effective that balance can be.

At the heart of Presman & Colard's approach is a commitment to transforming strong local concepts into globally recognised brands. They specialise in franchising, licensing, and strategic partnership, disciplines that demand not only technical expertise but also cultural fluency. With offices spanning the UK, UAE, USA, Canada, Egypt, and Kuwait, the firm pairs global reach with local insight, ensuring that each expansion strategy is grounded in the realities of the target market.

Presman & Colard stands out as a consultancy that not only adapts to change but helps shape it

Their advisory model is notably end-to-end. From concept evaluation and franchise modelling to recruitment, training, and ongoing performance improvement, Presman & Colard positions itself as a long-term partner rather than a transactional consultant. This continuity is one reason they were named Franchise Consultancy of the Year globally for 2026 a recognition that underscores both their industry leadership and their results-driven ethos.

What sets the firm apart is its ability to operate at the intersection of ambition and practicality. They champion bold expansion, yet their strategies are grounded in operational discipline and market intelligence. Their expertise spans all major consumer sectors, including Food & Beverage, Competitive Socialising, and Retail, giving them a broad and nuanced perspective on how different concepts scale internationally. In sectors like hospitality and food retail, where competition is fierce and consumer expectations evolve rapidly, their integrated, 360-degree solutions support brands across the full franchise lifecycle, including developing the franchise system, franchise marketing, franchise sales, recruitment, and overall franchise management. This holistic approach has helped brands accelerate growth while maintaining identity and quality.

In an era when globalisation is being redefined, Presman & Colard stands out as a consultancy that not only adapts to change but helps shape it. Their work signals a future where international expansion is not a gamble but a guided, strategic evolution, one built on partnership, insight, and a deep respect for what makes each brand unique. ■

Mad About Marketing Consulting

Consultancy Firm of the Year - Singapore

Mad About Marketing Consulting works across brand transformation, customer experience excellence and MarTech + AI optimization to help businesses that struggle not from lack of innovation, but from fragmented implementation.

The marketing landscape has become increasingly complex. Organizations invest in new platforms, launch AI pilots, refresh their brand assets, and revamp customer touchpoints - yet these initiatives often exist in silos, failing to create cohesive business impact.

True marketing transformation requires strategic integration across three critical dimensions: people, processes, and platforms. It's not just about adopting the latest MarTech stack or launching a rebranding campaign. It's about ensuring your brand narrative aligns with customer experience delivery, that your content strategy supports sales enablement, and that your digital optimization efforts connect meaningfully to retention goals.

Through advisory work spanning go-to-market strategy, change management, and customer engagement transformation, we help companies with what separates successful transformations from stalled initiatives.

Successful organizations build through structured iteration: starting with clear value proposition alignment, addressing people enablement alongside platform deployment, and measuring outcomes that matter to business objectives rather than vanity metrics. They understand that brand management is ongoing stewardship. That customer events create memorable experiences when purpose-driven. That social profiling requires channel-specific strategies, not copy-paste content.

The companies thriving today aren't those offering the most services. They're the ones helping clients build sustainable capabilities that integrate marketing as a true business enabler - moving decisively from fragmented initiatives to holistic transformation. ■

Think Strategic UK Ltd
Business Strategy Consultancy of the Year - UK

Think Strategic: A school of thought

At the core of the ethos "A disruptor that makes the impossible possible," Think Strategic UK is redefining how organisations understand and apply strategic thinking, drawing heavily on the discipline and clarity of military methodology.

A strategic synopsis

Strategy is fundamentally about constructing a distinctive path, one that enables a company to outperform competitors and achieve sustained success. True strategy demands meaningful differentiation. At least 95% of a firm's strategic approach should diverge from its rivals, not through minor product tweaks but through bold, unconventional choices. Strategic thinking requires a disciplined focus on action: shaping a vision, clarifying intentions, designing the strategy, and executing it with precision.

Making the impossible possible

Think Strategic UK challenges traditional business assumptions by interrogating four essential questions:

- Which accepted truths are limiting our thinking?
- What becomes possible if constraints are removed?
- Are we defining the problem too narrowly?
- Do CEOs genuinely understand their own strategy?

Military thinking for business clarity

Integrating military principles into business strategy provides a sharper understanding of actions, direction, and market engagement. Many organisations overlook foundational concepts that military thinking makes explicit:

- Competitive Advantage: identifying, creating, and sustaining strategic superiority.
- Firm Growth: understanding how and why organisations expand.
- Core Competence: recognising what a company does exceptionally well.

Command & Control

In military terms, Command refers to the authority to direct and coordinate forces, while Control concerns the responsibility to implement orders across subordinate units. Businesses mirror this structure: CEOs act as commanders, and organisational charts reflect chains of command.

Command & Control offers a dynamic, adaptive framework for executing shared action. It aligns people, resources, and capabilities toward a unified strategic intent. By adopting military-style "laser thinking," firms can better assess capabilities, allocate resources, and adjust their approach, ultimately strengthening their strategic execution and operational coherence. ■

Total Clean

Nationwide Commercial Cleaning Services Company of the Year - UK

Quietly perfect: the unseen standard of excellence

Since 1988, Total Clean has transformed commercial cleaning from a background utility into a critical pillar of corporate reputation.

With a current thriving network of 19 national offices, and plans to expand internationally, we combine local agility with the rigorous standards of a global enterprise. Our philosophy is simple: an immaculate environment is the foundation of a productive business.

Franchise Director,
Ronan McCool

Our authority is backed by a formidable portfolio of credentials, including ISO 9001, 14001, and 45001, alongside CHAS Premium Plus and Constructionline Gold. These are not merely certificates; they underpin a bespoke management system ensuring 100% compliance and quality across every site we maintain. We are also proud to celebrate over 30 years of BICSc Corporate Membership, a milestone reflecting our long-standing commitment to professional excellence and industry-leading standards.

Impact of Our Commitment:

• Environmental Impact: We have achieved a 45% reduction in total carbon emissions and a 30% decrease in energy consumption. This progress is driven by our transition to a 100% renewable energy and the continued electrification of our operational fleet.

- Innovation: Our bespoke MySiteOps platform represents a significant leap in FM technology, integrating AI-driven automation with human expertise to deliver real-time transparency and zero-error service delivery.
- Social Value: Our unique "Structural Giving" model directs 100% of profits from our Colchester and St Albans offices to local hospice care, contributing over £100,000 in the last year alone to St Helena and Isabel hospices.

"Total Clean's great strength is that they are so good they are completely unobtrusive... It's as if it was all done by magic!" Wally Olins CBE, Founder of Wolff Olins.

As we scale through 2026, Total Clean continues to prove that meticulous detail and social responsibility are the ultimate drivers of success. Partnering with us is an investment in creating cleaner, greener, safer spaces for your staff and customers. ■

Gymfluencers

Health & Fitness Influencer Marketing Agency of the Year

Marketing agency excels in health and fitness influencing

For Gymfluencers founder Jonathan Lundy, health and fitness runs deeper than a hobby. His past career threw up challenges many will be familiar with: long hours, early mornings, late nights and unhealthy habits aplenty.

By anyone's books, he would have been considered successful. Lundy enjoyed a cushy salary and the status that accompanies being one of life's high flyers.

But that success almost came at the ultimate price. His weight ballooned to 30 stone at 30 years of age, and doctors warned Lundy's life was at serious risk should he not turn the ship around.

That sobering prognosis led him to take up a gym membership and train late at night, away from prying eyes. Within a year, 15 stone had melted away, and health and fitness became not only his saviour, but his new purpose.

Jonathan Lundy launched Gymfluencers.com in 2021 as a free-to-use resource built to provide genuine value for everyone - from personal trainers looking to fill their diaries to everyday gym-goers needing workout and supplement tips.

"Our mantra is everything for everyone," said Lundy. "Health and fitness quite literally saved my life, so I wanted to give back to the brands, personal trainers, gyms and people who form the backbone of this industry."

It wasn't long before Gymfluencers.com established itself as the UK's most trusted platform for industry news, product reviews, discount codes and expert insight.

Wanting to take the mission a step further, Lundy soon introduced Gymfluencers Agency, now part of the wider Fluencers Group.

With brands across health and fitness paying eye-watering retainers for little-to-no return, Lundy spotted a gap in the market for something better.

Gymfluencers Agency was born as the premier health and fitness influencer marketing agency, with value etched at its core. Value for brands, and the creators catapulting their products onto social feeds across the globe.

Boasting a roster of over 6,000 influencers, 700 online coaches and a combined follower count of 505 million, Gymfluencers Agency became a conduit for connection.

From mass gifting to UGC, full TikTok management and beyond, Gymfluencers Agency has now ticked off thousands of campaigns with the industry's biggest brands.

"Our aim is to always over-deliver," added Lundy. "We have never looked at what other agencies charge; our focus is on providing maximum value for brands in every campaign."

"Whether we're working with a startup or an industry heavyweight, our approach remains the same."

"Everybody gets identical treatment, and that's why so many brands come back time and time again when they need content with impact."

“This award represents both recognition and validation for everything we have been building over the past five years”

The likes of PureGym, Neutonic, Grenade, The Curators and Tribe can be counted among the household names that have entrusted their content needs to Gymfluencers Agency.

Lundy, and indeed Gymfluencers as a whole, have come a long way from those early personal training sessions in the hush of night.

The company has expanded into new territories, including the UAE, where it has played a part in Dubai's emergence as the unofficial fitness capital of the world.

Through the broader Fluencers Group network, founder Jonathan Lundy and his 20-plus team of industry experts now offer best-in-class influencer marketing across sectors such as beauty, pet care, travel and the booming foodie scene.

However, with the origin story firmly rooted in exercise and movement, Lundy says he is delighted that Gymfluencers has been named the Health & Fitness Influencer Marketing Agency of the Year in the 2026 International Elite 100 Awards.

“This award represents both recognition and validation for everything we have been building over the past five years,” Lundy continued.

“I always say this company works in dog years, and that's because every day our output matches what most would do in a week.

“We have come a long way in a relatively short space of time, so it is an incredible feeling for Gymfluencers to be championed as the Health & Fitness Influencer Marketing Agency of the Year.

“Most crucially, it tells us we are achieving exactly what we set out to do: provide value for everyone we work with.”

As health and fitness continues to evolve with new niches, trends and innovations, Gymfluencers is perfectly placed to capture it all - one post, reel and story at a time. ■

Dorcas Media

International PR Agency of the Year - Plymouth - UK

Westward Shipping News provides our ever-growing online audience with all the news and maritime-based stories taking place in Plymouth and across the South West.

Founded by Dorcas Media Limited after the UK's COVID pandemic, local award-winning Westward Shipping News offers a wide range of shipping news stories, images, features, opinion blogs, and video content, and especially our live 24-hour webcam streaming page that will soon include a second camera with more events and images.

Westward Shipping News/Dorcas Media has grown our maritime community and followers on our social media platforms that connect valuable insights into the UK's maritime sector, shipping news and trends, and especially challenges in today's global shipping industry.

Kevin Kelway, Media Director of Dorcas Media/Westward Shipping News, said. "We're high-quality multimedia content, combined with engaging news items, photography, daily shipping news, blogs, features, opinion speakers, and live webcam streaming services."

"Westward Shipping News and our PR boutique agency, Dorcas Media, are based in Plymouth but work with clients across the world. We are a great resource for anyone in the maritime world, from casual followers to seasoned professionals," he said. ■

Nook on Lyne Labradors

Best Pure Bred Labrador Breeder of the Year - UK

Set against the peaceful backdrop of the Cumbrian countryside, Nook on Lyne Labradors, established by Vicky and Mike Rutherford, has built a reputation for thoughtful, responsible breeding and a deep dedication to the Labrador Retriever.

With a clear focus on producing healthy, well-balanced dogs, the couple are committed to preserving the breed's renowned temperament while ensuring every puppy receives the very best start in life. Each litter is carefully planned with health, temperament, and long-term welfare as guiding principles, reflecting a philosophy that prioritises quality over quantity.

Puppies are raised in a nurturing, hands-on environment where early socialisation protocols and enrichment support their development into confident, adaptable companions. Through detailed puppy profiling, each puppy's temperament, energy level, and personality are assessed to help match them with the most suitable homes.

A distinctive element of Nook on Lyne Labradors is their holistic approach to breeding and puppy development. Ongoing continued professional development (CPD) ensures the latest research and best practices in canine breeding, behaviour, and welfare are consistently applied. Nutrition also plays an important role. As a Canine Nutrition Consultant, Vicky formulates fresh food diets designed to support canine health, wellbeing, and longevity, taking into account lifestyle, dietary sensitivities and the individual needs of each dog.

Equally valued is the exceptional aftercare provided to new owners. At Nook on Lyne Labradors, breeding is not simply about producing puppies, it is a lifelong commitment to the health, happiness and future of every dog they bring into the world. ■

Reagan Studios

Wedding & Special Events Videography Studio of the Year - Virginia - USA

The small studio with the big agency feel

In an industry where technology evolves quickly but true artistry remains rare, Reagan Studios has distinguished itself as a creative force, one that doesn't simply document weddings and special events, but transforms them into cinematic heirlooms.

Being named Wedding & Special Events Videography Studio of the Year is more than an accolade; it's a testament to a studio that has redefined what modern storytelling can feel like.

What sets Reagan Studios apart is its instinct for emotional truth. Every frame is intentional, every transition purposeful, every narrative arc shaped with the sensitivity of a filmmaker who understands that these moments, vows whispered, laughter shared, families gathering, are singular. The studio's signature style blends documentary authenticity with polished, film-grade production, creating work that feels both intimate and grand.

From global media giants to national ad agencies and Fortune 500 leaders, industry powerhouses rely on Reagan Studios to deliver the footage that moves their audiences.

Clients consistently praise the team's presence: calm, unobtrusive, and deeply attuned to the rhythm of the day. Reagan Studios captures the spontaneous magic that can't be staged, while also elevating the planned details couples spend months perfecting. Their films are not just records of events; they are immersive experiences that allow people to relive the emotion, energy, and beauty of their celebration long after the day has passed.

Beyond weddings, the studio's special-events portfolio showcases the same commitment to excellence, corporate galas, milestone celebrations, and community gatherings all receive the same cinematic treatment. Reagan Studios approaches every project with a storyteller's eye and a craftsman's discipline.

This award recognizes a studio that has earned its place at the forefront of Virginia's creative landscape. Reagan Studios continues to raise the bar for what event videography can achieve, proving that when artistry meets intention, the result is nothing short of unforgettable. ■

Cape Harbor Marine Service

Boat, Outboard Motor & Trailer Company of the Year
- New Jersey - USA

Cape Harbor Marine Service stands as one of New Jersey's most trusted anchors in the boating community, blending technical mastery with a deep respect for the region's maritime culture.

For more than 25 years, the Rio Grande based service center has built its reputation on expertise, reliability, and a genuine commitment to keeping boaters on the water. As an authorised dealer for Key West Boats, Mercury, Yamaha, Loadrite and Triumph Trailers, the company offers a rare combination of breadth and specialisation, an advantage that has earned it industry recognition, including Mercury's CSI Award for outstanding customer service and International Elites 100's Boat, Outboard Motor & Trailer Company of the Year.

What sets Cape Harbor Marine Service apart is its philosophy: boats aren't just machines, they're memory-makers. This ethos is especially evident in its role as a premier Mercury Repower Center, where the team breathes new life into aging vessels. Whether restoring the performance of a decades-old SeaCraft or outfitting a family boat for safer, smoother seasons ahead, the technicians approach each project with precision and pride. Their work demonstrates how modern propulsion can extend a boat's story, allowing owners to keep exploring the waters they love.

Customers consistently highlight the team's friendliness, fair pricing, and deep knowledge, reinforcing the shop's reputation as a dependable local partner. From winterization and shrink-wrapping to diesel work, electronics, and full engine service, Cape Harbor Marine Service offers comprehensive care that reflects decades of hands-on experience. ■

Design Studio

Caribbean Luxury Interior Design Studio of the Year - Cayman Islands

Designing for island life

Inside the Caribbean's evolving interiors landscape

The Caribbean has long been celebrated for its turquoise horizons and easy, sun-drenched rhythm, but behind the scenes, a quiet design revolution has been reshaping how people live, gather, and experience space across the region. At the centre of this shift is Design Studio Interiors, a firm whose three decades of work across multiple islands has given it a rare vantage point on what it truly means to design for coastal living.

The rise of a distinctly Caribbean design language

Island interiors have matured far beyond the clichés of wicker chairs and seashell palettes. Today's homeowners and developers are seeking spaces that feel globally informed yet deeply rooted in place. That balance between sophistication and ease, between international influence and local craft is where Design Studio Interiors has built its reputation.

Their designers speak often about the "island context": the way light behaves differently near the water, the way humidity shapes material choices, the way indoor and outdoor living must blend seamlessly. These aren't aesthetic preferences; they're lived realities that shape every decision, from flooring to fabrics to the placement of a single chair.

Global reach, local soul

One of the firm's defining strengths is its dual network. International suppliers bring access to refined furniture, innovative lighting, and textiles that might otherwise be out of reach in small island markets. Yet the heart of many projects lies with local artisans woodworkers, metalworkers, upholsterers whose craft adds texture and authenticity.

This collaboration creates interiors that feel both worldly and unmistakably Caribbean. A hand-woven pendant might hang above an Italian dining table; a custom millwork piece might sit beside a sculptural European lounge chair. The mix is intentional, layered, and quietly luxurious.

A seamless, turnkey experience

As demand for high-end residential and hospitality spaces grows, so does the need for full-service design. Design Studio Interiors offers a turnkey model—concept development, project management, procurement, and white-glove installation—ensuring that even complex builds unfold with clarity and care. Their showrooms in Turks & Caicos and the Cayman Islands extend this experience, offering a curated selection of modern furniture, accessories, and fabrics that help clients imagine what their own spaces could become.

A region in transformation

The Caribbean's design story is still being written, shaped by new architecture, global migration, and a renewed appreciation for local craftsmanship. Firms like Design

Studio Interiors are helping define what comes next: interiors that honour the islands' natural beauty while embracing the sophistication of a global design world. ■
