CHARLOTTE CHAMPIONS FOR LIFE

Weekly Newsletter

"Building Champions For Life!"

WHO IS CHARLOTTE CHAMPIONS

We are a partnership with parents, schools, faith-based institutions, and community agencies to provide an extraordinary enrichment experience for students through our Academic Leadership, Extended Day and Summer Enrichment Programs.

CHILD CHAMPION

Pictured below is child champion Dionne. Dionne has answered 502 questions on IXL this past week. She is very outgoing and has a bright personality. She enjoys having conversations with her peers and riddles. Furthermore, She has a very inquisitive mind that makes for great questions.

TESTIMONIALS

IXL is a learning based program that helps our scholars with reading and math instruction. In the last 30 days together the students have answered 4,882 questions, mastered 81 skills, and are proficient in 106 skills. Overall the scholars made progress in 144 skills. As of June 25th, some of the awards the students accomplished in IXL include spending 10 hours practicing language arts skills, achieved excellence in 10 kindergarten math skills, and achieved excellence in 5 third grade language arts skills.

WHAT ARE WE LEARNING?

This past week was filled with a lot of fun and engaging activities. Scholars made homemade butter with whipping cream, they made bread, and gummy bears as well. Students also painted rocks.

In language arts, student's read The Indian in the Cupboard by Lynne Reid Banks as a group . They practiced their sight words playing red light, green light, and out of the 100 sight words, they have already learned 50 of them. In addition, one of the scholars read Just Like Me by Vanessa Brantley-Newton which is a poetry inspired book about girls of all kind.

Mathematics was filled with many great topics. In math student's worked on word problems, multiplication, measurements, finding the missing number, and fractions.

Lastly, as a fun Friday trip students went to the Nascar Hall of Fame. They got to engage in a multitude of interactive experiences and got to experience racing simulations as well.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION, PLEASE READ

It has come to our attention that scholars of the camp have not been upholding the rules of the camp. Scholars, remember the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you". Also remember:

- Respect others
- Listen to our classmates and teachers
- Be quiet when others are speaking
- Be proud of your work
- Follow directions

In addition, students tablets/ipad's are for educational purposes only. Failure to use properly will result in the tablet/ipad being taken away.

Parents, please ensure that your child is using their tablet for educational purposes and upholding the quality character traits we promote at the camp.
