CHARLOTTE CHAMPIONS FOR LIFE

Weekly Newsletter

"Building Champions For Life!"

WHO IS CHARLOTTE CHAMPIONS

We are a partnership with parents, schools, faith-based institutions, and community agencies to provide an extraordinary enrichment experience for students through our Academic Leadership, Extended Day and Summer Enrichment Programs.

CHILD CHAMPION

Pictured below is child champion Kimariah. Kimariah has answered 514 questions on IXL this week. She loves to play kickball, color, and watch movies. Furthermore, she enjoys playing Around The World, a sight word game that teaches students their sight words.

TESTIMONIALS

IXL is a learning based program that helps our scholars with reading and math instruction. In the last 30 days together the students have answered 17,995 questions, mastered 290 skills, and are proficient in 346 skills. Overall the scholars made progress in 384 skills. As of July 9th, some of the awards the students accomplished in IXL include answering 10,000 questions in math, achieved excellence in 50 skills, and spent 100 hours on IXL.

MUST HAVES FOR FRIDAYS

This week students will be taking a field trip to the Harvey Gantt Center. Students can bring a camera to take pictures only in certain areas. Signs are posted where pictures are not allowed.

SPECIAL GUEST

This week we are highlighting Mr. Jamall Kinard. Mr. Kinard is the executive director of the Lakeview Neighborhood Association where the camp is located. As the executive director of the Lakewood Neighborhood Association, Mr. Kinard has four main goals. Prevention of displacement, child and family stability, economic mobility, and civic awareness. He has provided the tablets that students use and work diligently on. He became involved with Charlotte champions to help revitalize the black population. He wants to raise leaders because the children are our future.

WHAT ARE WE LEARNING?

This week was health and wellness week. In addition to math and language arts, students learned about staying healthy not only through nutrition and exercise, but mental health and sleep as well. Some of the activities the students worked on include decorating their own water bottle, making and completing a food diary, and completing a scavenger hunt based on MyPlate.Gov.

Students enjoyed working out and exercising so much that they wanted to make it apart of their daily routine. In the mornings, students enjoy a morning workout to get them woken up and their blood flowing.

This week students are competing in a challenge for IXL. Students who answer 1,000 questions this week will win 10 dollars. In addition, the names of the students who answered 1,000 questions will be put into a drawing. Third place will win an extra 30 dollars. Second place will win an extra 40 dollars, and 1st place will win an extra 50 dollars. One student can potentially walk away with 60 dollars this week from being engaged and focused in their learning.
