Terahertz

Japanese Authority named
Terahertz light wave as
The Light Of Life

1. “Terahertz” is an electromagnetic wave band between microwave and infrared consisting of 30 μm to 3000 μm frequency.
2. The device resonates the same frequency as normal human cells, which is 2 to 17 THz, generating millions of vibrations per second.

The background of the slide is a microscopic view of numerous red blood cells, appearing as reddish-orange spheres with textured surfaces. The cells are densely packed and vary in focus, creating a sense of depth. Overlaid on this background are several text elements and logos. A large, semi-transparent dark grey rectangle in the upper left contains white text. A smaller, semi-transparent dark blue rectangle in the lower right contains white text. The 'iTeraCare' logo, consisting of the word 'iTera' in blue and 'Care' in red with a white heartbeat line, is repeated multiple times across the slide. A small black square with white 'x' marks is located in the top right corner.
