God and Soul

Dr. Ramesh Gupta

There are three primary entities according to the Vedas: God, soul and matter (ईश्वर, जीव, प्रकृति). All 3 are eternal.

द्वा सुपर्णा सयुजा सखाया समानं वृक्षं परिषस्वजाते। तयोरन्यः पिष्पलं स्वाद्वत्यनश्चन्नन्यो अभिचाकशीति॥(ऋग् 1.164.20, मुण्डकोपनिषद् 3.11)

Nature- Sat or true, but not a conscious being

Souls- Sat and chit, true and conscious being, but devoid of Ananda or lasting happiness

God- Sat, Chit and Ananda, true, conscious being and has Ananda or lasting happiness

This is reason why sages have meditated upon God since time immemorial to seek lasting Ananda, free from pain and sufferings.

Soul Qualities:

Sage Vyas in his Vedanta Darshan described 2 qualities of soul. These are knowledge and action. ज्ञोऽत एव । 2.3.18 and कर्ता शास्त्रार्थवत्वात् । 2.3.33
इच्छा-द्वेष-प्रयत्न-सुख-दुःख-ज्ञानानि-आत्मनोलिङ्गमिति। (न्याय दर्शन 1.1.10)

Desires, aversion from pain and ill-will, energy, happiness, sorrow, discrimination प्राण-अपान-निमेष-उन्मेष-जीवन-मनो-गति-इन्द्रियान्तर्विकाराः सुख-दुःख-इच्छा-प्रयत्नश्च-आत्मनोलिङ्गानि। (वैशेषिक दर्शन 3.2.4)

Inhalation, exhalation, closing and opening of eyes, vitality of life, mind, and intellect , thoughts, memorization and decision making, being in motion, senses, different instincts such as hunger, thirst etc. are additional qualities of souls over and above listed in previous shloka.

Souls need a body to function and when that particular body is no good for whatever reason, the soul leaves and that is called death. God on the other hand does not get involved in cycle of birth and death or any acts which result in happiness and unhappiness. He/She just watches and judges the souls.

The relationship between an individual soul and God is that of pervaded and all-pervading. That is, God pervades through an individual soul. An individual soul by nature is limited in knowledge, is at a particular location (as opposed to being omnipresent) and is subtle. And, God is subtler than the subtlest, infinite, all-knowing and all-pervading. As iron is gross and electricity is subtler than iron and therefore, electricity pervades through the iron, both being co-existent. Similarly, God pervades through an individual soul.

Though God pervades through an individual soul, He doesn't become the performer of the soul's karma and nor does He go through the rewards of those karma. The ether-like space within a furnace doesn't burn though it exists within a heated furnace. Likewise, God is not the performer or enjoyer of the karma undertaken by a soul because God is not in that sort of stratum. A soul is inflicted with the rewards of karma because it executes them and they could fall in the categories of Dharma and a-Dharma, the latter being opposite of Dharma. This is not possible with God.

God's functions are to create, support and dissolve the creation and such other operations. Soul takes care of one body and leaves that body and goes to next one when that body is not good any more. God on the other hand creates, sustains, dissolves and recreates this entire universe without having a body. Soul obtains the rewards in terms of joys and pains for its karma that may be in accordance with Dharma or contrary to it. Kathopanishad (1.3.4) states that a soul in conjunction with its mind and sense organs obtains the rewards for its karma while God is merely a witness to all these events (Rig-Ved 1.164.20 and Shvetashvatara Upanishad 6.11).

Although, everything is within Brahm and the Soul acquires the knowledge of Brahm and during the salvation, it is even in close company with Brahm. This makes the soul a companion of God, but it does not make them one. Also, there are instances when one says that. "He and I are one". Here, the meaning is that they are two different persons though they are together with one view. In the same manner, a soul in the higher state of Yoga practice called communion (Samadhi), may say that, "Brahm and I are one" that is, the soul and Brahm are in unison. That soul who has its attributes, functions and nature in harmony with those of God can only indicate being in such unison.

Some Important Questions and statements:

1. Are souls part of God/Can God be broken in to pieces to make souls?-----No
2. Can God create or destroy souls?-----No
3. What is death?----Departure of soul from body
4. Which is more subtle? God or Soul?—God, since he/she pervades in all that exists including souls.
5. Can souls experience God?---- God and Souls are both nonphysical. Through deep meditation can they be companions, giving the feeling with an expression, “I am one with God”. This does not make the Soul,God.
6. First, the soul enters the body, then it is transferred to the womb of the mother and it creates body from materials taken from nature (aitraya Upanishad). Body then gets bigger and bigger, but the soul stays in the body.
7. God doesn't become the performer of the soul's karma and nor does he go through the rewards of those karma, which can be good or bad, leading to happiness or unhappiness.

THE TEN PRINCIPLES OF THE ARYA SAMAJ

1. God, His Characteristics: The Primordial Root - the Eternal Unseen Sustainer - of all true knowledge and of objects made known by true knowledge - any of all these - is the-Supreme God.
2. His Attributes and Worship: God is Personification of Existence, Intelligence and Bliss. He is Eternal, Formless, Almighty, Just, Benevolent, Unborn, Endless and Infinite, Unchangeable, Incomparable, Support of All, Lord of All, All-pervading, Omniscient and Controller of all from within, Fearless, Holy and Creator of the Universe. To Him alone is worship due.
3. His word, the Vedas: The Vedas are the books of true knowledge. It is the paramount duty of every Arya to learn and teach the Vedas.
4. Truth: We should be ever ready to embrace truth and to forsake untruth.
5. Righteousness: All acts should be done in accordance with Dharma after deliberating what is right and wrong.
6. Benevolence: The prime object of the Arya Samaj is to do good to the world, that is, to promote physical, spiritual and social good of every sentient being.
7. Love and Justice: Our conduct towards all should be guided by love, righteousness and justice.
8. Nescience and Science: We should dispel "avidya" - nescience, and promote "vidya" - science, spiritual and physical.
9. Individualism and Altruism: No one should be content with promoting his good only; on the contrary, he should look for his good in promoting the good of all.
10. Subordination and Liberty: All men should subordinate themselves to the laws of society calculated to promote the well-being of all; they should be free in regard to the laws promoting individual wellbeing
