How the $$$$$ works

In this example we will assume the group sells 120 tickets (teams of 2)
(One ticket covers both bowlers) and they sell 20 lane signs and run 50/50 and silent auctions.

40 lanes would be used (3 couples per lane) = 120 teams of two bowlers.

Ticket Sales:

Your group sells the tickets for $45 per couple
Your profit for each ticket sold is $25.
 $120 \times $25 = $3,000.00$

Lane Sign Sales:

Your group sells 20 lane signs at $100 each
(cost to make sign $20) Profit is $80 per sign.
 $20 \times $80 = $1,600.00$

50 /50 Raffle:

50 /50 Raffle With 240 people you can estimate that each bowler will spend at least $5 on 50/50 tickets.
 $240 \times $5 = $1,200.00$ (half to the winner)
Half is your profit = $600.00

Silent Auction:

Silent Auction Revenue: Groups solicites prizes / baskets.
Group then runs a silent auction for these items.
Depending on the quality of the prizes most groups will raise between $500.00 to $2,000.00 on silent auction items.

Recap:

Ticket Sales Profit - $3,000.00
Lane Sign Sales Profit - $1,600.00
50/50 Raffle Profit - $600.00
Silent Auction Items - $1,000.00 on average

In this example the group would have raise $6,200.00 in profits.

A moonlight bowl is a great way to raise money for your group, organization, church, charity, etc. We charge you $20 per couple (or team of two bowlers) You charge $40 per couple or more. Your groups profit is $20 or more per ticket sold.

More ways to make money during your moonlight bowl is to run raffles, silent auctions and sell lane signs. Your group keeps 100% of this revenue.

Moonlight Bowls include 2 hours of unlimited bowling time. Most couples will be able to bowl 3 to 4 games in that time.
