

2022 Sesquicentennial (150 years) Farm Application

The Mission of the Sesquicentennial Farm Program

Tradition and heritage are a part of what makes agriculture an attractive way of life for Kansas residents. The history of these farms and ranches is rich, with many stories to tell. In that spirit, Kansas Farm Bureau, the state's leading agriculture advocacy organization, is launching the 2022 program to honor those family farms that have been passed down through family heritage for more than 150 years.

Eligibility

1. Applicant must be a Farm Bureau member in Kansas.
2. Ownership within the same family for 150 or more years by December 31, 2022 with at least 80 acres of the original Kansas farmland.
3. Present owner must be related to original owner.
4. Application MUST be submitted to local county Farm Bureau office by deadline date, May 15, 2022.
