Sky is the Limit Fundraising Campaign

Our resident pilot, Russ Beaurivage, has been flying in Haiti since 2013. His Cessna 182 is now based out of the recently developed airstrip in Bombardopolis, a small village located in Northwest Haiti, where he has provided many flights on behalf of HFAM over the past few years, flying patients, personnel and supplies all over Haiti.

The terrible roads in remote areas of Haiti are treacherous at the best of times and unpassable during the rainy season. Add in ongoing political unrest and instability which create safety issues for road travel, and aviation becomes a life-giving tool in high demand.

As the demand has begun to outpace the capacity of Russ' Cessna 182, HFAM has stepped out in faith and purchased a larger, better-equipped Cessna 207. This aircraft seats up to seven passengers, has plenty of cargo doors and room, is properly equipped to handle a stretcher, and performs almost as well as the smaller 182 both in regards to its operating costs and its ability to get in and out of short airstrips.

One of HFAM's goals in obtaining our own Cessna 207 is that we don't need to fully rely on the availability of Russ and his Cessna 182. We can also bring other qualified pilots into Haiti to provide reliable service to the hospital and other missionaries when Russ and his aircraft are not available.

This is an exciting yet daunting undertaking for our little organization! The total cost of purchasing and importing the 207 and preparing it for its work in Haiti (including avionics upgrades) is $420,000, which is why we launched our Sky is the Limit fundraising campaign.
