BackTalk Newsletter
November 2026

"November is a quiet bridge between autumn and winter, offering a natural pause for stillness, gratitude, and a deep breath before the end of the year."

Thank You for a Great Seminar!

We want to extend a big thank you to everyone who joined us for the seminar! It was a wonderful success, and we appreciate the time you took to attend, participate, ask questions, and share your enthusiasm. You helped make the event both enjoyable and valuable!

We always love hearing your feedback and wanted to share a few of the comments we received:

"Liked the multiple speakers and topics!"
"Thanks for the Seminars!"
"Really value meeting local experts in other fields that helps expand my referral network."
"Thanks for always putting on great seminars! They are my favorite!!"
"We need more Tracy!"

We appreciate your suggestions, too! One idea shared was:

"Perhaps a way to text in questions during the presentations that could be answered at the end."

Your feedback helps us make each seminar better, and we're grateful you take the time to let us know what you enjoy and what we can improve.

We're already looking ahead to our next seminar, with fresh topics, a great mix of speakers, and more opportunities to learn and connect.

As we head into November, a few friendly reminders:

- Take extra care on those slick fall roads.
- Watch out for distracted drivers—and keep an eye out for those Thanksgiving turkeys!
- Most importantly, slow down, enjoy the season, and remember to be thankful for the people and blessings in your life.

From all of us at Larson Law
Have a happy, safe, and gratitude-filled November!

Small Details Can Make a Big Difference!

When treating patients injured in an automobile accident, thorough documentation is about more than recording pain levels. Tracking changes in range of motion, functional limitations, neurological findings, and the patient's response to treatment can help tell the full story of their recovery.

Be sure to document how the injury affects everyday activities, such as driving, sleeping, working, lifting, and completing household tasks. Consistent progress notes that reflect the patient's actual condition help demonstrate medical necessity, guide treatment decisions, and provide a clearer picture of the patient's recovery.

At Larson Law, we know that the details matter. Thank you for the important role you play in helping injured patients recover!

Symptom Checklists 2

By Jeffrey A. States

Personal Injury Training Institute

In the October BackTalk Newsletter, I wrote an article about never using symptom check lists in your practice. This is especially true on PI cases. Have you changed this in your practice yet. Please make to change ASAP. Detailed symptom reviews occur on the first visit, prior to re-examination or when there is a significant change in the patient's condition. Your patients and their lawyers will appreciate it. Case value may increase and you can better document patient progress. For more details see Module 2 in PI ONLINE Trainings.

Also in that article, I mentioned the patient's symptoms. The record documented "foot pain & motor vehicle collision, low back pain, "low back / side soreness radiation down right leg, difficulty walking & lifting, intermittent numbness resolved after sleep".

Did you notice which foot had pains? The records did not state which foot. OOPs! Was it both feet? It's very important to list which extremity, right or left or both (bilateral). Additionally, what is the cause of "foot pain"? The patient also has "low back / side soreness radiation down right leg". Is it right foot pain? Is that related to the radicular pains? Is it sciatica? The pain goes down the right leg, how far? To the right foot? We know the further down the leg sciatic goes the more serious the condition and likely more care.

Is this condition related to the crash? Do motor vehicle collision (MVC) cause foot pains. YES they do. Causation statements are critical in personal injury (PI) cases.

These are questions great physicians must check out. Under further records review the foot pain was traumatically induced but unrelated to the MVC. This was a pre-existing condition already being treated prior to the crash in question. The MVC did NOT make the foot conditions worse.

Great doctors will note the foot pain, or other conditions of the patient. Will also state, it is not related to the MVC and is being cared for by another facility (state the providers name). The automobile insurance company PIP/MedPay is NOT responsible for treatment related to this foot condition. Do NOT bill this foot condition to PIP or MedPay or bodily injury cases.

I hope this helps you, for more information about MVC occupant injuries and certification see https://personalinjurytraininginstitute.com.

Thank You for Your Trust –Referrals Are Appreciated!

We are truly grateful for the trust you place in us to handle your personal injury cases. Your referrals are the highest compliment we can receive, and they help us continue doing what we do best: supporting patients through challenging times.

If you know someone who has been in an accident and could benefit from experienced legal guidance, we would be honored to assist them in getting the care and compensation they deserve.

You can rest assured that anyone you refer will receive the same dedication, respect, and attention to detail that we provide to every client.

Thank you for your confidence in us—
we truly value your partnership.
