Service Dog Work Therapy Dog Work Facility Dog Agility Family Pet Companion For Myself Other (Please explain below)

Preferred Personality: Assertive Confident Reserved Unsure, Help me find a good fit

Will this dog be kept inside or outside? My dogs are inside dogs My dogs are outside dogs My dogs have access to inside and outside of the home

My lifestyle is best described as: Very Active (hiking, bike riding, several dogs, camping, beach going, etc) Mildly Active (parks, picnics, ball throwing, long walks)

Retired but mildly active Rarely active (Note: These dogs require a great deal of exercise. Before committing to purchase, please research what is required to own one. A German Shepherd who is bored and lacks mental stimulation will become destructive. Please do not consider this dog if you cannot provide the appropriate exercise for him/her.)

Is anyone in your household allergic to pet dander/dog hair, etc? Yes No

How many hours a day will your dog be left home alone: 8 hours plus 5-8 Hours 2-5 Hours Less than two hours (errands and such)

Do you work? Yes No German Shepherds and dogs in general can be costly. Can you provide for this puppy/dog for its entire lifespan? Yes No Unsure

Can you afford this dog? The purchase price is the least of your worries. In general, we spend between $1,000-$3,000 for maintenance for one dog, which includes supplements and extra immunizations such as Canine Influenza. This cost does not include any incidentals, food, accidents or illnesses.

I can financially provide for the dog's lifetime I was not aware maintenance was this costly

What Interests you about the breed German Shepherd?

Do you intend to teach your new puppy how to "crate"? Yes No, I don't believe in crating (Please be advised that crating is good for your new puppy. It provides a sense of security and eventually will be his/her go to place when told. Our current dogs crate on command and we do not close the door anymore. It's a natural "room" for them comparable to our bedroom.)

Please tell me any other information that may be pertinent to your purchasing our puppies.
