Limited Hat Kits Now Available!

Mesa Verde

COLORADO

A visit to the cliff dwellings carved high into the protected sandstone alcoves of these canyon walls in Colorado is like stepping back in time. The Ancestral Pueblo people who occupied these cliffside communities left behind pottery, tools, and other evidence of skilled workers of every kind. This beanie gets its inspiration not from the cliff dwellings, but from the elaborately decorated black-on-white pottery left behind by the people who once lived there.

This is a great grab-n-go project to get you going for fall! We've already weighed and wound each color that you'll need, so you won't be left with any yarn balls rolling around that you don't have a use for. We currently have four hat kits available: Crater Lake, Mesa Verde, Acadia, and Everglades!

Cost: $36/each (needles and patterns/books sold separately).
