A diagram showing a vertical mast with a horizontal boom extending from it. A cable is attached to the end of the boom and runs diagonally upwards and to the right, where it is connected to a point on a structure that appears to be a ship's hull or a platform. The cable is shown in a perspective view, suggesting it is part of a larger system.
