Becoming a homeowner and all that is related to owning, selling, renting is a real estate investment journey not a destination.

It's truly a lifelong process

You may want and need support, guidance, and resources, through the process of buying, maybe when you're ready to invest in upgrades, when you are selling (maybe to expand or downsize), to purchase a new rental property or sell one, when you're relocating.

Melissa Freedman and the Define home team provide a lifetime of ongoing support to our clients.

We have ongoing relationships with clients who have worked with us 20 years ago from NOVA, and clients who have bought or sold more recently who still reach out for guidance or support.

We are not here with you until settlement. We are with you always.
