SUMMARY: Most native and exotic animals need a Chapter 10 permit for import and possession except for domestic species, domesticated list species, crustaceans, mollusks, herp, and certain fish that are not threatened or endangered. Nongame birds, US endangered and threatened species, and aquatic invasive species are banned. Most other invertebrates other than mollusks and crustaceans are exempt from the Chapter 10 permit. Most other reptiles and amphibians are legal to take in unlimited numbers for personal use (pets).

NOTE: Other captive-reared species not specifically listed above considered normal pet store animals may be allowed to be imported or possessed without a permit if approved by the Department.

* SPECIES LIST

Atlas of Birds, Mammals, Amphibians, and Reptiles in Wyoming

DISCLAIMERS:

* The laws listed above lists whether a species to legal to possess and import according to state laws and then any federally protected species with stricter regulations than the state. Be sure to review all federal laws as some ban certain species as pets or make it legal to possess a species but bans their interstate import in commerce or purchasing across state lines (you can still move with your animals across state lines).

*For states that do allow keeping wild-caught native species as pets, it is usually limited to game birds, game animals, furbearers, reptiles, amphibians and invertebrates. Such taking usually requires some type of hunting or fishing license in addition to any required captive wildlife permits. All laws must be followed, including daily bag and possession limits, seasons, size limits and location specific regulations.

* These guides are usually based on state fish & game laws, state agriculture and health import laws, and marine resource laws except when otherwise noted. Check laws for all requirements. Additional state laws may apply, including general animal control and care, livestock, and other health laws.
