

Job Title

Bloggers

Reports To

Works together with the Leadership Team of S.O.S. and reports to S.O.S. founder.

Job Overview

SOS bloggers will write and publish online content that will meet the mission of S.O.S. for both the website and other media platforms. The overall purpose is to provoke thought on issues affecting Young Women in society. In addition we want to prompt new perspective to old subjects through the eyes of young women/women.

Responsibilities and Duties

Write editorials or Journal Entries

Craft weekly/monthly content

Generate new ideas around topics

Topic ideas: Mental Health, Beauty, Food, Science, History, Poetry, Reviews and how this relates to young women.

Explore new ideas and find connections with current affairs

Staying anonymous is an option

Qualifications

- Strong writing skills
- Willingness to be honest with your audience
- Knowledge about technology such as email etc.
- Ability to communicate effectively with SOS leadership team
- Strong time management skills and ability to meet target timelines
- Awareness of positive messaging
- Familiar with SOS mission
- Generally up-to-date on current issues
- Team spirit

Compensation

She of Strength relies on volunteers because we are not an income earning organization therefore we have an inability to provide financial compensation. You will receive acknowledgement on our website which reaches an ever expanding audience. You will also receive real world experience to develop your CV and possibly discover your passion.

Overall Goal

She of Strength's goal is to make all young women conscious of their value, ability, knowledge, power, and perspective, while motivating all women to support them. We accomplish this by meeting two audiences. For Young women we give them information and show them that there are others out there and they are not alone. For other women we give them ideas and advise them on how to connect with Young Women. We also want to remind everyone how important it is that woman support each other.

Other

We welcome all ages and new ideas.