

Why Are We Here?

Think about the reason we exist.
What were we made for? What are we supposed to do?

We often say that God has a plan
and we need to learn what He wants us to do.

But I say, God lets us decide. We get to determine our reason and learn how to succeed in this life. God has given us complete freedom.

*You...were called to be free.
But do not use your freedom to indulge the flesh;
rather, serve one another humbly in love. (Gal. 5:13)*

Adam and Eve were supposed to show the earth God's love, but they failed, and God finally sent His only Son to do the job.

Moses could have led God's people out of Egypt when he was much younger, but he made a serious mistake and had to run for his life.

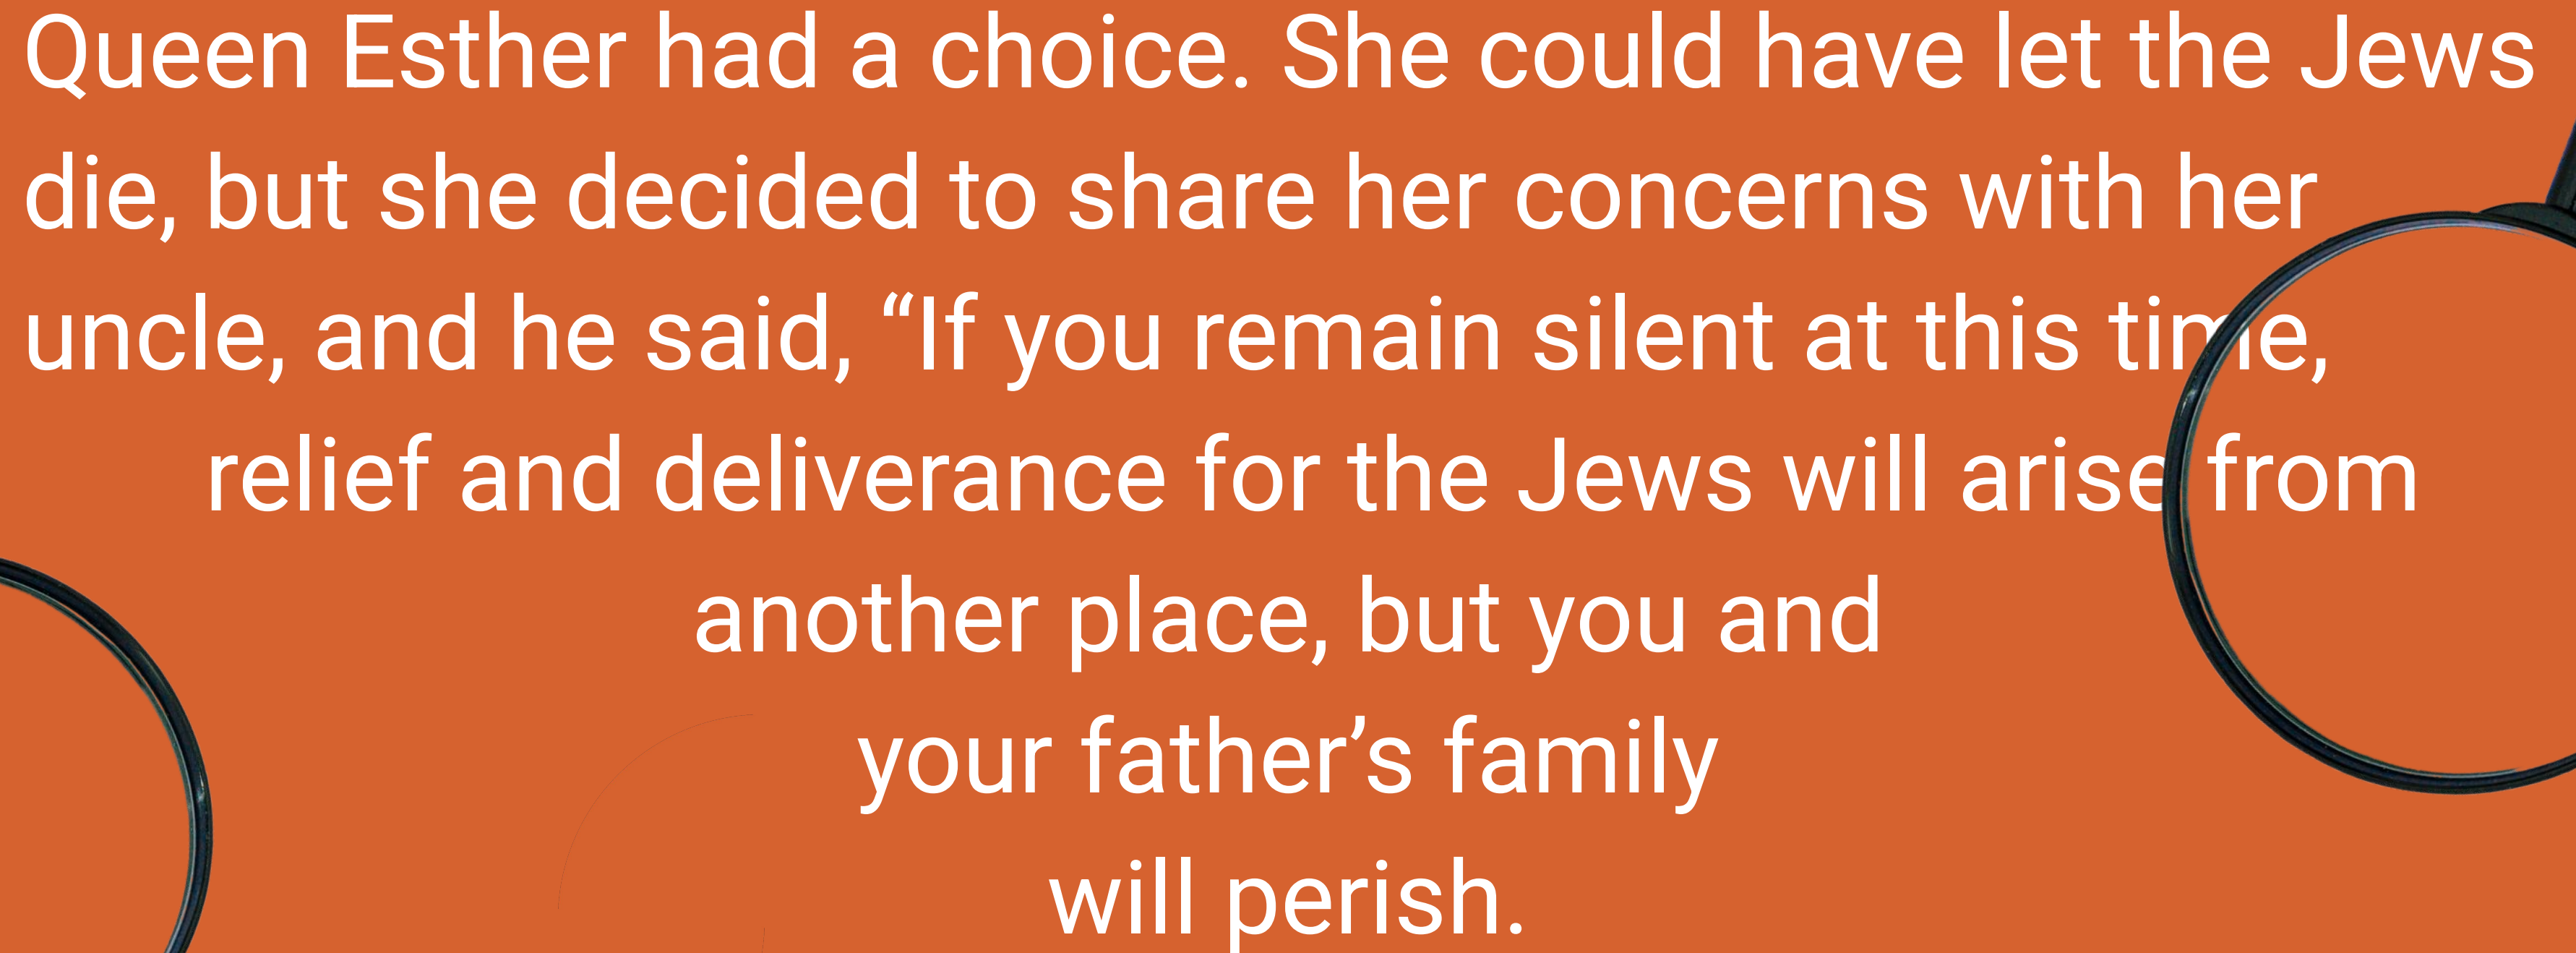

If you need help deciding what to do, ask the Holy Spirit to guide you. But in the long run, it is your life and your decision.

God has given us all the freedom to choose. Moses eventually made the right decision; the rest is history.

Although he couldn't enter the Promised Land due to another poor choice. Jesus brought him back to see the Messiah in the Promised Land.

We often make mistakes or decisions that don't work out, but our heavenly Father is always willing to take us back and give us the freedom to choose.

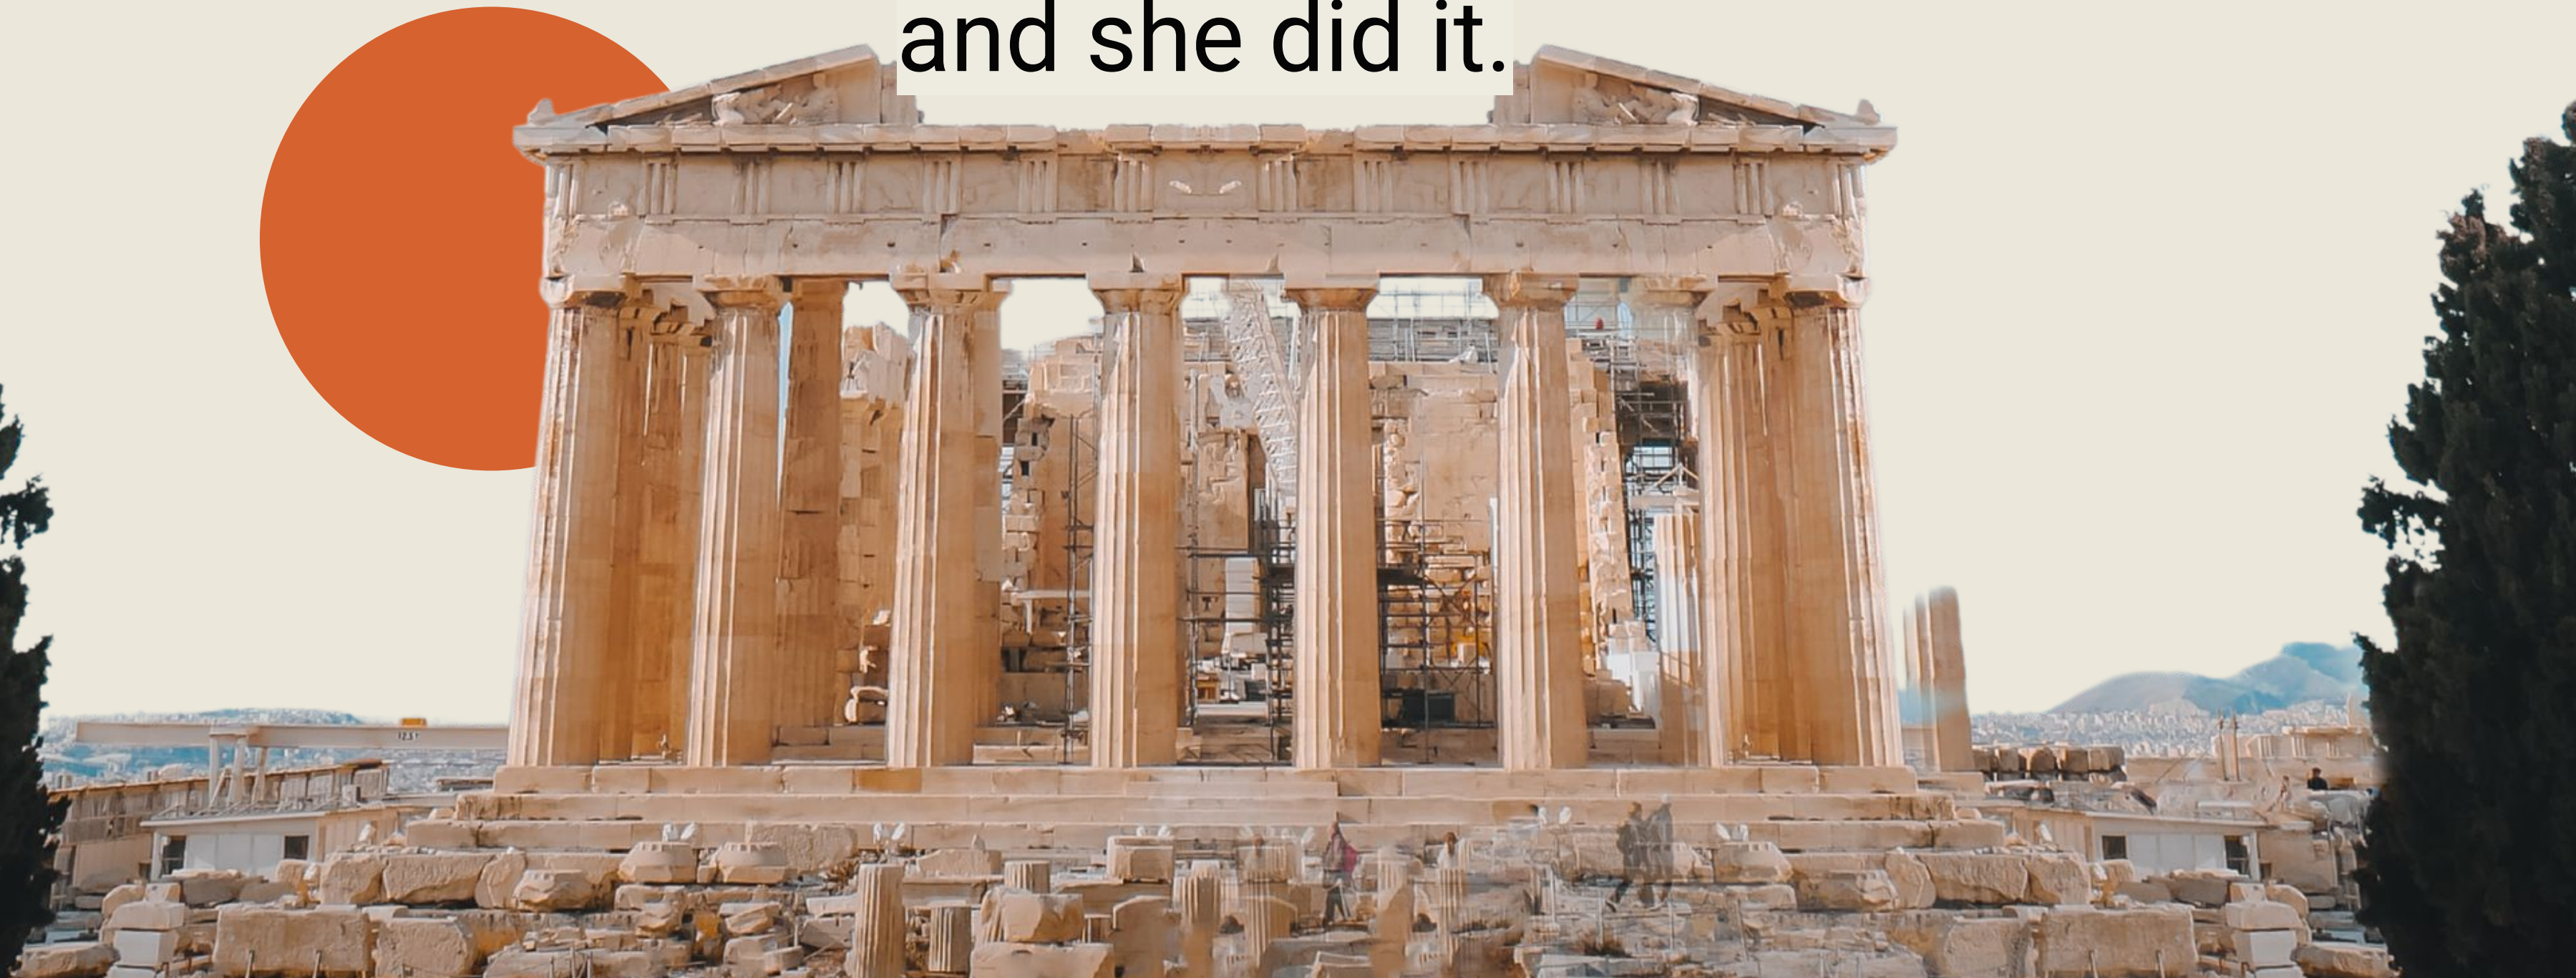

Make your choice, then do it!

Two magnifying glasses are positioned on the left and right sides of the image, their lenses framing the central text. The handles of the magnifying glasses extend towards the bottom corners.

Queen Esther had a choice. She could have let the Jews die, but she decided to share her concerns with her uncle, and he said, “If you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father’s family will perish.

And who knows but that you have come to your royal position for such a time as this?”

If she hadn't chosen the best,
God would have still saved her people,
but Esther knew this was the job she was to do,
and she did it.

→
We feel that God has chosen us to bring Christian education to the students who want it but find it difficult.

If we remain silent at this time, relief for these kids will arise from another place, but we may perish. And who knows that we may have come to this position for such a time as this?”
←

As we decide to assist students, know that this is a decision God has let us make. It is not forced upon us; even if it looks like we are failing, He still loves us, and His plan will not fail.

So, let us do our best to bring God's program to as many students as possible!

Let's Pray

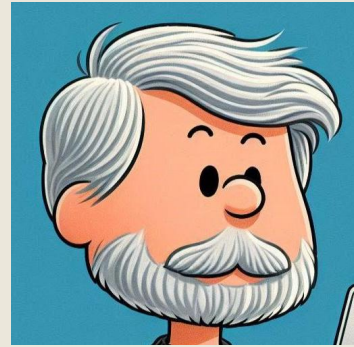

Dear Heavenly Father,

We come before You today with hearts burdened by the worries of this world. Help us to remember that although You are in control and You have a perfect plan for our lives, it is our decision,.

Teach us to trust in Your provision and to seek first Your kingdom, knowing that all other things will be given to us as well. Fill us with Your peace, which surpasses all understanding, and guide us to rest in Your ways.

In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

production.

The preceding was a VMJ production for Homeschool Companion.

© VMJ September 23, 2024