Seventh-day Adventist Education

HomeSchool Companion

True education means more than pursuing a certain course of study. It has to do with the whole person and with the whole period of existence possible to human beings. It is the harmonious development of the physical, mental, and spiritual powers.

We Believe:

- Every student is of immeasurable value.
- Education and redemption are one.
- We don't replace homeschooling.
- We provide support in the form of instruction
- We are an additiEvery student's first and most important school is
- onal tool for creating curiosity
- And we help motivate

Our Goal:

Homeschool Companion strives to support the 5 million families that homeschool their children each year. We provide programming on cutting-edge educational strategies, techniques, and inspirational themes. Homeschool Companion Virtual High School is an educational program to assist you and your teenager by providing virtual face-to-face instruction through Google Classroom. Homeschool Companion also broadcasts a daily radio show dedicated to providing information to families. The show currently airs every day, Monday through Friday, at 11:05 a.m. EST. Or you can listen to the podcast on your favorite outlet.

It is the nicest work ever assumed by men and women to deal with youthful minds. The greatest care should be taken in the education of youth to so vary the manner of instruction as to call forth the high and noble powers of the mind. Parents and schoolteachers are certainly disqualified to properly educate children if they have not first learned the lessons of self-control, patience, forbearance, gentleness, and love.

The background is a vibrant red with various decorative elements. In the top left, there are two macarons: one blue with pink filling and one orange with white filling. In the top right, there are two yellow geometric shapes resembling folded paper or crystals. In the bottom right, there is a stack of three pink macarons with white filling. Scattered throughout the background are small circles in white, blue, and black. The main text is centered in a black, italicized serif font.

In the highest sense the work of education and the work of redemption are one, for in education, as in redemption, 'other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.'

A Love of Learning!

"The true teacher is not satisfied with second-rate work."

Stand Firm!

"It should be the object of every parent to secure to his children a well-balanced, symmetrical character. This is a work of no small magnitude and importance. It requires earnest thought and prayer, no less than patient, persevering effort."

Review and Herald, September 8, 15, 1904.

Homeschool Companion offers Seventh-day Adventist parents a transformative educational experience that aligns harmoniously with the principles espoused by Ellen G. White in "Education."
