Flyfishing

President's Message by Stephen Johnson (the top dog in camp)

April, 2009

“Fine fly rods can be made from different materials, but bamboo is the benchmark against which all the rest are compared”. George Black, Splitting Cane

That's it...I've exhausted my brain power for this month. Just kidding but I'm really tired. I just had lunch with a really old and close friend, haven't seen him for ages (thank you Lord) as at this age of my life I couldn't handle to many days a field with Gary.

First the guy is like the Energizer Bunny, non-stop from before sunup to hours after, and then when he does go to bed...he snores, not just the average “old guy” snorting and wheezing...this Son of Satan snore will raise the dead. Mach speed for hours and then keeps you awake all night with his noise.

Now this takes me to an earlier part of my life ...pre-college...I romanized about being a COWBOY...grew up on a cattle and sheep ranch rode a horse for hours on end, roped and roped everything that would walk...got pretty damn good at it to ...I qualified for the national finals rodeo while still in High School. The cowboy way of life was the simple way...no electronics, no stress, no money problems...hell I could and did, eat beans and hot dogs 5 days a week, just simple and easy.

Now back to Gary, my friend I mentioned earlier...he tried everything known to man, spent thousands of dollars, had at least 2 surgeries to try and rid himself of this snoring problem ... nothing worked and I drifted to fly fishing for my major life's entertainment and he stuck it out with duck hunting. Don't get me wrong I love duck hunting...but couldn't handle sleeping with him at the club and driving back and forth was out of the question. Now let's apply cowboy simplicity to this problem and see if you don't agree, Cowboy's are pretty darn smart.

Biff, Walt, Fred, and Bob were all at an elk camp. No one wanted to room with Bob because he snored so loudly. They decided it wasn't fair to make one of them stay with him the whole time, so they voted to take turns.

The first night Biff slept with Bob and came to breakfast the next morning with his hair a mess and his eyes all bloodshot. They said, “Man, what happened to you?” Biff said, “Bob snored so loudly, I just sat up and watched him all night.”

The next night it was Walt's turn. In the morning, same thing: hair all standing up and eyes all bloodshot. They said, “Man, what happened to you?” Walt said, “Man, that Bob shakes the roof with his snoring. I watched him all night.”

The third night was Fred's turn. Fred was a tanned, older cowboy, a man's man. The next morning he came to breakfast bright-eyed and bushy-tailed. “Good morning!” he said. They couldn't believe it. They said, “Man, what happened?” He said, “Well, we got ready for bed. I went and tucked Bob into bed, patted him on the butt, and kissed him goodnight. Bob sat up and watched me all night.” See the cowboy's way...simple. Hey isn't this supposed to be about fly fishing? Yea but I thought you would...Ah never mind.

Hey check out Katy's quote from another of her fly fishing books. “From my observations I think that most of us spend too much time worrying about our tackle and too little time learning the intimate characteristics of the fish and streams we fish most.” Ray Bergman Trout, New York : Knopf 1938

Now this brings me to my soap box...Ladies and Gentlemen, we have got to take a stand, loud, no LOUDER...EBMUD is going to kill one of our beloved rivers. This proposal of theirs, to build a new damn, is just plain wrong. It's greedy and we all know what greed does for our society...not a damn thing.

Please take a moment to read the following; <http://www.calsport.org/3-24-09.htm> <http://www.calsport.org/3-19-09.htm>

<http://www.calsport.org/3-17-09b.htm> <http://www.calsport.org/3-16-09d.htm> <http://www.calsport.org/3-13-09.htm>

<http://www.foothillconservancy.org/page/?page=68> I'm going to get involved and do whatever I can to stop this. I would like your help. The “intimate characteristics” of Mokelumne River are too important. Got to run....wife is calling. General trout season opens this month, lot's more water to fish. See ya on the river.

Conservation

by Ron Forbes

One of the things I have noticed over the years in dealing with conservation is the self interest of the groups we find ourselves in conflict with. They seem never to be concerned with the issues as they conflict with others, but only are concerned with their special interest. These groups are the water (water districts, etc.) and agricultural interests (growers, corporate interests etc.). In my dealings with these conflicts, it seems the people concerned with the fisheries understand the need for water for the agriculture and water for urban use. The other side is only interested in their viewpoint regardless of the harm it will inflict on the environment and our fisheries.

Case in point, the California Sport Fishing Protection Alliance (CSPA) has sent out an alert action dated 3/18/09. Legislation has been introduced that will eradicate the striped bass in the delta. In this legislation, now pending, Assemblywoman Jean Fuller (R-Bakersfield) has introduced a bill that will kill the Striped bass fishery as we know it. She is acting on behalf of corporate agricultural and irrigation districts in the central San Joaquin Valley.

Her bill is AB1253. Years ago the DFG enacted legislation to stop the commercialization of striper fishing. This saved our sport. However Ms. Fuller's legislation would do the following:

- Prohibit the importing, shipping, transporting or planting of any striped bass within the State of California
- Require DFG to carry out these provisions
- Fine anyone who violates this law up to $10,000.
- It deletes all harvest restrictions. In other words catch all the fish you want regardless of the size or numbers (Commercialization would be back).
- It would delete striped bass from the money for which the Sport Fishing Enhancement Stamp revenues were to be used.

Jean Fuller is the "front woman" for farmers and irrigation districts in the Central Valley. She tries to justify her legislation by claiming that striped bass eat and hurt the Delta smelt which are protected under the Endangered Species Act. However, Dr Peter Moyle of UCD (and others) exposed their "science" as being wrong and not based of the real science available. Fuller and her friends did what is normal for them. They just changed their propaganda. Now they claim that that the stripers eat the salmon and steelhead also protected under the EPA. And once again science has shown them not to be correct. Latest results show that stripers cause little predation neither on either the winter or the spring run salmon nor on the steelhead.

They really don't care about the facts. Science is showing that the most important factor is the decline of our Delta's fish population and among other pelagic species is what we had claimed all along. That, of course is the water exports... nothing more, nothing less. However Ms. Fuller and friends will not address this issue. They prefer blame something else like the stripers rather than their purposed water exports as the cause of the problem they have created.

The bottom line is that Jean Fuller is just another pathetic front for the people who pay her. She doesn't care about any truth in science. She doesn't care about the fact the water districts and farming interest that "influence" her have helped destroy a sport fishing industry that once brought in about $4 billion per year. These people don't give a damn on what they have to destroy in order to get what they want. Even if it is, the entire striped bass fishery. Now through Assembly Woman Jean Fuller they are trying to do it again.

Family Day at the River #2

by Joe Balderston

3-14-09

Inside the building were troughs full of salmon fry waiting to be transferred and steelhead eggs that were not yet hatched.

Thanks for this program need to go out to the Hall family for supplying equipment, Discount Pet store for filters, and the following members for sharing their abundant wisdom and patience: Bill, Charlie, Larry, Jim, Tony, and Walt. Thanks guys!

Two teachers and six DFF volunteers joined around thirty students and their families for Hazelton Elementary's second annual Family Day at the Mokelumne River. The main event of this trip was to release 34 salmon fry which were raised in the classroom. Students took turns with one fish each, giving advice to look for cover and "...stay away from the big guys, they might eat you." Eggs were delivered on January 5th. Students learned all about salmon and steelhead including their life cycle, habitat and threats to their population. (One budding genius put together the expanding Humboldt squid range with the decline in Chinook population.)

Many bugs were collected from the stream and identified including 5 very large cased caddis (size 6 or 8). Damselfly nymphs and large pale olive dragonfly nymphs were also found in the slower, weedy section. Several students took turns in a small inflatable raft paddling with a bucket. Judging from the loud giggling, they didn't seem to mind being up the creek with out a paddle!

The Hatchery raceways were almost empty with the exception of a small batch of steelhead scheduled for release into Lodi Lake sometime later this month.

Dean Watson

March 2, 1969 - February 20, 2009

As many of you know by now, Dean passed away on February 20, 2009. He is survived by his loving wife, Laura, and his precious daughters, Madeline and Emily; parents, Jim and Diana Watson of Stockton and Melinda Belland of Stockton; grandparents, JoAnn and Fred Kaufman of Stockton, Marlene Watson of Lodi, Laverne and Vernon Ghiorzo of Stockton; great-grandmother, Margaret Morgan; his sister and her husband, Wendy and Tony Ott of Lodi; sister and her husband, Shylia and Dustin Hurley; brother, Seth Lord; many nieces, nephews, cousins and in-laws. Dean was preceded in death by his grandfather, Albert Watson.

Dean was born in Stockton and graduated from Lincoln High School. He went on to get his degree in Computer Aided Drafting from ITT Technical Institute. At the time of his passing, Dean was the Chief Cadastral Technician of the Mapping Department for the County of San Joaquin. In his spare time, he was an avid fly fisherman and was Historian of the Delta Fly Fishers. He also loved to cook.

Herman Spalinger

How fortunate I feel to have known Dean through our club. When I was president, I was keeping an eye out for members who might make a good future president to carry on our tradition and Dean was certainly one of them. He had such a positive attitude toward our club and an eagerness to participate in its activities. He eagerly jumped at the opportunity to be Historian as he said he loved history. He spent time with Leo interviewing him regarding the club's beginnings; he served well as club secretary, even though he did it so I could be kicked into the president's chair. He volunteered to gather up the club's shirts and caps, etc, and was planning to set up a way to sell off our inventory and get some new T-shirts with our club's logo on them. He was such a fun-loving person to be around that he was too young to have his life come to an end. My prayers and thoughts go out to his lovely wife and two daughters. Dean will really be missed by me. I wish I could have had more time to spend with him Rest in Peace, Dean.

Cheater Stick's Revenge

Joe Balderston

I met Dean through the club a few years ago and we started fishing together.

From the beginning, he said he was strictly a fly fisherman. We fished for bass and I out fished him mainly because when the fish weren't biting very well I like to use a spinning rod with a rubber worm.

He gave me a hard time and called that my cheaters stick.

Well after a couple trips he was asking where to buy those rubber worms.

One day we launched at Garlic Brothers on Ben Holt for bass in our pontoon boats and the fishing was slow. So Dean pulls out a great big rubber fish with red treble hooks and throws it right into the tules.

He was pulling and tugging trying to get it out of the tules when it came flying back and hit the front end of his boat. His inflatable boat.... Our club has an award for things like this. Dean was such a good fishing buddy I kept it a secret until now. I really miss him.

The cheater stick's revenge.

Marty Kjelson

Memories on Dean:

I remember Dean as a committed DFF Board member that did a great job as club historian bringing our club's past activities up to date for all of us to learn from and enjoy. He was a friendly man that was eager to help in any way and he enriched our club spirit. I was honored to have been his fellow member but regret we did not get to fish more together so I could have got to know him better and more personally.
