New Internet Radio Station Opens Targeting Music for the Millennials

Youngstown, OH, January 22, 2020- 35 year old Kayshia Washington, owner of KayD Entertainment LLC, has opened an internet radio station that will draw the attention of the millennials.

Millennium Internet Radio is the home of your favorite early 2000's Hip Hop, R&B, Pop, and Gospel between the years of 2000-2010.

Millennium Internet Radio was created because no other station has focused on playing early 2000s music. "These songs are 10+ years old now and they are considered throwbacks," says Kayshia. The station will play music from artist like Lil Jon and The Eastside Boys, Mary J. Blige, N'Sync, Mary Mary, and many more. "I can't wait for my listeners to reminisce on these throwbacks that we either graduated to, partied to, or even met that special someone to," says Kayshia. You can follow Millennium Internet Radio on Facebook, and Instagram. Millennium Internet Radio website is www.millenniumradios.com. You can also download the Millennium Internet Radio app for Android phones from your Play Store.
