CSCMP Student Roundtables

Connect • Educate • Develop

Student Roundtables are managed by a volunteer network of supply chain-focused students and educators. There are 16 active, student roundtables across the east, west and midwestern regions of the United States. One international student roundtable operates in Lima, Peru.

CSCMP's student roundtables provide unique opportunities for networking, increased leadership skills, and career growth. They provide support both within the student community and to local roundtables outside the university or institution.

Participating in your local student roundtable enables you to:

- Get a jumpstart on your career in supply chain management
- Build a network of supply chain professionals outside your institution
- Attend exclusive facility tours and events
- Experience an environment of shared responsibility and collaboration
- Be sponsored for CSCMP's Future Leaders Program

Extend your connection to the global supply chain community

Start your supply chain career by becoming a CSCMP student member and broaden your connection to the larger community of supply chain professionals. Get exclusive membership benefits including student discount pricing, member-only resources, professional mentoring, training and certification. For more information, visit cscmp.org.

"Starting as an active student member of CSCMP two years ago, the organization sparked my interest in pursuing career in SCM and has helped me expand and create valuable connections on a nationwide scale. While transitioning from a full-time student to a working professional in the supply chain space, I truly appreciate CSCMP for welcoming me into this supply chain community built on the values of family and togetherness. I plan to continue to give back as I continue my supply chain journey."
