MAJOR MILESTONES

Cairo was a Grant Recipient as an Omprakash Ambassador where she lived in India for 6 months. While living on a residential campus in Tamil Nadu, South India, she created public speaking workshops for high school students that became the foundation for Bringing the World to Florida.

In March 2020, she competed in her first competition and became Miss Broward County 2020 for the Miss America Organization. She became the first (and only) local titleholder with locs in the 85 years that the Miss Florida Organization had and one of the first in the history of the Miss America Organization. Cairo used her sash and crown to challenge misconceptions about titleholders and queens while creating workshops and events that impacted hundreds of students in the tri-county area (Broward County, Palm Beach County, Miami-Dade County).

Cairo created the workshop Storytelling with a Purpose for students, presenting this program to the United Way of Broward, New Leaders Council: Broward County, and a Graduate School Fellowship program in the Midwest. This workshop became the flagship program for Bringing the World to Florida.
