President's Message

Dear Members,

I certainly hope that this newsletter finds you all well. There was no Board meeting this month and as a reminder the Board will meet via Zoom on August 19th. If anyone would like to participate, please reach out to me and we will add you to the list of invites. I have tried to contact the library, but to no avail. I will try again later in the month to see if there is anything new they can share about meeting rooms. According to a newsletter that was forwarded to me, they are still not allowing groups to meet and are also looking into a free use of "online meeting space" which will be part of our discussion at the Board meeting.

If nothing else, this unusual occurrence has encouraged us to find alternate ways to keep up with our craft. I, for one, continue to take a number of online classes. Heaven knows that I have the supplies at home, as I am sure many of you do. I have seen presenters and instructors that I had not heard of before. Besides, closets and drawers that may have been missed are finally being cleaned out! However, as with most of you, I am certain that the social contact with others has certainly been missed. I am considering this a blip on the radar screen, and have confidence that we will meet again in the near future!

Please bear with us all at this time as we confront new challenges for our guild and for our own well-being! Again, we are fortunate to be financially stable; the September program was cancelled to be on the safe side and we will discuss other ideas at our Board meeting. As if all of this isn't enough, you may have heard that our holiday venue has been sold and the new owners are not making it a restaurant. We are on that as well and Shirley has already contacted other places to sort through the possibilities. Still keep working on your challenges as we are planning to have them turned in at our November meeting and displayed in December. Hoping that all is well with each of you!

*Piecefully,
Vicki Pedde*
