President's Message:

Hello Quilt Friends! Welcome to June! And lots of rain...why is it raining so much? Despite all the reasons and explanations those weather gurus give, I know precisely why we're getting all this rain - the peonies are in bloom! Happens every year; take it from this gardener.

My coworker, Kelli, has been sewing about three or four years on a it-does-everything Janome, a gift from her mother. She took beginner and intermediate sewing classes at Sew n Vac, and has been making a lot of accessory items such as bags, totes, make-up cases, and a few pieces of clothing. She always brings in completed projects to share and I've been very impressed with her skills. For the past year or so, I have tried to convince her that she could make a quilt, but she would always emphatically say, "No way! All those pieces - Yuck! I could never do that!" Then this winter, she showed me a wall hanging online and asked if I thought she could make it for her Mom. Cute little sewing machines that, at first, I thought were appliquéd but were actually pieced. There were small triangles, but she's so skilled I encouraged her to try it. She purchased the kit online, complete with fabrics, patterns and instructions. With help from yours truly along the way, I-phones and you-tube videos, she did it! And her Mom was thrilled with the piece.

My point with this little story is this -- it is simply amazing how the internet has changed the face of quilting. When I started quilting years ago, you drove to the store to buy fabric and supplies. Patterns and templates were found in quilt magazines, maybe shared by friends or you made your own. If you needed help, had a question, wanted to learn a technique, or needed info about anything quilt related, you read books and magazines or went to the quilt shop if one existed near you. Then you joined the guild and found all that, and more. You found friends to share your passion with.

Today, all of this can be done and found on the internet. A quilter doesn't have to leave the comfort of her home to shop, learn and share. Online shopping, youtube, Facebook, Pinterest, blogs and more provide everything from fabric and notions to how to bind your quilt. Inspiration is just a click of the mouse away. And so are like-minded friends who live close or half a world away. As I said, it is amazing.

For a quilt guild, it's also frustrating. We want to recruit new members, especially the younger quilters. The ones who now have internet access and all it entails, and don't think they need to join us. Most guilds are facing declining membership numbers (read: aging) and are struggling to grow. This month, Lorraine and I will be attending a quilt symposium with others from guilds in the area. The agenda includes discussion about web pages, social media, Facebook and attracting new members. Hopefully, I'll have some ideas or info to share with you next month.

Keep on Stitchin',
Lois

Minutes: General Meeting: 05/06/2015

Lois Kirkwood brought the meeting to order at 6:35pm and introduced Jeanne Campbell as our speaker. She will speak about machine quilting.

After Jeanne had finished her lecture Lois announced that we would take break for ten minutes for refreshments. Lois then called the meeting to order, there were three guests present at the meeting.

The Secretary's Report as printed in the newsletter was approved by Barb Wenton and seconded by Sheryl Flatt. The Treasurer's Report as printed in the newsletter was approved by Marie Guidry and seconded by Linda Doll. All members were in favor.

Lois Kirkwood (President) announced that the board had a meeting and discussed the items left in the storage unit; Lois read the list of items left. All the guild's photos are now uploaded in files on a computer and they were scanned. The albums will come to the picnic and members can decide to take any photos they want. The small portable cart will be sold through Ways and Means. The karaoke machine will be sold through Lois at the newspaper; we will ask $50.00 for it. If any member knows of someone who might be interested please let Lois know.

We must call the Kutztown Folk Festival and find out what is involved to enter. There is a quilt symposium in June and Lois Kirkwood and Lorraine Hare will be attending.

Refreshments: Barb Wenton announced that she needs volunteers for next month. In July bring your own sandwich or whatever to the meeting. August is the picnic where we will share all dishes, in September the Board Members will provide refreshments. A sign up sheet for the August picnic was passed around; this list will be passed around for the next couple of months.

August 5: Picnic at Mountain View Park, Tannersville

Light rain or shine (but not if we get a hurricane) we will celebrate our annual summer picnic under cover in a pavilion at the Mountain View Park. If there is any last minute change due to weather, we will send out an email to members with email addresses, and will move the picnic back to the Eastern Monroe Public Library where we regularly meet. If you don't have an email address please buddy up with a member who does to get last minute information about the picnic. Please sign up at the May, June or July meetings to bring a dish for the picnic. In addition to your dish to share, please ALSO bring 2 cups of salad fixings. Guild will supply salad greens; at the June meeting we will decide whether to use the grills. Bring your own place setting and let's also continue the tradition of groups of members coordinating their table's decorating theme. After dinner we will have a super Show and Tell, with the Ph.Inished candidates presenting their completed UFO's. Certificates will be issued to those who actually phinish! We will be in Pavilion #1, directions to the Park follow and also will be on the Guild website:
