

1. A mutually beneficial trade is what you will get
 - Trades do not have to have a winner and a loser. A 69er trade ends with a winner and a winner. We are not worried if a player we trade for flops. If you are happy after a trade, we are happy.
2. Any player is tradable at any time
 - The right price will get you any 69er your heart desires. The SF 69ers do not believe in “trading blocks”, if they think a player has what it takes, they will make an offer. You want our best player? You can have him for the right price.
3. Trades can be as creative as you want them to be
 - Long for the 69ers waiver wire pick? Want to solidify a deal 2 week early? Have conditional requests? Not a problem. The San Francisco 69ers are happy to accommodate any and all stipulations requested.
4. A deal is a deal
 - The 69ers are only as good as their word. If you get a formal offer from our handsome GM Tony Galliani. You know have a real offer. He does not talk to you just to throw out “feelers”. The 69ers will never officially offer you a trade and then pull it once say you accept it. Our word is gold.
5. Quarterbacks are held in low regard
 - Self-explanatory. The best QB is maybe worth a backup running back.
6. Free market wins
 - You can be sure that if you trade with the 69ers, and some limp dick commissioner (Austin Rae/Sam Tipton), tries to veto your trade. The 69ers will fight to keep that trade alive. The 69ers will never veto a trade made between 2 consenting players.
7. Our history speaks for itself
 - Every single year, in every single the league, the San Francisco 69ers make the most trades. It takes two to tango, we make the most trades because we give out the best offers. We are respectful, start the conversation at a decent level and really strive to make your team better. You want to be a fantasy champion?! You better make some trades with the San Francisco 69ers.
