Old Wives' Tales and Jail

To steal a line from Steve Martin in the movie "Leap of Faith" "I've met some pretty smart ole' wives in my day" but an old wives' tale when it comes to firearm related incidents can land you in jail. Wikipedia says "An old wives' tale is a supposed truth which is actually spurious or a superstition." What am I talking about? We've all heard them, the confidently stated sayings of old..."If you shoot 'em outside make sure you drag them inside." "Make sure they're dead so it's just your side of the story." This is all WRONG. There is of course the classic "Put a knife/gun/something in his hand so it looks like self-defense." Look folks it better not "look" like self defense it damn well better BE self-defense.

Remember the 3 Outside the house rules: Is the threat imminent? Are you in fear of serious injury or death? & Is your gun the only way to stop it?

2 Rules Inside the house: Do you reasonably believe they are there to hurt or kill a member of your household? & Is your gun the only way to stop them?

We are not criminals so don't do something stupid like a criminal. Planting evidence at a crime scene is a crime, falsifying a police report is a crime. What are you trying to hide? See, now you're a criminal. This is why we want you to think about these things before you find yourself in a bad situation made worse because we didn't think it through and that ole wives' tale landed you in jail. Remember, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

6 Concealed-Carry Tips You Need to Know

Some of the things mentioned we cover in class and some we don't. That's why we want you to keep on learning and reminding yourselves so you are prepared.

How About Some Dessert?

A couple of months ago we talked Pork Belly, then we had a little spoon bread, so now it's time for dessert. This is very simple but awesome and will definitely cure your sugar fix. Depending on the size of baking pan, you need to adjust. Here are the ingredients (more or less) for a 9x13 greased, baking dish. 2 cans of sliced peaches/1 can of peach pie filling, mix together with a squeeze of lemon, nutmeg, allspice and cinnamon to taste. Pour into 9x13 and cover with 2 packages blueberry muffin mix (mixed to package instructions) and bake. This is your cobbler topping. If the muffin mix comes with a streusel topping use that as well, if not make your own (it's cold butter and brown sugar) sprinkle a little over the top bake as directed and enjoy.
