THE WINTER PARK COUNTRY CLUB

TO REVIVE COUNTRY CLUB AS A SOCIAL CENTER

A special meeting was held on Tuesday morning in the Winter Park Country Club for the purpose of reestablishing the clubhouse as the delightful social center that it was in former days. Mrs. P. T. Stillman was appointed Temporary Chairman. It was proposed to have a hostess in charge to serve light refreshments when required to use the club for private teas, bridge parties, etc, and to resume the putting contests between the guests of the hotels and the cottagers. This motion was carried and a new social membership was established of $3.00 for the remainder of this year and $5.00 for the whole season next year. The club will be open on Thursday afternoon March 10th when the first putting contest will take place. Prizes will be awarded and light refreshments will be served to members and their friends by invitation of members only. Please leave word at the Caddy house how many will be present by Tuesday, March 8th. In case of rain the opening will be held Saturday, March 12th.

CHALMERS LECTURES
MOVE TO AUDITORIUM

In an effort to accommodate all who wish to hear Dr. Thomas Chalmers in his brilliant addresses on history, his lecture next Monday morning at 11 o'clock on "The story of Russia through twenty years," will be delivered in the Winter Park High School auditorium.

For his first lecture, the Annie Russell Theatre was found to be inadequate as hundreds either had to stand or were turned away, and for his second lecture, delivered last Monday, the Winter Park Congregational Church had an overflow audience.

The remaining lectures in his series on "Europe and America at the Threshold of 1938," will be delivered in the high school auditorium which has a seating capacity of nearly 1100.

SIEWERT RECITALS
RESUMED AT CHAPEL

Herman F. Siewert resumed his very delightful Organ Vespers programs last week after the winter vacation. Winter visitors consider this weekly concert at 5 P. M. at the beautiful Knowles Memorial Chapel one of the outstanding events of the week. The organ, the gift of Mrs. Mabel Knowles Gage, of Worcester, Mass. is a three-manual Skinner and was dedicated in 1932. Mrs. Gage is a sister of Mrs. George E. Warren of Boston who gave the Chapel to Rollins College in memory of her father. Mr. Siewert the organist of the Chapel is a product of the Guilford School and was a pupil of Dupre. His talent as an organist is widely recognized.

A program of organ music was given recently by Mr. Siewert at the First Presbyterian Church in West Palm Beach which included among other great compositions, the famous Bach "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor", Cesar Franck's "Piece Heroique" and Widor's Fifth Symphony "Toccata".

This concert was praised thus in the West Palm Beach "Post": "Under Mr. Siewert's deft manipulations, the organ, not large as organs go, assumed the proportions of a great instrument. From the dainty and lightest of lyrical offerings to dramatic numbers, the artist moved with an ease that displayed his mastery. Crescendos that reverberated throughout the auditorium, phrases that demanded lightning-like fingering, studies that called for restrained singing tones, followed each other in rapid succession. Masterful pedaling and magnificent combinations rounded out a notable performance."

Mr. Siewert's soloist next Thursday will be Broadus Earle, talented young violinist of the Symphony Orchestra.

COUNTRY CLUB DINNER

The formal dinner to celebrate the official opening of the Winter Park Country Club Thursday evening was like an old home meeting. Representatives of all the various organizations of the community were present and after a sumptuous turkey dinner listened to words of wisdom and levity from leading citizens.

Mr. Homer Gard presided and skillfully introduced the following speakers: Irving Bacheller, Arthur Schultz, W. E. Winterweede, Mayor Moody, Dr. Hamilton Holt, Miss Loretta Salmon, Jack Hennessy, Sherwood Foley, Mrs. Gordon Jones, and Arthur M. Harris. Dr. Eugene R. Shippen contributed some original verses in honor of the occasion at its close.

TRIBUTE PAID TO MRS. GEORGE WARREN

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday a graceful compliment was paid to the guest of honor, Mrs. George E. Warren, by the presentation of a framed tribute in the following words:

"IN APPRECIATION"

Of her outstanding part in the civic and religious life of Winter Park, of her generosity in the erection of Knowles Memorial Chapel, one of America's most beautiful religious edifices, which has done so much for the spiritual life of this community, and of the many other kindly acts that have endeared her to the hearts of our citizens, this token is presented to Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren by the members of the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce on this, the 6th day of April, A. D. 1938."

YOUNG SPEAKERS TO CONTEST FOR CUPS

Orlando Senior High School will be defending champion in both debating and oratory at the Second Annual Interscholastic Speech Tournament to be held at Rollins College today (Saturday, April 9) under the joint auspices of the Orange County Bar Association and Rollins College.

Orlando Senior High is in possession of the two cups which were donated last year by the Orange County Bar Association and which must be won three times, but not necessarily in consecutive years, before they become permanent trophies.

In defending the right to retain the two cups, the Orlando debaters and orators will compete against Winter Park, Winter Garden, and

MR. AND MRS. BLOCH GIVE JOINT RECITAL

The joint recital of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Bloch, in the series of the Rollins Faculty concerts, drew a large and representative audience to the Annie Russell Theatre on Thursday evening. The talents of these two outstanding musicians have been enjoyed separately,—Mr. Bloch as conductor of the Symphony Orchestra and Mrs. Bloch as a pianist-lecturer explaining the orchestra programs, and it was an expectant audience that came to hear them as recitalists.

The program was typical of the serious minded and thorough-going artist which Mr. Bloch has heretofore disclosed. There were no showmanship pieces, no sensational stunts aimed at unthinking applause, but a selection of music of great beauty and intimate character.

SPANISH EVENING AT BARBOUR RESIDENCE

The annual Cervantes celebration, sponsored by the Florida section of the Instituto de las Espanas, has become a tradition in Winter Park. This year, the celebration will be held on Saturday and Sunday, April 23-24 featuring a Noche Andaluza (Andalusian evening) at the home of Mr. R. B. Barbour, from five until seven on April 23. Music will be furnished by the Spanish Symphonette, directed by Signor Enrico Tamburini, and the Spanish Serenaders. Tables will be reserved for guests and refreshments will be served at a nominal price. Following the director's meeting at seven o'clock, the annual Spanish dinner and presentation of the Cervantes Medal will be held. On Sunday the American Association of Spanish Teachers will hold its meeting, including a special chapel service in Spanish and a luncheon for members.

MR. GARD GIVES GRATIFYING REPORT OF WINTER PARK COUNTRY CLUB ACTIVITIES

I am happy to report to you that we are having the greatest play that the course has ever enjoyed in its history. The Fairways, Tees and Greens are in splendid condition and everyone seems to be well pleased. Mr. H. A. Ward, chairman of the Greens Committee and Howard Jernigan, superintendent of the grounds deserve a lot of credit for the excellent condition of the course.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow George are doing an excellent job in connection with the pro's work and report that the play this year is very much better than last year.

Mr. Albert Dorn who was in charge of the Summer play last Summer did an exceptionally good job supervising and managing that play during the Summer months. During the Winter season he has supervised the Putting Matches and looked after things in general around the clubhouse.

Mr. W. E. Winderweede, president of the Summer Club did a fine job in getting out such a splendid Summer play, and Summer membership.

During the past Summer two shower baths were installed in the men's locker room as well as a large automatic gas water heater. These are a great improvement and are enjoyed by all of the members.

During the first part of this season the clubhouse was painted on the outside and the hallways and men's and ladies' locker rooms. Mr. George has recommended that a 12 x 15' addition to the Pro's House and Starter House be built, and I would highly recommend that in this connection a servant's toilet for the colored servants be installed in connection therewith. This is badly needed and should be taken care of immediately.

Mrs. Helen P. Stillman as chairman of the Social Membership Committee has lead the Social Membership in the most successful season in its history. Under the supervision of Miss Mollie Holden as hostess many parties have been given, teas served, dinners luncheons, etc. have been held at the club, making full use of the club as a social center, which of course is a great advantage to the club as well as to the whole town.

Mrs. Stillman deserves the thanks and appreciation of all of the members, officers and directors for her untiring efforts in connection with this work and although she has been ill for quite some time she has never at any time neglected the work in any respect.

Mr. Frederic Ward as secretary-treasurer is always on the job and is most efficient. He certainly deserves a vote of thanks for the good work that he is doing.

It is my feeling that we will have the greatest Summer play that the club has experienced during the coming Summer season and I have been informed that Mr. George expects to remain with us during the Summer months and will operate the Summer club on the same basis that Mr. Dorn has operated it heretofore.

Respectfully submitted,
HOMER GARD, President.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AT COUNTRY CLUB

The social membership activities of the Winter Park Country Club for 1940-41 have surpassed all expectations of the House Committee, and the great appreciation of the members for the use of the club house has been expressed both verbally and by letters, to the chairman of the House Committee, Mrs. Philip T. Stillman.

Under the able management of Miss Mollie Holden, up to date, three thousand eight hundred and ten (3,810) persons have been entertained. Many bridge parties, dinners, luncheons, receptions and teas and musicals have been held.

Although many improvements to the building were added, there are still more contemplated if it is possible to obtain the interest of the members in helping to this end.

A general meeting of all social members will be held on Monday,

By overlooking this property you may be overlooking the very location you seek and an opportunity that may not repeat itself.

With a sweeping view of three-quarters of a mile over Lake Osceola, 125 feet on the lake and 500 feet in depth, this property is offered at a price of about 12 cents per square foot, making it by far the cheapest lake front on Lake Osceola. A TRIBUTE TO THE CHAMBER MUSIC GROUP

By Virginia Brown

When we who have been members of the Winter Park community during the past few months return to our homes in other parts of the country and are questioned about the artistic side of life at Winter Park, certainly the Delius Chamber Music Group will be mentioned in a place of honor.

It is gratifying that the highest form of pure musical composition should not only be available to this community but that it should also be available in performances which are equal to the music in calibre. There are those musicians whose love of music is greater than their ability to present it to others with artistic integrity, but the five members of the Delius Chamber Music Group are not among them. Their performances were those of a perfectly balanced interpreter, bringing composer and hearer face to face.

The contribution this group makes to the community cannot justly be applauded by words but only by the listener who himself hears the beauty of musical form and instrumental quality which is revealed in the performances of the Delius Chamber Music Group.

Miss Helen Moore and her mother, Mrs. Moore, went to Jacksonville Saturday afternoon where on Sunday afternoon Miss Moore acted as accompanist for Miss Jeannette Vreeland at her concert which closed the artist series managed by Prof. Meyer. This week Mrs. Clifford Drennen, of Springfield, Ill., and Mrs. Dewees, of Miami, nieces of Mr. Moore, are guests.

Harold H. Elliott, son-in-law of Mrs. Sam Goss, Sr., left by motor last Saturday for Washington, New York, and for his home in Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Abbe are among those staying until June. They will close their house on Henkel Circle and return to Massachusetts for the summer.

Mrs. John Lonsdale has been spending the past week with her son John, Jr., a freshman at Rollins, at their cottage on French avenue. She will leave Tuesday for St. Louis and after opening their summer home outside of the city expects to return for the commencement week activities here and will accompany John, Jr., back North.

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB OF WINTER PARK

Late in the spring of 1934 a meeting was called at the Chamber of Commerce at the suggestion of Dr. K. L. Butterfield, for the purpose of organizing a society of college men. Some thirty men responded and a tentative organization was formed as a basis for future activity. At the second meeting, held a fortnight later, General A. D. Andrews gave the club some reminiscences of his term as Police Commissioner of New York City, in association with the late President Theodore Roosevelt and others.

In December of the same year meetings were resumed and were continued through the season (until April 13th) at fortnightly intervals. A constitution was adopted providing for the usual officers, and a series of addresses and discussions was instituted on subjects of interest to the members. Of these programs may be mentioned: "Education in the South," led by Dr. Charles W. Dabney and Professor W. E. Stark; "Socialized Hospitalization," a discussion participated in by Doctors Bull, Holt, Abbe, McGugan, and Oesterling; "War Minerals," by Dr. J. E. Spurr; "City Planning," by Professor G. B. Zug; "Some Social and Economic Aspects of the Incunabula," by Professor E. R. A. Seligman; which last subject is to be supplemented at the final meeting of the season at the Chamber of Commerce April 13th, by an address by Professor E. O. Grover on the "Romance of the Book."

At the first annual meeting, held on March 2, 1935, G. M. Whicher, of Amherst, Mass., was elected President for the ensuing year, and J. W. Newton, of Newton Center, Mass., was made Secretary-Treasurer. A Committee on Programs was appointed to serve until the first meeting in December, 1935, consisting of Messrs. Woodbury, chairman, Zug, Phillips, and Stark.

An interesting variation of the regular course of meetings was the club dinner held March 29th at a restaurant in Winter Park. Including members and their guests there were fifty-one persons present. After the meal there was a unique talk on "Reminiscences of the New York Stage," by Mr. Charles Burnham.

The club closes its first year with the encouraging roll of sixty-one members. By its constitution the purpose of the club is declared to be "to facilitate the social and intellectual intercourse of college men assembled in Winter Park," and in the light of the past season the organization seems to be entirely successful. While, in the usual order of things, only men are eligible who have an academic degree from a college or university, provision is made for the admission of others in whose cases the requirement is waived by a vote of three-fourths of the members. It is hoped that next season (Dec. 1935-April 1936) the membership may be largely increased; that the programs may be maintained at the same high level; and that the University Club may in due measure become a center of intellectual activity among the men of the community.

RANDOM NOTES

Mr. F. L. Seaman, of New York, who opened a studio of photography at the beginning of the season in Orlando, has been receiving a liberal share of the patronage of Winter Park. His studio is equal in equipment to the best in New York and has the most up-to-date arrangements for lighting. For three years Mr. Seaman was connected with Norman Bel Geddes and his work here shows all the refinement and skill which are representative of that famous artist. Mr. Seaman's studio is conveniently located at 22 W. Washington street. Appointments may be made for taking pictures in the home.

Last week on Thursday evening the annual dinner meeting of the Florida Library Association was held at the Wyoming Hotel in Orlando. Among the guests invited were authors who have made Winter Park or Orlando their home the past winter. William F. Yust, Rollins College librarian and president of the association, reported that almost fifty writers were invited to attend and that several of the number read from their published books.

MODERN PAINTERS AT ROLLINS ART STUDIO

John Stuart Curry, the New Englander, who paints such colorful features of Kansas life as tornados and baptisms to the continual dismay of the citizens of that state, is represented by three original water colors loaned by Prof. Willard Wattles. Even in his early work his determination to paint "the American scene" is evident.

This room is given added interest by the presence of several important original canvases, among which are a Pothast, an Arthur B. Davies, and an Albert P. Ryder.

To replace the reproductions in this exhibition with the originals they represent would present problems which would dismay the world's greatest financiers, call for an army led by a military genius equal to Napoleon and result in the despoiling of the greatest museums in America and Europe.

COL. WILGUS TO LEAD CANAL DISCUSSION

The Florida Ship Canal will be one of the topics discussed at the second annual Rollins Economic Conference to be held on February 2, 3, and 4, under the auspices of Rollins College.

Under the general heading of "The Conservation, Development and Utilization of Natural Resources," William J. Wilgus, of Ascutney, Vt., a winter resident here, and widely known as a consulting engineer, will lead the discussion on the canal, it is announced.

The Economic Conferences will be held twice daily in the Winter Park Woman's Club, and are free to the general public.

DR. GAVIT TO SPEAK at Congregational Church

On February 2, at 8 p. m., Dr. John Palmer Gavit will lecture on "Adventure in Education." Dr. Gavit has many friends in Winter Park who will be glad of this opportunity to hear him. In 1931 he was a member of the "Conference on Curriculum for a College of Liberal Arts" held in Winter Park under the auspices of Rollins College. Dr. Gavit is keenly interested in education. A few years ago, he visited thirty colleges and universities in this country and abroad, and later wrote a book, "College," giving his impression of "higher" education. Dr. Gavit is associate editor of "The Survey."

MUSICAL EVENTS HAVE THEIR PLACE IN SUN

The lecturers and the literary people, to say nothing of the artists, temporarily took a back seat for almost a week while we listened to some music. There was the song recital last Friday evening of Elisabeth Schumann at the Annie Russell Theatre, followed by the violin recital of Albert Spalding in the Auditorium at Orlando on Saturday, the Symphony Orchestra concert Wednesday evening. Besides these major events there were the always interesting organ recitals of Herman Siewert at the Knowles Memorial Chapel, the singing of the Rollins Choir Sunday morning, the evening concerts at the three larger hotels. Indeed music is not being neglected.

Mme. Schumann came to us with

It is laziness that makes us prefer warm tones to the cold light of 'the blue horse school'."

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB OF WINTER PARK

In the three years since its first meeting on March 24, 1934, the University Club of Winter Park has shown a remarkable growth in membership and importance. It has admirably succeeded in its purpose "to facilitate the social and intellectual intercourse" of the large number of college men in the community. Its fortnightly meetings on Saturday evenings, preceded by an informal supper at the Alabama, are notable gatherings of distinguished men representing nearly a hundred colleges and universities including nine abroad. Of the one hundred and forty-nine members, forty are listed in "Who's Who in America" and sixteen are Phi Beta Kappa honor men, affording a wealth of material for supplying the club programs.

The club has been fortunate in having the guidance of leaders who placed cordial fellowship in the foreground and encouraged the interchange of views of the members. The open forums following the feature addresses often furnish the highlights of the evening.

For his wise and able administration of the club during its first years Dr. George Meason Whicher is regarded as responsible in large degree for its success. The present officers elected March 14, 1936, are Dr. Eugene R. Shippen, president; George W. Woodbury, vice-president; James W. Newton, secretary-treasurer, and Theodore E. Emery, associate secretary. Mr. Newton has served the club since its organization and his indefati-

"AMERICANS DON'T KNOW HOW MUCH BETTER OFF THEY ARE," SAYS DR. HOLT

Announced to speak on "Europe as I saw it this summer" for the opening of the Tuesday evening series at the Congregational Church, Dr. Hamilton Holt moved rapidly from country to country and quickly brought up at Geneva where his life-long ideal still functions.

HAMILTON HOLT
"After a talk like this I would probably disappear"

"There are only two ways to conduct human affairs," affirmed Dr. Holt, "by force or by reason, and the League of Nations which some people consider a joke is the greatest step we have taken to use reason since the Declaration of Independence."

It was evident that the distinguished traveler had never lost sight of the League no matter how much he enjoyed seeing the pastoral life in the Balkans, the colorful Gypsies, and Florence, which he called the "most beautiful city in the world", and where he walked in imagination with Savonarola, Dante, Macchiavelli and a score of other celebrated Florentines, looking for stones for the Walk of Fame at Rollins.

A few highlights:

"Half of the people I asked said there would be a war; half said no; all feared there would be, but I could not get from anybody what the issues were or on which side the nations would fight—a humiliating revelation of the weakness of our civilization." Continued on Page Four.

UNIVERSITY CLUB'S NEW ROOMS POPULAR

If one single achievement for the betterment of Winter Park were to be picked out this season there would be a round majority to name the new club house of the University Club. To those liberal spirited gentlemen who made it possible there has been a constant accolade of homage.

In the charming and comfortable lounge before the vast fireplace (that reminds the northerners of back home on cold days) the intelligentsia of Winter Park gather for pleasant social amenities and exchange of views on subjects immense in latitude. From its own membership the Club is able to provide its own lecture platform that bows to none in prestige.

Opening the season December 4th the distinguished Dr. Charles W. Stiles gave a rapidly attentive audience one of the most illuminating descriptions of conditions in the South.

RESEARCH STUDIO AT MAITLAND OPENED

The grounds and buildings of the recently created Research Studio in Maitland have been completed, and on the first of January this wall-enclosed "Utopia" began its existence as host to American artists by the arrival of the five artists who have been awarded the Research Studio Fellowships for the season of 1938.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Edward Bok, the famous Curtis String Quartet gave a recital in the gallery of the Research Studio on the evening of January 6th. This delightful event marked the formal opening of the Research Studio and served as a gesture of welcome to its newly arrived artists. This recital was attended by the members of the Research Studio colony and Mrs. Edward Bok who, as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Banca and Mr. Andre Smith, has been in Maitland for the past week.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Philip L. Lee and little daughter, Barbara, of Rosemont, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Lee's mother-in-law, Mrs. Joshua C. Chase for two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Fielding Lewis Taylor, of New York City, have leased the Fred Hall house on Osceola Avenue for the season and are expected to arrive today.

MISS JEANNETTE GENIUS
Whose engagement to Mr. Hugh McKean has been announced.

Mr. John G. Howland, President of the Howland Dry Goods Company, of Bridgeport, Conn., has returned to spend the winter months at No. 630 Palmer Avenue. Mr. Howland's firm is one of the outstanding department stores of New England. He has been a winter resident here for many years.

Mrs. Edward S. Fownes of Maitland has been spending Christmas and the holidays with her son and daughter in Pittsburgh. She will return shortly, bringing with her Mrs. Mary Loughed of Philadelphia, to be her guest for two weeks.

WINTER PARK RETURNS TO LECTURE HALLS

The opening of the lecture season found Winter Parkians like St. Paul's Athenians and the strangers that sojourned there spending "their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing". The lecture halls of this Florida Areopagus are thronged almost daily by seekers for knowledge.

Dr. Holt started off the 1938 series, and Dr. John Martin followed with the first of his ten lectures on International Relations. Next week brings a barrage of lectures that will sharpen up our Athenian appetites. On Monday, Dr. Thomas Chalmers takes us before "A Picture of Europe, July 1937, January 1938", a picture whose colors are not yet dry. On Monday afternoon we relax a bit to hear from Dr. Evelyn Newman about "Current Plays on Broadway", a subject that the Athenians would not have considered at all out of their ken.

Broadway gives way to "Homer and the Mycenaean Age" (which was old even in St. Paul's day) when Dr. Helen W. Cole addresses her audience at the Woman's Club on Tuesday. Thursday brings Dr. Martin again to the Auditorium rostrum to tell of the "Brussels Conference and America's policy". Dorothy Thompson should attend this lecture as she can't find America's policy.

U.S. CAN'T CONTROL WAR SAYS JOHN MARTIN

A few highlights of Dr. Martin's lecture on "The War in China".

Japan considers this a religious war to make Asia independent of the Western world under her leadership. China in 1923 rejected a friendly Jap over-lordship, a religious and psychological collision ensued. If China got time Japan's chance would be lost.

A group of young Jap officers are war crazy, mutinous, irresponsible, welcome war with Russia, England and America. We can't

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The many new recruits to Winter Park this season are nowhere more marked than at the University Club. Forty-three new members have been added to the rolls, bringing in men of distinction in a wide range of activities. The powwows on Tuesday and Friday and the Saturday night meetings are all well attended and the customary spirit of friendliness that has characterized Winter Park is helping to increase friendships and stimulate the exchange of views.

At a recent meeting Mr. William C. Stark, the Secretary, read a tribute to the Club which received hearty approval. The reply of one of the new members in his questionnaire with regard to the meetings was as follows:

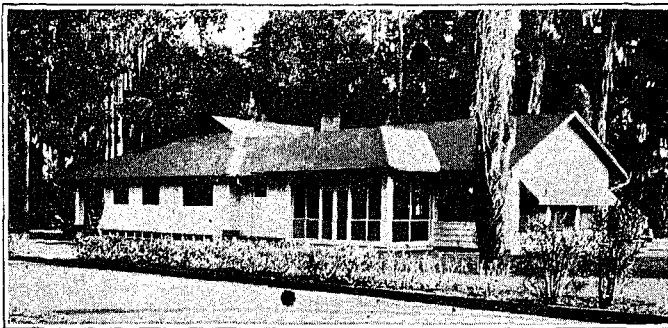

"My impression is that they are like a post-graduate course to men who are never too old to learn. In the social and cultural activities of the club, that 'inner flame' of the spirit which is the secret of eternal youth is kept brightly burning. This is why, even though a novice, I already cherish most highly the privilege of membership in the Club."

Ladies' Night will be held on Saturday evening, Jan. 9th, at 8 P.M. at the Woman's Club. The program will include a lecture, "Salem and the Indies" by Mr. James Duncan Phillips, also music by Mr. A. Kunrad Kvam, cellist, and Mr. Morton Schoenfeld, accompanist. Mr. Phillips was formerly vice-president of Houghton Mifflin & Co., of Boston, and is at the Seminole with Mrs. Phillips for the season.

DR. MARTIN'S LECTURES

For many years the lectures of Dr. John Martin on International Relations have held the first place in Winter Park's program of studies. For wealth of information gleaned from first-hand sources, penetrating analysis and realistic appraisal of the world's activities, Dr. Martin is a lecturer of high rank. His distinct and expressive delivery makes his lectures doubly enjoyed.

With the general title of "Winning the War and Winning the Peace", Dr. Martin offers ten lectures at the High School Auditorium, Thursday afternoons at 4 o'clock. The first was given yesterday, Jan. 7th, while this issue of Winter Park Topics was being put on the press, and was devoted to "What Has Been Won Up to Now?" Next week's lecture will be, "What Remains to Be Won."

CIVIC CONCERTS OPEN TO MEN IN SERVICE

The many families of men in the armed service of the Government will have the opportunity of attending the splendid series of five concerts to be given by the Central Florida Civic Music Association. The series is planned only for members who joined during the drive last Spring, but those who were not present at that time may join now.

The concerts will all be held at the Orlando Auditorium at 8:15 P.M. No seats are reserved.

Rachmaninoff, the great Russian pianist, the high-light of the series, will give a recital on Sunday evening, February 21st. Other concerts are:

Roland Gundry, violinist, Jan. 21st; Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, with Dimitri Mitropoulos conducting, Feb. 18th; Jean Dickinson, Metropolitan soprano, March 25th; Thomas L. Thomas, Metropolitan baritone, April 1st.

CASA IBERIA

Greater interest in Spanish and Latin-American languages and people is marked at Rollins by the new Casa Iberia at 570 Osceola Avenue where Professor Angela Palomo Campbell has established a center of Inter-American studies. With the help of friends who contributed in furnishing and renovating, Dr. Campbell has now a charming meeting place for her classes. Informal "at homes" and group discussions in Spanish, frequently led by visiting specialists in the Latin-American field, are supplementing the class studies.

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Frances Mansfield, of Philadelphia, is visiting Mrs. Eldridge Hart, who will entertain at a series of affairs for her houseguest next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Skillman, who have spent the winter at the Seminole, gave a farewell party to 12 of their friends on Monday, entertaining them at luncheon and bridge. Mrs. James Whalen, Mrs. Charles Hyde Pratt and Mrs. Walter Tappen were prize winners. Mr. and Mrs. Skillman plan to leave Thursday, April 5, for their summer home at Bloomfield Hills, Mich., and expect to return to Winter Park next season, as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Hauck, of Cincinnati, have purchased lots No. 2 and 3 on the Isle of Sicily at the end of Via Lugano, and plan to build a house after the war. Mr. and Mrs. Hauck and children resided last season in the Wallick house on Via Lugano.

Mrs. Walter G. McIntosh, of Dundee, Ill., is making a stay at the Virginia Inn while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Simon Newcomb Whitney, of Deep Springs, Calif., who with Mr. Whitney and their baby, are guests of his mother, Mrs. Joseph Whitney, of Henkle Circle. Mrs. McIntosh, who came to Florida also to see her son, Ensign Walter G. Jr., stationed in Hollywood, is a former winter resident of Winter Park, having occupied the residence on Palmer Avenue owned for many years by the H. W. Caldwells, now the property of Mrs. Woodbury Morris, of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Arthur E. Genius, widow of the late Dr. Genius, formerly of Winter Park, whose death occurred in New York in January, is spending several weeks in Orlando with her mother, Mrs. Kingore, also of New York, while looking after the settlement of the estate. Mrs. Genius and Mrs. Harry Wheeler Stone spent four days last week at The Breakers in Palm Beach.

Capt. and Mrs. James A. Benzing, of the College Arms Apartments, will have the former's brother, Capt. William M. Benzing, Jr., with them for the coming month while he finishes a flight surgery course at AAFTAC. Capt. William Benzing, who will be accompanied by his wife and little daughter, has been overseas two years, and before the war was a physician in Asheville, N. C.

Miss Irmgard Kuntze has returned from a ten-day vacation spent at the Fort Harrison Hotel in Clearwater.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whalen gave a luncheon and bridge last Friday at the Seminole where they have been spending the winter. Mrs. Edward Van Houten and Mrs. Arthur Siebold were prize winners. Mr. and Mrs. Whalen left yesterday for their home in St. Paul, Minn.

SHELL MUSEUM'S SCIENTIFIC DIRECTOR SEES WIDER OPPORTUNITIES FOR NATURE STUDY

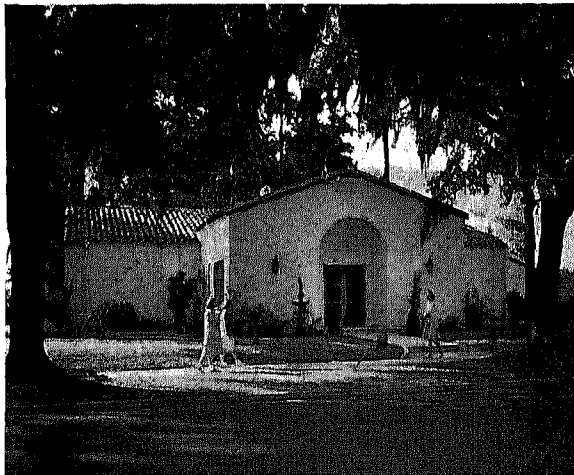

To arouse new interest in nature study through the Shell Museum is one of the aims of the present director, Mr. Maxwell Smith. Himself one of the leading authorities on the science of conchology, Mr. Smith looks upon the internationally famous Beal-Maltbie Collection of Shells on the Rollins Campus as more than entertainment for the superficially curious on the one hand, or as merely research material for the scientific student.

This wonderful collection can be made a door opening upon one of the wide perspectives of nature, in the opinion of Director Smith, if we do not consider merely the shells themselves but the animals who live in them.

"A greater interest would result," said Mr. Smith to the editor of Winter Park Topics, "if we could develop here something of the modern technique which has proved so successful in the American Museum of Natural History in New York where the exhibitions are dramatized in every possible way and the specimens and their habitat reproduced as in nature. This has resulted in enormously increasing the attendance at the museum and the public gets something of the thrill enjoyed by travelers and hunters over the far regions of the earth. Of course it would require some time for us to carry out such a plan, but we can make a start in several ways, especially through the use of pictures showing the living conditions of shellfish. Friends of the museum who have

UNIVERSITY CLUB CHOOSES SITE FOR NEW CLUBHOUSE AT PARK AND WEBSTER AVENUES

Something like an old-fashioned New England town meeting was held at the University Club Monday afternoon when it was decided after vigorous exchange of views to locate the proposed new clubhouse at the corner of Park and Webster Avenues. There was outspoken opposition on the part of those who wanted the club to be nearer the center of town so that they could drop in at any time and get the full benefit of a clubhouse. But the suggestion that this is an "old-man's club" and ought not to expect so much walking was scornfully rebutted by a vigorous 80-year-oldster. Another feared the proximity of the new site to the cemetery as altogether too convenient! But such an inference did not daunt other speakers who reminded one of Robert Louis Stevenson's South American villagers who, while living on the side of a volcano are "not a jot more impressed by the solemnity of mortal conditions."

A realization that the committee headed by Col. Wm. G. Atwood had given careful and painstaking consideration to the various possible sites in town doubtless had much weight in the decision of the majority to accept its report in favor of the Park Avenue location, and it was evident to all that the greater area affording ample room for parking, and the very liberal concession in the price of the four lots made by Miss Jeannette Genius, president of the Winter Park Land Company, were much more favorable considerations than afforded by any other sites.

The new site has a frontage of 178 feet on Park Avenue and 384 feet on Webster Avenue. It has the advantage of being in the same pleasant environment as the present club, with lofty pine trees and the attractive landscape of the Country Club before it. Member Carl F. Langlas amazed the meeting by giving figures to show that it was two-tenths of a mile less from the bank to the new site than the present.

Bishop Gowdy announced that

LAST FACULTY RECITAL

The Rollins Conservatory of Music will close its 1945 Faculty Recital Series with a program on Wednesday evening, April 4, in the Annie Russell Theatre, featuring a group of faculty artists and the Rollins Chapel Choir.

The program will include a group of songs by Mabel Ritch, contralto, assisted at the piano by John Carter; several selections by Alphonse Carlo, violinist; and Walter Charnbury, pianist; and a group of four songs by the chapel choir. The program will consist entirely of selections by American composers.

COLLEGE SERVICES

TODAY AND EASTER

Good Friday will be observed by Rollins College with a service at 12 o'clock noon in the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

On Easter a sunrise service will be held at 7 a.m. in the chapel garden, and morning meditation at 9:45 in the chapel when Dean Henry Morris Edmonds will preach on "The Risen Life."

The public is invited to visit the Rollins College telescope at 8 o'clock Monday evening, April 2. Dr. George Saute, chairman of the division of science at Rollins, will be in charge. The telescope is located on the shore of Lake Virginia, at the rear of the Morse Gallery of Art. If weather is unfavorable, the first clear night following.

PLAYERS CLUB GIVING "THE MALE ANIMAL"

The Rollins Players will present the Players' Club in a production of the comedy "The Male Animal" on April 2, 3, 5 and 7 in the Annie Russell Theatre as an added attraction of the current Rollins dramatic series.

A non-profit organization composed of soldiers and civilians, the Players' Club was organized last fall in Orlando. Its first production, Noel Coward's "Hay Fever," was successfully produced in the Fred Stone Laboratory Theatre at Rollins in September.

"The Male Animal" will be presented under the direction of Sgt. Robert Maurer of AFTAC. The cast includes Sgt. Wesley Goddard, Genevieve Damborg, Charlotte Zucker, Sgt. Bob Cannon, Maj. Samuel Hershey, Sgt. Donald Leo Smolen, M/Sgt. Albert Elkes, Sgt. Leo Nagle, Muriel Harling, Eleanor Nagle, Paula Rittenhouse, Tom Sawyer and Sgt. Leonard Sorkin. Sgt. Hugo Melchione is production designer, and the set decorations are under the direction of Mrs. Edith Tadd Little.

Elliott Nugent and James Thurber, authors of the gay college play, "The Male Animal," depict the marital misunderstandings of a young professor who believes that his wife has fallen for the male charms of an ex-football hero and successful businessman.

UNIVERSITY CLUB HOST FOR "LADIES NIGHT" AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB SATURDAY EVENING

The University Club will lay aside its learned discussions temporarily on Saturday evening when a lighter program will be presented for Ladies' Night at the Woman's Club. An illustrated lecture, "Peking—City of Golden Roofs" will be given by Mr. Clark C. Steinbeck and there will be music by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Griffiths.

Following the program there will be a social period with light refreshments.

The University Club will bring to a close on April 30th one of the most active and successful seasons in its history. The attendance at the Tuesday and Friday "pow-wows" and the Saturday evening meetings has always been large and constantly reminded the over 400 members of the need for the new clubhouse which in due time will be built.

According to the 1945-46 Year Book the University Club now has over 440 members and associate members, representing 149 institutions of learning. "Business men lead in numbers, followed closely by educators. Next in order are physicians, clergymen, lawyers, and engineers, followed by 26 other classifications. Of these over 50 belong to Phi Beta Kappa, over 50 have the degree of Ph. D. 128 are listed in Who's Who in America, and 20 in other prominent Who's Who publications. As a cross section of American College men, the Club fills a unique place in the life of Winter Park." The meetings and associations have provided an environment probably not to be found anywhere else in the United States, if, indeed, in the whole world.

There is a genial comradeship among the members of the Club which eliminates formality without lessening appreciation for distinguished achievement. The Club's meetings are never lacking in humor. No better insight into the Club and the satisfactions enjoyed by its members could be afforded than the song "Circus Maximus," written by Mr. William E. Stark, Club Secretary, which was submitted a few seasons ago in a competition for a Club song. While Mr. Stark's song did not win the contest it met with general favor:

THE CIRCUS MAXIMUS

(Tune: "Mandalay")

At a corner of the fairway, just as Interlachen bends,
At the spot where Webster crosses and, as well, Old England ends,
There's a most magnetic Mecca; to it all the faithful throng.
You can see the crowd converging. Grab your cane and come along.

Grab your cane or take a bus
To the Circus Maximus,
Hear the notions of the noted, not to say notorious.
Appetite omnivorous,
Ev'ry theme is grist to us.
Though the pow-wow settles nothing, how we hanker to discuss!

Can you see the gray-haired geezer sitting in the second row?
An emeritus professor since he quit a year ago.
He is typical of many, in Who's Who and Ph. D.
All alike? Beneath the surface, they're as varied as can be.

A is taciturn and grave;
B can stamp about and rave;
C is leery of the breakers, D delights to ride the wave.
Some are wedded to the arts;
Others worship spades and hearts;
There are well adapted actors for a multitude of parts.

What's the subject for discussion? Who's the speaker, anyway?

Winter Park wants its young people to have a Youth Center which will be in keeping with the spirit of the times.

The young people are showing a commendable spirit in taking on their part of the job, and the community should back them up.

When he's had his thirty minutes—watch the clock and don't delay—
Shut him up and give the rest of us a chance to have our say,

Horticulturists maintain
That a fair amount of rain
And a lib'ral dose of sunshine are necessities for grain;
But the expert, whom you know,
Will proceed at length to show
That a fertilizer's what you need to make the grasses grow.

If we ask our fellow members where their lives originate,
The replies, when tabulated, mention almost ev'ry state.
If the place of education and of practice are our care,
The locale becomes terrestrial; we've just been everywhere.

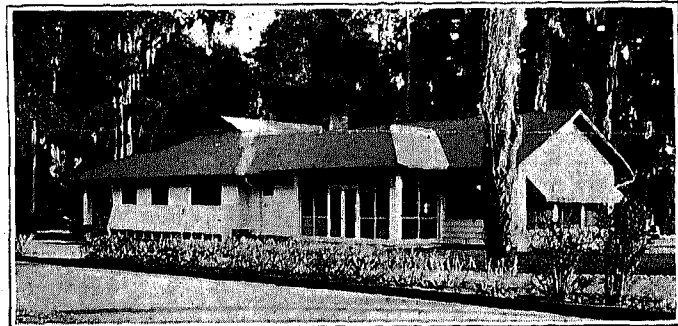

Brahmins born to Beacon Hill,
Macs whose speech is Scottish still,
Nabobs from the banks of Gotham, Engineers from Toonerville.
Surgeons who have sheathed their knives,
Missionaries all their lives,
Diplomats, musicians, bishops: they collect by fours and fives.

Homogeneous? Well, hardly! Homo sapiens? Perhaps.
The wisdom of each single individual has gaps,
But a pool of our resources shows encyclopedic scope;
Maybe YOU don't know the answer but your neighbor does, we hope.

Hyper-short to super-tall,
Raven locks to none at all,
From the contour of a bean-pole to the outline of a ball.
Education: all degrees,
Bachelors to LL.D.'s
With a small percent of fellows from the T-R-A-D-E's.

When we close our northern houses, shut the valves and drain the traps,
What unique exhilaration! Now we'll shed our winter wraps,
Chuck the rubbers, hide the ear-laps, lie immersed in solar rays.
Yes, but foremost in the picture, months and months of pow-wow days!

All together, raise the song!
Let's rejoice that we belong
To a band of youthful spirits, wide awake and going strong.
Never stop to count the years;
Let's forget our timid fears,
As we stimulate each other, now with voice, again with ears.

UNIVERSITY CLUB

It is doubtful whether there exists anywhere so unique an organization as the men's University Club of Winter Park. In this Club there are gathered eminent men, largely but not entirely college graduates, from practically all the professions and many of the business activities of this country. Of the over 450 members about one quarter are listed in Who's Who in America, and many of the others have been so successful that they are to be found in the lists of leaders in their occupations.

To its members the Club is invaluable. It brings to the older ones who have retired from active work the mental stimulation and friendly associations that are so necessary to active minds. To the younger members who are still in active service it offers association with those who have reached substantial achievement in many fields of endeavor.

On two afternoons a week there are "Pow-wows", consisting of an hour's program of speaking and discussion, and twice a month evening lectures follow the business meetings. These meetings include dinners and other refreshments, and there are also social affairs to which the ladies are invited.

At the present time the Club is deep in plans for a new club-house, since the membership has outgrown its present quarters. The Building Committee estimates the cost of land, building and equipment at $55,000, and subscriptions in cash and pledges have already passed $43,000. It is hoped that conditions in regard to building, as well as the completion of the fund, will make it possible to undertake building operations this summer or fall.

The Club is increasingly making efforts to serve the community at large as well as its own members. Since 1943 it has had a Student Aid Fund from which help is given to deserving students who are trying to obtain a college education. Twice this winter it has opened its evening meeting to the public, once for an address by Leo Cherne, and more recently for one by Sam Higginbottom. The attendance at these meetings showed the interest of the community in such opportunities.

Of the Club's contributions to the community, however, probably the most important has been its influence in bringing desirable families to Winter Park and Orlando. Very often expectation of membership in the University Club is the determining factor in a man's choice of this section for his residence, and, fortunately, the women of a family are equally appealed to by the advantages of the Woman's Club.

A very important contribution to the community is now under consideration. A generous member of the Club has offered to help substantially in financing a Club project for Winter Park. The officers and a special committee are investigating the possibility of joining the existing movement for providing a community center for the Negroes, taking as the Club's particular interest provision for a club of colored men who will work for better inter-racial relations and better conditions in the colored section. It is hoped that the University Club will set up permanent arrangements for cooperation between its members and the colored group, with good results not only in this community, but with possible influence toward similar action in other towns and cities.

AMONG WARRIORS revealed a personality rarely charming. If she wins the hearts of her listeners as she won everybody she met on her travels they will be raving about her when they leave.

I found her book unsurpassed by any other correspondent's work I had read. It reveals illuminating facts about people high and low, powerful and unimportant, all kinds and conditions of men, in the many countries she reached. Her great family name introduced her favorably to rulers and generals, to artists and writers, to the great and near-great. Her special powers of observation and sympathy resulted in vivid pictures described with fine literary skill. The fact is that this winsome lady inherited genius from both her parents, genius which has taken the form not of scientific discovery but of a conquering personality. A lecture informed by that personality is sure to be powerful.

There will be only one difficulty as to the lecture. One hour or a little more will not be enough to tell a tenth of what she might say. The audience will want more—a good state of mind to leave. (Editor's note—Eve Curie will speak on "France and the Post-War World" as the closing event in the Town Hall Series, March 18.)

FREEDOM OF SPEECH AT UNIVERSITY CLUB

Last Tuesday's pow-wow brought out many vigorous expressions of opinion on the subject of "Freedom of Speech and Opinion" at the University Club. James F. Hosc, leading the discussion, cited the Amendment providing for freedom of speech and directed attention to the procedure of the Thomas Committee in its investigations into un-American activities. Oliver K. Eaton stated that the Amendment did not create any new right but prohibited Congress from making any law "abridging the freedom of speech or of the press," thereby confirming the continuance of what had been accepted as freedom of speech. Royal W. France pointed out that the Thomas Committee did not permit a witness to have a lawyer nor cross-examination as in a court of law. The discussion led into the rights of Communists to freedom of speech and this in turn to a denunciation of Communists as agents working for the political interest of the Russian Government.

Professor Peritz succinctly described the settlement of a difference of opinion between the Baalites and the Jahvists on Mount Carmel by fire and pointed out that through the course of history man has been obliged to accept the rule of force, but that only by resort to reason can true judgments be arrived at. John Martin made a vigorous denunciation of Russian ideology and its state terrorized by force.

Mr. Hosc brought in at the close that there was equal danger in the seizure of power by a rightist minority as by a leftist minority.

MR. STEPHEN BOWEN

Mr. Stephen Bowen, 78, of Boston, Mass., died Tuesday at the Virginia Inn, where he had been a winter guest for many seasons. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Atherton Loring, Jr., Duxbury, Mass., and by three grandchildren. He was a member of the University Club of Winter Park, also the University Clubs of Boston and New York and the Algonquin Club of New York.

The Junior Flower Show will be held next Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. in the Elementary School Auditorium, corner of Park and Comstock Avenues. Blue ribbon winners will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday at the Winter Park Garden Club's annual Flower Show at the Woman's Club. DEAN EDMONDS TELLS OF HIS BIRMINGHAM WORK

It was an account of a rich stewardship, told with unvarnished but sympathetic realism which the University Club heard last Saturday night from fellow member, Henry M. Edmonds, who spoke on "My Work in Birmingham." Dean Edmonds, whose sermons were a never-failing source of inspiration during his several years at Knowles Memorial Chapel, had come back to Winter Park for a brief visit from the big industrial city of Alabama where he had formerly held a pastorate and filled an important role as a social counselor. He is now re-established in this work on an even wider scale than formerly, including not only personal interviews, but radio, public addresses and a newspaper column. His recital of the family problems in which he was almost always able to bring about some improvement was a human document that would have supplied Dickens or Balzac with material. His fellow members of the Club paid Dean Edmonds a tribute by rising at its close.

RE-DEDICATION OF ST. MARGARET MARY CATHOLIC CHURCH

The re-dedication of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church last Sunday was an occasion of great interest not only to the congregation but to the whole community. At a ceremony of impressive dignity His Excellency, the Most Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, Auxiliary Bishop, of the Diocese of St. Augustine, celebrated the Mass, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Abbot Francis, Lord Abbot of St. Leo's Abbey; the Rev. Father Daniel Hegarty, priest at St. Mary Margaret; the Rev. Father John Love of the Chancery Office, St. Augustine, and the Rev. Father John Fitzpatrick, St. James Church, Orlando.

Last February, on Ash Wednesday, the church was almost destroyed by fire. Sunday's re-dedication was of a practically new edifice which rose from the ashes of the destroyed church.

H. W. Barnum, a resident of Winter Park for 30 years and a pioneer member of St. Margaret Mary, was the master of ceremonies. He told of coming to Winter Park in 1917 when there were two Catholics in the town and how now the rolls of the church showed 703.

Praises were heaped on Father Hegarty by Winter Park's Mayor B. R. Coleman, George Phillips, president of the Holy Name Society and general chairman of Sunday's events; Mrs. Carl Cooling, president of the Catholic Woman's Club; Leonard Bumby,

SHAKESPEARE READINGS AT VIRGINIA INN

Kathryn Collier Bodkin, charming Shakespearean actress, will open her series of six successive Tuesday afternoons next Tuesday, January 18th, with "Hamlet." Mrs. Bodkin says, "I will treat the whole play from the human and dramatic aspects, rather than the academic—and also, I shall endeavor to emphasize some of the scenes and speeches which have, of necessity, been left out, in the movie version."

These delightful occasions will be held in the Lounge of the Virginia Inn from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock, followed by an informal tea for members of the group. All those wishing to become a member for the entire six lectures should have their applications in by Monday to Dorothy Lockhart, address, Winter Park.

Edwin Granberry, prize winning author, playwright and professor of creative writing at Rollins College will introduce Mrs. Bodkin at her opening lecture.

TOWN HALL SERIES OFFERS FAMOUS TRAPP FAMILY OF SINGERS

America's favorite musical family, the renowned and colorful Trapp Family Singers, will give a concert in Winter Park High School Auditorium on Friday evening, Jan. 21st at 8:15 as the second attraction in the Town Hall Series, presented by Dorothy Lockhart. This is the tenth anniversary tour of this extraordinary ensemble of singers and musicians whose annual visits have become welcome events in dozens of American cities.

Presenting their programs of classic art songs, appealing folk-songs and rare church music, the Trapps have been responsible for the revival and popularity of such old instruments as the recorder and the blockflute upon which they will perform here.

The Rev. Franz Wasner, who was chaplain to the Trapp family in their old home in the Austrian Tyrol before the war, is now the director of this ensemble. All of

LELAND STOWE SAYS SOVIET CRISIS NEED NOT RESULT IN WAR

Leland Stowe, noted war correspondent, opened Dorothy Lockhart's Town Hall Series Tuesday night and gave the large and attentive audience a very encouraging view in his address on "The Soviet Crisis." We need a calm discussion of relations with the Russians, said Mr. Stowe, and even if we are disappointed after three years of fruitless negotiation we must not be led into any rash assumption that we must sooner or later fight them. He excoriated the view expressed by some "keyhole columnists" that if we had a war with Russia and won it quick we "would be better off." "Any war is suicidal," declared Mr. Stowe. "We would be the biggest losers as we are the only great nation that has anything to lose. Capitalism could not survive."

Salient features of Mr. Stowe's address: War is not inevitable; the Russians are known to have overplayed their hand in Germany and alienated popular feeling; they have suffered a serious defeat in prestige matched by the success of the "air-lift" which demonstrates convincingly our tremen-

BUNDLING COMEDY AT ANNIE RUSSELL THEATRE OPENS TUESDAY NIGHT

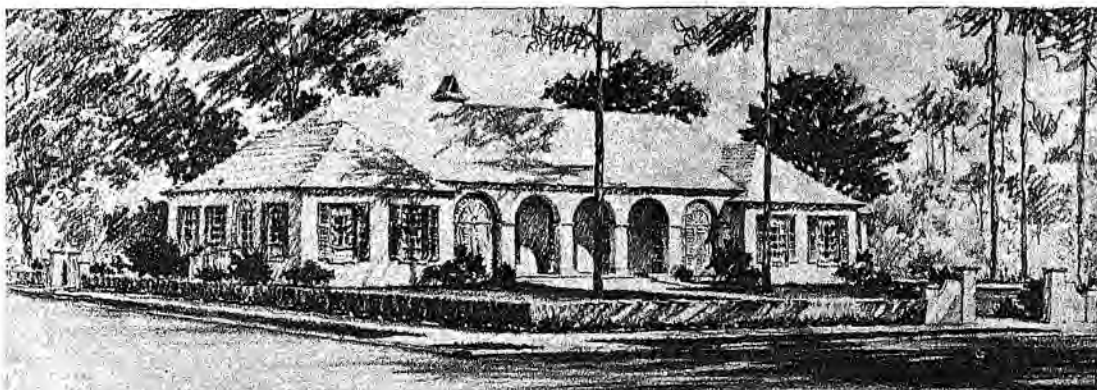

The charming comedy "Pursuit of Happiness," the second production of the season at the Annie Russell Theatre will open Tuesday, January 18 after a special performance the preceding evening for a selected audience. The play will run through January 22 with a special matinee performance on that date.

Produced first at the Westport playhouse, Westport, Conn., "Pursuit of Happiness" was produced in New York the fall of 1933 and became an immediate success. Written by Armina Marshall and her husband Lawrence Langer, the famous executive director of the Theatre Guild, it became known as the "bundling play" since this is one of the themes amusingly dealt with. A movie version was later filmed and plans are being made at present to include a musical version on the proposed schedule for next year's season in New York.

The story involves a young Hessian soldier who deserts the English forces so that he might join the American army and later become a citizen of this country. Placed on parole with a New England family whose young daughter soon falls in love with him, the soldier finds himself unable to comprehend the inconsistencies of American life without extremely amusing mishaps.

The Rollins production stars a student cast of eleven under the direction of Wilbur Dorsett. The cast includes Ranny Walker, Cynthia Crawford, Nan Van Zile, Sidney Lanier, Gerald Honaker, J. B. Bartlett, Sam Burchers, Margy Mountcastle, Corky Scarborough, Bob Elman and Dick Preu. Sets are being designed and built by Dick Verigan, costumes by Dick Hill, with Cameron McCardell as stage manager.

Tickets for the production may be procured at the box office in the afternoons from 2 to 5 or on the evenings of the production.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Goodwin are at their winter residence on Alabama Drive, having arrived from Hartford several days ago. Mrs. Goodwin is the daughter of Dr. George A. Harlow, of Barron Hall.

Mrs. John W. Howell of Richmond Road entertained Miss Lisa von Borowsky of Brooksville, Fla., of the Executive Board of the Florida Audubon Society while she was here attending the 49th meeting of the society.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Wyands, of Palmer Avenue, have their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gray and little daughter, Penny, of Old Town, Maine, with them for a three weeks' visit. Mr. Gray's father is head of the famous canoe factory at Old Town. Mr. and Mrs. Wyands visited Miss Marion Peasley last spring and were so charmed with Winter Park that they immediately set about looking for a house to buy. In less than a week they had purchased the beautiful house and grounds on Lake Maitland formerly owned by the James Lee Wells family. Mrs. Wyands and Miss Peasley were classmates at St. Margaret's School, Waterbury, Conn.

The many friends of Mrs. William C. Bowers, were delighted to see her out attending some of the festivities of the week after her illness which has lasted through the month of February.

Winter Parkians are again reminded that they have a better chance of securing membership in the Civic Music Association Concert Series of 1949-50 if they take pen in hand this very moment and write out their checks at $6.00 for each membership and send their application to the Secretary, 309 East Livingston Ave., Orlando. Read the announcement on page 10.

LADIES' NIGHT—WINTER PARK UNIVERSITY CLUB February 19, 1949

The following verses are quoted from a poem composed and read by Dr. Eugene R. Shippen, on the occasion of a recent Ladies Night at the University Club.

Dr. Shippen's poetical effusions are always a contribution to the hilarity of such events and have evoked the suggestion that he be suitably honored with the title of Poet Laureate of Winter Park.

We welcome you, ladies, confessedly dear,
All dolled-up and hair-do'd to date.

We'll try to behave ourselves while you are here,

Extravagant darlings! You know how to spend.

We have to, we meekly admit. We claim we're the head of the family,—nay!

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB AND ROSTER OF NEW MEMBERS

The new clubhouse of the University Club of Winter Park which has taken its place as a new center of community and cultural activity and given the Club opportunity for the expansion of its activities and membership.

A new comer to Winter Park, driving in from the North, notices a handsome building, set well back from the street with an attractive landscaped frontage. Perhaps he is curious enough to drive into an extensive parking area at the rear, and fortunate enough to find a person who can answer his questions.

"This is a fine building. What is it?" "The new clubhouse of the University Club." "Oh! One of those exclusive, expensive clubs for the upper brackets." This makes the informant smile. "Exactly the opposite. One of the cardinal principles of this club is to keep the dues low enough to enable any qualified man to become a member, regardless of the state of his pocketbook." "Indeed! What are the dues and the initiation fee?" "No entrance fee, dues ten dollars a year." "Impossible! How can such a plant be run on that plan? Big endowment?" "Oh, no. Listen and I'll explain."

"You may be thinking of a club of about a hundred members. With that number, each would have to pay at least sixty dollars a year, but we already have well over five hundred members. As the Club continues to grow and we gradually pay off the mortgage, we expect income from dues to meet the full operating cost. In the meantime, expenses which cannot be covered by dues are met by voluntary contributions."

"More than five hundred members in this little city! I can hardly believe it." "It is surprising, even to those who have been members since the Club was started, fourteen years ago, by about twenty college men. The fact is that this area has become a Mecca for men from all parts of the country who have retired from their active careers. The climate is an important factor, but still more significant is the cultural atmosphere surrounding Rollins College and enriched by the programs and personalities of the University Club itself. The majority of the members are retired men who, taken as a whole, have been everywhere in this and other countries and who have worked in almost every kind of occupation. Some are persons of national or even international reputation. Besides these older men, the membership includes many who are still active in the professional and business life of this area. Although the neighboring city of Orlando has a university club of a different type, some seventy of its residents belong to our club."

"That is all very interesting; now may I see the inside of the building?" Passing through the entrance hall, with a small office and a spacious coat-room on one side and a ladies' room and store-room on the other, the visitor enters a large, high-ceilinged auditorium seated with folding chairs and provided with a platform and reading-desk. A microphone and amplifiers suggest the purpose of the room. At the rear, connected with the main room by wide doors, are a library and a conference room.

"This does not look like any men's club that I have ever seen; no lounging rooms, no billiard tables, no bowling alleys, no dining room, no bar; just a big lecture room and a library. What does the club do to attract so many members?" "If you remember the composition of the membership, I think you will understand. Mutual association of so many men of such wide and varied experience is agreeable and stimulating, especially to those who, after a very exacting professional life, now have time to enjoy leisurely contact with others whose experience has been quite different from their own. We learn to know each other and to appreciate each other by the give-and-take of conversation, by listening to a member as he speaks on a subject in his special field, by questions and discussions on the topic."

The Club has two principal kinds of meetings, first the regular meetings, every two weeks from early November to early April, at which business is transacted and the chief interest is an address by an eminent speaker; secondly, the so-called "powwows, which, I think, have be-

THE UNIVERSITY CLUB AND THE COMMUNITY

The University Club has brought together a large number of able men whose combined experience covers a great part of the world and a wide range of occupations. The enjoyment and stimulus afforded to its members by such an association is easy to understand and is evidenced by the rapid growth during sixteen years of existence to its present membership of nearly seven hundred.

This mutual benefit within the organization is of course one of its purposes but the charter states two others: one to give financial help when needed to enable promising students to pursue their education; the other "to share with the community such benefits as prove desirable." This last purpose began to command the attention of the officers of the Club when the prospect of a new clubhouse suggested possibilities for service to the public. The problem is still and will continue to be unsolved, always open to improvement. Thus far, three types of service have been offered: Addresses, forums, and exhibits.

At our regular meetings we hear many fine addresses and occasionally something so outstanding that it ought to reach a wider audience. Sometimes the speaker is invited to give his lecture before other organizations. At other times the Club announces an "open meeting" when the speech will be repeated for the benefit of the public. Examples of this type of service are Dr. Widmer Doremus' paper, "On Being Married," a choice bit from the program of two years ago; Rabbi Morris Lazon's address of last year entitled "Mr. Rabbi," and during the current season the reading of "The New England Yankee," a paper written for the Club by the late William Trufant Foster, and an explanation of semantics with the title "Do We Know What We Are Talking About?" by Dr. James F. Hosc.

This is the third year of the Club's program of "open forums" on topics of general importance. The series opened in November with a panel discussion on Foreign Affairs by Representative (now Senator) George Smathers, Walter Duranty, noted foreign correspondent, Edward Ray, editor, and James F. Hosc, educator. An address in January by Mr. Duranty on the question, "Is China Shackled to Russia?" drew an attendance beyond the proper capacity of the clubhouse. Then a few days ago, we had another panel discussion led by Dr. Louis Schulz, Rabbi Morris Lazon, and Dean Theodore S. Darrah. This

FLORIDA SYMPHONY PLAYS TONIGHT IN WINTER PARK

Winter Park at last has the opportunity of playing host to Conductor Yves Chardon and the new Central Florida Symphony Orchestra which has thrilled concert goers and won the acclaim of critics earlier this season at its three performances in Orlando.

Last night those Winter Park music lovers who have not been able to attend the out-of-town concerts were given the opportunity to hear at first hand what Mr. Chardon has accomplished in a few short weeks of rehearsals. It was apparent that they agreed with the critics who maintain that the new symphony could only be brought to its present state of excellence by a man who possesses the qualities of a drillmaster with the keen sensitivity of an outstanding artist and the lofty purpose of high musical ideals.

Tonight, Friday, Feb. 23, at 8:30 p.m., the Central Florida Symphony will again appear at the Winter Park High School Auditorium to present a duplicate concert of the one given last evening. It includes the Couperin-Milhaud

THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF WINTER PARK

Winter Park Woman's Club

The new officers and members of the executive board of the Winter Park Woman's Club seem determined to surpass, if possible, the excellent accomplishment of their predecessors. It will be very difficult, however, to produce a more delightful entertainment for the members than that presented on Thursday of last week by Mrs. George Trumbull Ladd, of Winter Park, with her rare collection of Japanese treasures, most of which were presented to her and her late husband, a professor in Yale University, who was invited by the Japanese Government to lecture in the Universities of that country. Mrs. Ladd's large audience was intensely interested in her personal reminiscences of the Empress, and of the highly cultured officials and artists with whom she came in contact, as well as in her charming descriptions of the beautiful paintings, embroideries, furniture, fabrics, and curious ornaments which were exhibited. The lecture was followed by a reception which enabled the members and their guests to meet Mrs. Ladd informally. On Friday, the 28th, the regular meeting of the club was held, followed by a reception for the recently elected officers, with the outgoing officers and Mrs. Blackman, former State President, and Mrs. List, Mrs. Ward, and Mrs. Dick, former presidents of the club, in the receiving line. It was much regretted that Mrs. Oesterling, the outgoing President, because of a cold was unable to receive with Miss Salmon, the new President. The large and attractive room was beautifully decorated, and the Wester Trio furnished a pleasant musical background for the occasion. Mrs. Sam Goss and Mrs. Gordon Jones presided over the refreshment table, serving coffee and cakes. The new Executive Board was announced as follows: President, Miss Loretta Salmon; First Vice-President and Chairman of Social and Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Gordon Jones; Second Vice-President and Chairman of Finance Committee.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF WINTER PARK

For thirty years the Woman's Club of Winter Park has been at the forefront of the community's social and cultural life. Its attractive building located at the center is probably in more constant use than any other. Built in 1922 it represents the loyalty and active support of a membership of over 500 women.

The Woman's Club has six outstanding department — International Relations, Music Study, Art and Literature, Home Economics and Civics.

The first Flower Show in Florida was held at the Winter Park Womens' club under the auspices of the Civics department and so great was the interest that the Winter Park Garden club was formed and serves as a sister-organization. The monthly meetings of the Garden club and its annual flower shows are held at the Woman's club.

One of the most important projects that the Woman's Club undertakes each year is raising and administering a Scholarship fund, the purpose of which is to help worthy young women to obtain a higher education.

For about eight years this work has been successfully carried on by a Scholarship committee whose chairman is chosen for a term of two years by the President of the Club. Members of the Club give generously to the Scholarship fund and a certain amount is set aside in the budget for the purpose of establishing a permanent loan fund.

Young women may apply for financial help and, if they give promise of scholarship and leadership, they are given help with the understanding that the money is to be returned at some future time convenient to them and without interest. In this way it is hoped that the fund may gradually become self-perpetuating.

Students at Rollins and at the Florida State College for Women have been helped in the past. This year the Club is giving assistance to a young woman at the latter institution and for the first time help will probably be given to two colored young women, graduates of the Hungerford School, who are studying at Florida A. & M. and Tuskegee Institute, respectively.

The college records of the Scholarship students are followed with great interest by the Club which is proud of the achievements of girls already helped. Any contributions will be gratefully received by the Scholarship committee which consists of Miss Mary E. Cramer, chairman; Miss Isabelle

P. Coffin, Mrs. B. M. Davis, and Mrs. Carl F. Langlas.

Officers of the Club

The membership of the club now numbers over five hundred. Present officers include: Pres., Mrs. Alexander B. Morgan; 1st vice pres., Mrs. Roy B. Verdery; 2nd, Mrs. S. A. Weissenburger; 3rd, Miss Margaret Moore; recording secy., Mrs. S. H. Williams; corresponding secy., Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell; treas., Mrs. Charles H. MacDowell; asst. treas., Mrs. W. W. Wolff. MR. GARD SAYS ITALIANS DO NOT WANT WAR

"The Italian common people," Mr. Homer Gard stated firmly in his sitting-room at the Seminole Hotel, "do not want war with Ethiopia or any other country! They were already taxed to the limit before this conflict, unable to make any profit in national trade. But Mussolini with an almost bankrupt nation and a dissatisfied populace on his hands, had to go to war to retain his power. Once he has Ethiopia, Italy will do no more nor less with it than with Italian Somaliland."

Mr. Gard, one of the forty-two directors of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce and sole owner-publisher of The Hamilton Journal and The Hamilton Daily News, Hamilton, Ohio, traveled this past summer in Italy. Curious to know the opinions of the Italian people, he questioned waiters, tradesmen, the men in the

The fourth engagement in the Tuesday Evening Course at the Congregational Church will be a Recital at 8 o'clock, Feb. 4th, by the College Faculty Trio, Gretchen Cox, violin, Leonard Krupnick, cello, and Helen Moore, piano.

Those who have heard these talented musicians will appreciate the opportunity for a very enjoyable musical evening.

Miss Cox began her musical studies at a very early age, receiving her training with such world-famed artists as Bendix, Spiering-Jacobsohn, Gordon and Sametini. Miss Cox came to Rollins in 1925. Her playing has won admiration wherever she has appeared.

The Jacksonville Journal said of her: "Miss Cox is a violinist whose interpretations have rare and original charm. She is sure and true in attack, and her technique is fine. She plays with the enjoyment in

Members and guests of the Poetry Society of Florida were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton Holt at the first meeting of the season on Saturday afternoon, January 25th.

"Amy Lowell, A Chronicle," a recent publication by S. Foster Damon, was reviewed by Jessie Rittenhouse Scollard, whose personal acquaintance with the eccentric leader of the Free Verse movement gave opportunity for authoritative criticism and emphasis on the essentials in her career.

As a background to her subject, Mrs. Scollard described the free verse era from its start in 1912,

ZIMBALIST AT ANNIE RUSSELL THEATRE

She organized the Professional Artists Series and brought here some of the leading celebrities of the time.

DR. CHALMERS' EULOGY FOR KING GEORGE V

"King George was not one of England's great kings but he was one of the best!" said Dr. Chalmers, in opening his lecture Monday. "If, during the reign of George the V, there had been a man of Hitler's temperament, or Mussolini or Roosevelt on the throne of England in those precarious and anxious years, the crown might have tipped a bit! His death has done much for world peace. There has even now come a message from Mussolini bearing the sympathy of

THE WINTER PARK FLOWER SHOW

It was indeed, a kindly whim of the Weatherman to give to the Winter Park Garden Club two such lovely days for their Eleventh Annual Flower Show, when skies lowered and rain poured both before and after. As a result, there was a probably record-breaking attendance, with over 1300 present. People were there from many other towns in the state, a number of women of importance in Garden Club circles, among them including Mrs. M. M. Parrish, President of the Florida Federation, Mrs. Fred Borland, the Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Harry Griffin, Recording Secretary, and Mrs. Charles Morris, Past Recording Secretary. Mrs. Waldo Cummer, one of the judges of arrangements, is a committee chairman of the Federation, while the local club has two members, Miss Grace Edwards and Miss Ethel Enyart, who are on the executive board, making a very good showing for the State Federation.

The Show was held at the Woman's Club, a beautiful building which lends itself graciously to decoration. The stage of Helen Morse Hall, the large assembly room of the Club, simulated the porch of a Spanish house, with tall, graceful arches across the front erected under the direction of Mr. Gamble Rogers, the well known architect. Through them could be seen potted palms, crotons, a great jar of papyrus, effective metal furniture which was lent by Mr. R. G. Coffman of Ye Olde Forge, Orlando, with bowls of cut flowers and callas from the gardens of Mr. Ben Green, Fairvilla grower, the whole grouped to make an attractive room. In front and below the stage were large, scarlet azaleas and palms, lent by Mr. M. J. Daetwyler, of the Superior Nurseries, Orlando. The entire center and north side of this room was occupied by the horticultural specimens and the arrangements grouped at the right of the stage, the soft, pastels of the flowers blending into a charming ensemble.

At the left of the stage was the educational exhibit arranged under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence White, each specimen carefully labelled with the common and botanical name of the plant. Leaves of different palms made an interesting study in silhouette on the stucco walls. Many of the plants, which included both familiar and unusual shrubs and flowers of Florida, were lent by Mr. Paul Philipps, of Orlando, and by Mr. M. B. Foster, of Tropical Arts, who also showed a striking collection of succulents, their effect enhanced by a background of clever watercolor paintings of blooming plants of similar character. Near the educational exhibit, Mrs. George Bahrt had a display of Florida wild

She has made appearances as guest artist in Daytona and Orlando, and one of her most successful being with the Friday Musical Symphony Orchestra of Jacksonville with Burnet C. Regarding this appearance the Florida Times Union made the comment: "Probably the most enjoyable number on the program

WINTER PARK AS A HOME OF PAINTERS

In Mr. E. K. Rossiter's article in Winter Park Topics last week he called attention to the fact that our community is attracting an increasing number of painters each year,—to quote him: "It is by good fortune becoming the watershed of painters of prominent note."

The reasons for the gathering of the literary colony in Winter Park are shrouded in the dim past, one might say in the old legal terminology "from time since when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." But the gathering of painters is comparatively recent. And now that the Woman's Club has issued invitations for an exhibition of paintings by our local artists, the matter becomes one for a more or less searching inquiry. We make bold therefore in a spirit of arousing some general comment on the art situation here to broach a few questions to our artist friends, viz: (1) Why did you come here to paint? (2) What do you find here to paint, and (3) What are you doing with what you paint?

Recalling the very definite and intriguing views of Mr. Andre Smith last season on old vs. modern art, we picked on him first for an answer. Here we have it:—Dear Mr. Hammond:

In answer to your questions I would say that like most artists I come to Florida to escape the cold. From my studio window in Maitland I can look out at orange trees instead of snowdrifts.

As for the available material, this section of Florida has no doubt as much paintable subject matter as any other; it depends entirely on what an artist is looking for.

The "American Scene" around Winter Park is very clearly divided by the railroad track into two zones: the snow-white and the jet-black. And from the painter's point of view the choice is about even, if anything, I believe the jet-blacks have it a little over the snow-whites. They live in a combination of brightness and contrasting bleakness that is well worth recording; and among the negroes themselves one finds a mixture of comedy and tragedy that is exceptionally dramatic and far more impressive than what the snow-white population has to offer.

The white side of the track, like the rest of the world, is divided into the rich and the poor, those who must live with economy, play shuffleboard instead of golf, and move about their daily adventures

ROLLINS MARCHES ON

Who can doubt the truth of the slogan "Rollins Marches On" when the President of the United States and the First Lady of the Land come at the psychological moment to add glory and lustre to the lusty young college on the banks of Lake Virginia?

Whether the "Progress Fund" totals up its objective of $300,000 or falls much short of it, there can be only one answer to the future of Rollins.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will honor the college and Winter Park by their presence at a convocation in Knowles Memorial Chapel on Saturday morning, March 21st, when an honorary degree will be awarded to him and the Algernon Sidney Sullivan medallion to Mrs. Roosevelt.

"THE GUARDSMAN" TO OPEN ANNIE RUSSELL SERIES

After the lectures of the past week Winter Parkians are to have a variety of entertainment in the coming production of Molnar's famous comedy, "The Guardsman" which opens the Annie Russell Series at the theatre Friday and Saturday evenings, January 21st and 22nd. A cast of popular and competent favorites has been chosen by Dorothy Lockhart, director of the Annie Russell Company, including: Julie Trowbridge, George C. Holt, Ernest Kilroe, Blanche Bloch, Frances Kilroe, Rebecca Coleman Holt, and Henry Jacobs, of DeLand.

In "The Guardsman" Molnar deals with clever strategy employed by a jealous husband to hold his wife's wandering affections. Both husband and wife are popular, temperamental box-office favorites in Vienna, where the matinee-idol husband plays the most important role of his colorful career by impersonating a Guardsman of the Russian army to test

The Poetry Society will meet for the first time this season on the afternoon of January 29th at President Holt's house on Interlachen Avenue. "CHINA SUFFERS FOR PRACTISING PACIFISM"

Dr. Thomas Chalmers pointed out in no uncertain manner at his lecture last Tuesday evening on the "Chinese Situation" that China was suffering because she had practised the arts of peace, a policy that many people in our own country have been trying to make us follow.

"What is it to us, you ask, if the Chinese are conquered by the Japs? I will answer that the United States is going to be hurt the hardest of all nations."

Dr. Chalmers said that when an outcry is made in this country that sixty families are running the rest of the population, what will it be to have five families of Japan's tycoons regimenting the industry and power of China's 450,000,000? The possibility of a forty cent-an-hour wage scale would be ridiculous in the face of such competition based on forty cents a day with no chance to unionize.

"Our duty? I don't know, it isn't clear," admitted the speaker.
