

CMST 1545 Communication Foundations

Welcome to Communication Foundations!

We are currently using a textbook called Communicate! The textbook is housed on a text site called MindTap. You will hear the word MindTap often. To help record speeches, Bongo, a video recording tool, is used in this course. Bongo is a video assessment solution in MindTap that lets you record your speeches for instructors to review. It provides helpful insight into your presentation skills. It allows your online instructor to provide time-stamped feedback on your submissions, helping you improve your presentation and communication skills. This site will also be used to record your in-class speeches.

When accessing the actual Bongo assignments, click on the assignment link in BB (Blackboard) to get to your assignments listed on MindTap. Just one click, and you are there!

You are enrolled in the First Day® inclusive access program. Your course materials are now available in digital format through Blackboard, and the cost will be reflected in your student account.
