MESSAGE FROM THE President

I have always needed to own the big decisions in my life and I have always wanted to make the right decision and to have the support and affirmation of my family. As a boy, it was my mother and father I wanted to please. By the time I was 14 I also wanted to please my Father in Heaven. (We, He and I, had been in close communication around my bedtime every night for many years.)

I had seen others pushed into the aisle during the invitation hymn and still others harangued in a way that simply would have held no sway over me; indeed, it would have slowed my response to the Gospel. And, so, I sat alone most Sunday mornings hearing the sermon but thinking about making my own decision and making it the right one.

Our minister, John Crowder, was my father's best friend and, so, I trusted him, but I trusted Him most of all.

Brother Crowder, as I called him, announced he was leaving for a new pulpit one Sunday morning and I knew I wanted him to baptize me before his departure. We had just opened a new church building in Lawrence, Kansas, the one still standing and serving today, and I missed being the first to be baptized in that new worship facility by just one precious soul who preceded me. I was proudly the second to obey the Gospel before my mother and father, my Heavenly Father, and my home congregation, on April 17, 1966.

What a joy it is to remember this life-altering event as we gather in Malibu, April 29 – May 2, for the 71st annual Pepperdine Bible Lectures. My prayer is that as we gather for renewal, we will be stirred to new service of Christ by focusing on the theme, "Enter the Water, Come to the Table."

We look forward to welcoming you to campus as we remember the wonderful things God has done in and through us, along with the amazing things He is continuing to do.

MESSAGE FROM Mike Cope

Neurologist Oliver Sacks describes a memorable patient of his named Jimmy G, whom he calls “the lost mariner.” Sacks discovered that Jimmy—described in a transfer note as “helpless, demented, confused, and disoriented” at the age of 49—had no memory of the previous 30 years.

When they began visiting in 1975, Jimmy was convinced it was 1945. He described his old Navy days in the present tense. Though he had perfect memory from before 1945, amnesia had wiped out everything since.

Sacks wondered, “Is this man’s essence gone? Does he even have a soul?” But then he observed Jimmy during a chapel communion service.

“I was moved, profoundly moved and impressed,” Sacks writes, “because I saw here an intensity and steadiness of attention and concentration that I had never seen before in him or conceived him capable of. I watched him kneel and take the Sacrament on his tongue, and could not doubt the fullness and totality of Communion. . . . He was wholly held, absorbed, by a feeling. There was no forgetting . . . nor did it seem possible or imaginable that there should be; for he was no longer at the mercy of a faulty and fallible mechanism.”

Sacks goes on to claim that Jimmy G, the lost mariner, found himself in communion.

As we gather on the beautiful Pepperdine campus in Malibu on April 29 through May 2, we’re hoping to find ourselves again through exploring the theme “Enter the Water, Come to the Table.”

Much of Christianity’s discussion of baptism and communion focuses on their essentiality. But what happens when we shift the discussion a bit: not just on their essentiality but also on their essence? We may find that these simple acts of immersion and communion can guide us to explore more deeply the themes of gospel, discipleship, community, mission, and eschatology.

We look forward to welcoming you to campus as we worship, study, fellowship—and remember, through the guidance of baptism and communion, the goodness of God through Jesus Christ by the power of the Spirit.

JOHN ORTBERG

Special Pre-Conference

Tuesday, April 29, 2:30 – 3:30 PM

FIRESTONE FIELDHOUSE

John Ortberg is an author, speaker, and the senior pastor of Menlo Park Presbyterian Church (MPPC) in the San Francisco Bay area. His books include, Who Is This Man?; The Life You've Always Wanted; Faith and Doubt; and The Me I Want To Be. He teaches around the world at conferences and churches.

Born and raised in Rockford, Illinois, Ortberg graduated from Wheaton College and holds a master of divinity and doctoral degree in clinical psychology from Fuller Theological Seminary. Prior to joining MPPC, he served as teaching pastor at Willow Creek Community Church in Chicago, Illinois. He is a member of the board of trustees at Fuller Seminary, serves on the board for the Dallas Willard Center for Spiritual Formation, and is a former board member of Christianity Today International.

John Ortberg is married to Nancy, and they have three grown children. He can be followed on Twitter @johnortberg.

WALTER BRUEGGEMANN

The Covenant in All Its Complex Diversity

Wednesday-Friday 2:30-3:15 PM

STAUFFER CHAPEL

These presentations will consider the radicality of covenant as a polity, and the ways in which the traditions of Abraham and Moses function in quite different ways to sustain the people of God. We will reflect on the ancient uses of the covenantal traditions and the implications for our own practices of faith.

Walter Brueggemann is William Marcellus McPheeters professor Emeritus of Old Testament at Columbia Theological Seminary. A past president of the Society of Biblical Literature, he has recently written Disruptive Grace (Fortress Press), David and His Theologian (Wipf and Stock), and The Practice of Prophetic Imagination (Fortress Press).

Before Brueggemann's first lecture, Rick Marrs, Professor of Old Testament and dean of Seaver College at Pepperdine, will teach a class on the influence he (Brueggemann) has had on Churches of Christ.

IAN MORGAN CRON

with Josh Graves

Rock Stars, Jesus, and the Power of U2's Kingdom Agenda

Wednesday-Friday 9:30-10:15 AM

ELKINS AUDITORIUM

In this class, Ian Cron and Josh Graves will explore the theological and cultural meaning of the lyrics and music of U2—arguably the most influential international band since The Beatles. What is it about U2 that has captured the hearts and imaginations of millions of listeners worldwide? What can local churches and nonprofits glean from U2's impact and cultural influence that goes to the deeper nature of Jesus and Jesus' kingdom?

Cron is an author, speaker, Episcopal priest, psychotherapist, and retreat guide.

To introduce others to St. Francis of Assisi, he authored Chasing Francis: A Pilgrim's Tale. Thomas Nelson released Cron's spiritual memoir Jesus, My Father, the CIA, and Me: A Memoir ... of Sorts in June 2011. Publishers Weekly described the book as, "Simultaneously redemptive and consoling with bright moments of humor ... a story chock-full of sacredness and hope." The book was chosen as a featured title in the prestigious Barnes & Noble Discover Great New Writers program.

Cron divides his time between living in Tennessee and Vermont with his wife and three children.

Making Waves

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

Ages 6 months - 11 years old
Tuesday-Friday 1-4:30 PM, 6-9 PM
Pendleton Learning Center
$5 per session

REGISTER ONLINE:
pepperdine.edu/biblelectures

WHAT IS THE THEME THIS YEAR?

Just like the adults, we will be discussing communion and baptism. We will tell the story of Passover to help put the Last Supper in context, as well as many other great biblical stories that fit our theme.

WHAT WILL MY CHILDREN BE DOING?

Toddlers and infants will have a time of singing and a short Bible story, while the others will be divided up into age groups. We will have a group worship time and then rotate through four different rooms, learning Bible stories, acting them out, doing crafts, and playing games.

WHO TAKES CARE OF MY CHILDREN?

Over 40 Pepperdine students staff the Making Waves program. Many have extensive experience creating programs at their home congregations or working with children on mission trips around the world. Every student worker goes through University-sponsored training that certifies them to work with children.

WHAT SHOULD MY CHILD WEAR?

Play clothes! Because our games often take place outside, we recommend providing a jacket or sweatshirt for cooler temperatures.

WHAT ABOUT AFTERNOON NAPS?

Naps are a part of every young child's routine. Sometimes even the older children nap because we play so hard during Making Waves! We have a fully equipped, fully staffed nap room. We recommend bringing a blanket or favorite stuffed animal that might help your child sleep, if you anticipate your child needing to nap. Extra diapers for those little nappers would be helpful too.

WILL SNACKS BE SERVED? WHAT IF MY CHILD HAS ALLERGIES?

We do serve a light snack each day, keeping in mind those children with nut allergies. If your child has allergies, please let us know in the online registration. If you choose to pack a snack for your child, please avoid anything with nuts. For children who are bottle-fed, we encourage you to provide formula for at least two bottles.

I'VE NOTICED THAT THERE IS NO PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN IN THE MORNING. WHAT SHOULD I DO WITH MY CHILDREN?

One of the best things about the Pepperdine Bible Lectures is that you can experience it as a family. With over 36 morning sessions each day, there are a variety of classes that may interest your children. Some families may also choose to enjoy the morning leisurely. For the morning keynote, we will have a packet of activities that coincide with each lecture for children to work on. There are rows of chairs in the back saved for families with young children and a nursing-mother's room is available as well. We are excited to have our families worshipping together.

NEW WORKS BY JACK MAXWELL

SACRED SPACES

Intimate perspectives from recent travels in the United Kingdom and Italy

JACK MAXWELL is a nationally renowned sculptor. His most recent monumental piece, Jacob's Dream, resides on the campus of Abilene Christian University in Abilene, Texas. This inspiring sculpture has become the university's premier signature image. Jacob's Dream is a multilevel, stone and bronze sculptural space within a meticulously groomed garden. Jack's talents are not confined to creating sculpture; he has earned an outstanding reputation as a world-class painter. His current oil paintings concentrate on sacred spaces. These beautiful images are inspired by his extensive travels throughout the British Isles and Italy. He has captured unique perspectives of grand cathedrals and intimate spaces within village churches. Jack Maxwell's work invites us to discover the extraordinary within the ordinary; to inspire our spirits to be still.

IN-DEPTH TRAINING

PREPARE/ENRICH™ CERTIFICATION WORKSHOP (TRAINING FOR PREMARITAL COUNSELING)

Wednesday, 8 AM - 5 PM (break 10 AM - 1 PM)

Cost is $190 per person. Registration is required.

Prepare/Enrich™ is one of the most widely used programs for premarital counseling. It is also used for marriage counseling, marriage enrichment, and dating couples considering engagement. A spouse may share materials and attend the workshop at no additional charge.

Ed Gray, EdD, is director of the master of arts in counseling program at Harding School of Theology in Memphis, Tennessee. He has been a marriage counselor for over 35 years, a professor for 20 years, and a Prepare/Enrich™ Trainer for over 15 years. Gray and wife Rhonda, married 38 years, have three sons and a daughter-in-law.

CONNECTING YOUNG ADULTS AND THE CHURCH (PRACTICAL TOOLS FOR HELPING YOUNG ADULTS RELATIONALLY)

Thursday, 1:30 - 4:30 PM

Cost is $150 per person. Registration is required.

Relationship IQ (rIQ) is designed to fit into your church or academic structure that helps young adults develop healthy and godly relationships while connecting them to the church in meaningful ways. This prepares you to have life-giving conversations with young adults about relationships and faith.

Hannah Parmelee directs Relationship IQ for the Boone Center for the Family at Pepperdine University. She has a MS in marriage and family therapy from Fuller Theological Seminary and is certified in many relationship education programs. She and her husband, Jay, have been married since 2002 and have two daughters.

Friday, 1:30 - 4:30 PM

Registration is preferred. Continuing Education credit will be offered for $30, payable at the door.

As a minister, lay leader or professional therapist, it is often helpful to move couples to a stable place quickly so you can help them work through the issues in their marriage in a calm and peaceful manner. Learn to build love and trustworthiness in couples while giving them the opportunity to learn how to change destructive coping patterns and bring security to their marriage.

Sharon Hargrave is the executive director for the Boone Center for the Family at Pepperdine University in Malibu, California. She is a licensed marriage and family therapist in both California and Texas. She is also the founder of Strong Marriages/Successful Ministries at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, California.

Terry Hargrave, PhD, is a professor of marriage and family therapy at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena, California. He is nationally recognized for his pioneering work with intergenerational families. He has authored numerous professional articles and 11 books including Five Days to a New Marriage with Shawn Stover.

WELCOME TO Pepperdine!

While you are here this week, I hope you will experience God's love as your heart is lifted in worship, as your soul is filled through the gift of community, as your mind is challenged through Spirit-filled teaching, and as your strength is developed while climbing God's beautiful mountain!

Growing in God's love is characteristic of the Pepperdine experience all the weeks of the year, as our community lives into George Pepperdine's dream that this institution would help young men and women build a foundation of Christian character and faith. While you are here, I hope you will get a chance to hear stories of God's power exhibited in the lives of our students, faculty, and staff.

As you fill the spaces that are usually occupied by students—the cafeteria, residence halls, fieldhouse, and classrooms—I invite you to fill this place with prayer for our ongoing commitments to strengthening lives of purpose, service, and leadership. Your partnership and prayers are appreciated.

Blessings

Many of them are working hard to serve you this week, so see if you can spot these friendly faces around campus.

AWP SCHOLAR ADRIAN

A junior AWP scholar from Northwest Church of Christ in St. Petersburg, Florida, Adrian Davis is studying political science and music. Aside from 6-10 hours of piano each week, Adrian is also captain of the Ultimate Frisbee club, an active part of Campus Ministry, and a student worker in the University Church office.

After graduation, Adrian will continue his education with law school, with plans to practice corporate law or serve as internal legal counsel for a company. An interesting fact about Adrian is he has won two different "Most Likely to Be President" awards, and his friends joke about how true it might one day be!

A Fresh Encounter

WELCOME FROM THE CHURCH RELATIONS TEAM

I recently offered to meet a friend at the Heroes Garden to begin a tour of the Drescher Graduate Campus. Even though this visitor had been to campus many times, she had never been to the garden that honors Pepperdine alumnus Thomas Burnett (MBA '95), who perished on United Flight 93, as well as the hundreds of first responders who gave their lives in New York City on September 11, 2001.

As she walked the garden path, she paused at the cauldron of troubled water at the top of the steps, and then crossed the stream that runs the length of the path before it resolves, peacefully, in the infinity pool. The touching tribute and the beauty of the serene setting moved her. It provided her with a fresh perspective of Pepperdine.

There are many such hidden places on our Malibu campus worth visiting. The Biggers Family Courtyard with scripture engraved in stones and a fountain trickling over smooth rocks provides a quiet spot to pray and meditate. The patio adjacent to the community tennis courts at the north corner of Alumni Park is a lovely, private setting for a group picnic under a shady trellis next to rolling hills and stunning ocean views. My personal favorite spot is the point just outside the front of Stauffer Chapel. It seems that you can see eternity from there.

There are dozens of these hideaways around campus. Do you have a favorite? I would encourage you to explore them using the virtual tour on your 2014 Pepperdine Bible Lectures app. I predict that you will find a special place that you never knew was tucked away somewhere on the side of these hills.

Pepperdine's fourth president, William S. Banowsky, in his 1970 speech that dedicated the Malibu campus identified what he called "a spirit of place" that hovers over the 830 acres of this Pepperdine property. The ancient land with vistas of an unending sea provides a perfect setting for a fresh encounter with Aristotle, Plato, and Christ.

As our guest, these special places are yours to enjoy. It is our sincere desire that this "spirit of place" will provide a setting for you to encounter the living Word of God in a new way. Set aside time to quietly meditate and pray. Walk with God along rugged trails all around the campus. Stumble upon the dwelling places of ancient people. Breathe deeply. The sea air is fresh. The environment is filled with life and meaning.

Admittedly, nothing can really eclipse the richness of worship in Firestone Fieldhouse or the great lectures and Bible studies in Elkins auditorium; but do not ignore the quiet invitation of special places on campus and the environment that surrounds it. They, too, are encouraging you to have a fresh encounter with God.

"We follow Jesus into the water to become God-followers..."

EXCERPT FROM John Mark Hicks' book, ENTER THE WATER, COME TO THE TABLE

At one level, Jesus owned the divine mission as his own in this act of surrender. Immersed by John, he surrendered his life to the purposes of God. He pursued those purposes in his ministry. Luke, in fact, correlates the baptism of Jesus and the ministry of Jesus—Jesus is baptized and then he begins his ministry (Luke 3:21-23). At his baptism, Jesus becomes—in a significant sense—a disciple of God as he embraced the mission and ministry of the kingdom. He became a God-follower with a public ministry in the kingdom of God.

At another level, Jesus encountered God in this baptismal moment. Not only was he anointed with power by the Holy Spirit that enabled his ministry, he heard the voice of God. What he heard is important—he is a beloved son in whom God delights. This is a profound declaration of deep joy and love rooted in Psalm 2:7 and Isaiah 42:1 (also 62:4). It is a celebratory word from God as God rejoices over Jesus. Moreover, it is the inauguration of a renewed community—restored Israel. Jesus is the first member, the first fruit of that community.

This is our baptism, too. When we are baptized, we own the divine mission as well. We surrender our will to the divine agenda, to the kingdom of God. We embody the prayer, "Your kingdom come; your will be done." We follow Jesus into the water to become God-followers, disciples of Jesus himself. Baptism is a discipleship marker—both in the life of Jesus and in our lives.

When we are baptized, we also encounter God. The words Jesus heard are not simply for him. They are about us as well. Arising out of the water we have become part of the community that God names "Hepzibah"—the one in whom God delights (Isaiah 62:4). That is our name. We, too, are beloved children of God. The divine blessing voiced at the Jordan River is heard at every baptism.

MEETING GOD ON Zuma Beach

On September 23, 2012, Pepperdine first-year undergrad Zachary Wilson braced himself as he entered the surf near Zuma Beach, lifeguard tower number four. The tide was high and the water that swirled about him was ice cold. Hundreds stood by and watched as the salty seawater swallowed him. It was the last time they would see the Zach Wilson they had once known. Zach had gone to the water's edge that early Sunday morning to die—to put to death a young man who had only known how to live for himself.

"I had thought knowledge of Jesus," Zach says. "I didn't have heart knowledge." Earlier that semester, Zach and 12 other students took a first-year seminar class on spiritual formation taught by the preaching minister of the University Church of Christ, Rich Little. "Rich began to show us who Jesus was. He showed us that Jesus was real and was relevant to every aspect of our lives."

Having grown up in a Christian home in Scottsdale, Arizona, attending Scottsdale Bible Church, Zach knew the books of the Bible, the great Old Testament heroes, the account of Mary and Joseph and baby Jesus. But they were just stories—no more or less real than Tom Sawyer, Abraham Lincoln, or Babe Ruth. "I had no need to believe them in my heart," Zach says.

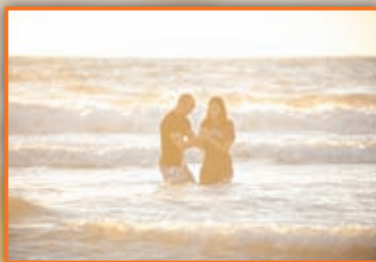

During each class session, Rich taught his students to consider fresh ways to live intentionally for Christ. During his sermons on Sunday, he began teaching about baptism and the importance of publicly declaring your faith as a disciple. For the first time, Zach was listening with his head and his heart. As the Jesus of the Bible story became the living Word of God, Zach knew something must change. He knew that to live as a disciple, the young man he had once been, must be put to death.

On that fall Sunday morning, with his mother Renee, his father Andy, sister Abigail, and brother Joshua, and several hundred members of the University Church of Christ standing on the shoreline, Zach entered the waters off Pacific Coast Highway and gave his life to Christ. "The ocean is a special place to be baptized," Zach says.

"The surf is like God's power.
I felt like I was bathed in the living water of God."

Today, Zach, now a sophomore, says that he has been completely transformed and that his thoughts are fixed on God. He is active in home Bible study on campus and he shares his faith with any who will listen. He left the Zach he once was on the shores of Zuma Beach and emerged from the waters a young man with a new identity. He says, "For the first time, I know who I am."

“Baptism is not magic, a conjuring trick with water. But neither is it simply a visual aid. It is one of the points, established by Jesus himself, where heaven and earth interlock, where new creation, resurrection life, appears within the midst of the old.” – N. T. WRIGHT

“Don’t you know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.” – ROMANS 6:3, 4

“In baptism we lay Christ’s whole life story over the grid of our own life story. We are crucified with him. We are buried with him. We are raised with him. We live with him. In baptism we receive a new identity. We embrace a new guiding vision for our lives, a new story to tell and to live by.” – LEONARD ALLEN

Enter the Water Come to the Table

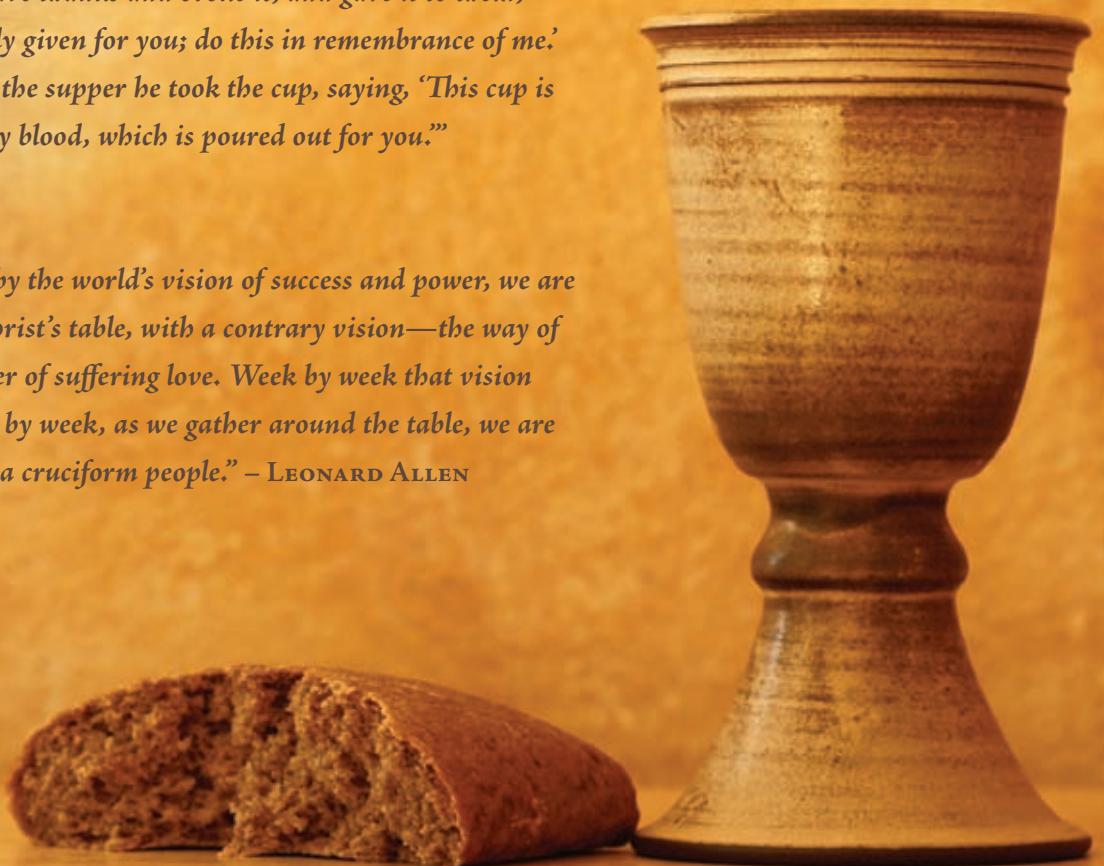

P E P P E R D I N E B I B L E L E C T U R E S

“We do not simply remember a long-since dead Jesus; we celebrate the presence of the living Lord. . . . The Jesus who gives himself to us as food and drink is himself the beginning of God’s new world. At communion we are like the children of Israel in the wilderness, tasting fruit plucked from the promised land. It is the future coming to meet us in the present.” – N. T. WRIGHT

“[Jesus] took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, ‘This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me.’ In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, ‘This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you.’”

– LUKE 22:19, 20

“Hounded constantly by the world’s vision of success and power, we are confronted, around Christ’s table, with a contrary vision—the way of weakness and the power of suffering love. Week by week that vision takes hold of us. Week by week, as we gather around the table, we are fashioned by God into a cruciform people.” – LEONARD ALLEN

A large, light-colored decorative swirl graphic is positioned behind the first stanza of the hymn, extending from the left side of the text area towards the center.

Into the river, I will wade
There my sins are washed away
From the heavens mercy streams
Of the Savior's love for me.

I will rise from waters deep
Into the saving arms of God
I will sing salvation songs
Jesus Christ has set me free.
