Newsletter October 2018

MEETS THE SECOND
SATURDAY OF EACH MONTH
ELKS LODGE
26584 HIGHWAY 18
RIM FOREST, CA

President – Debby Roy

Dear Beautiful Quilters,

I would like to thank you for giving me the chance to be your President for this past year. It was quite a learning experience. I've enjoyed working with many of you and hope to keep advancing my quilting skills through your leadership.

I would like to especially thank Margaret for all the work she has had to do these past few months, and Yolanda for retyping our bylaws and handbook.

We pulled off another successful Quilt Walk under Nancy Novack's leadership. It ran pretty smooth this year. The boutique had record breaking sales. Good job to Linda, Nancy, Margaret and everyone else that donated stuff to sell.

Happy sewing,

Debby

Quilt Auction – Pat Montgomery

Hi everyone. We had a great time at the Auction and Elaine and I want to thank everyone for all their hard work. We are missing the auctioneer cards and was hoping that someone would have the pink or yellow set. Please let us know.

Thanks,

Pat

Quilt Walk – Nancy Novak

Our 10th anniversary of the Blue Jay Quilt Walk is under our belt!

Blue Jay Village looked beautiful with all of our quilts. Other than the wind we had a successful show.

Time to get ready for next year!

ABC (Artful Bra Challenge) gets an A+

It seemed like a lot of work and not much going on and then, all of a sudden, there were twenty-three wonderful bras to display at the Blue Jay Quilt Walk on Saturday, September 26.

It was a lovely display for a lovely day (except for the occasional wind gusts. When does it stop being a gust and become a tornado?).

We would hear people walking by and suddenly saying, “Oh, there they are! They’re back.” This made it all worth it. This, and the letter from the Lunch Lady, separate from this article in the newsletter. Please read it. Now I remember why I have done this for ten years and why women keep decorating bras.

Breast of Show was won by Cheryl Robinson. Cheryl, a Soroptimist has been making bras for seven or eight years and usually makes more than one. This year, she made two and collaborated on another one. Her winning Green Bay Packer themed bra “Go Pack Rack Go” created a bit of confusion as a number of football fans really admired it and then said “No, I can’t buy/vote for it, I’m a Vikings fan!” So be it.

If there had been other awards given this year, the following might have been winners:

And Fanciest Name goes to: Giganticus Floribundicus Boobicus, Or, If this is London, I Must be a Hat.

Cutest: Mammary & Pappary Mouse

Most Festive: Merry Christmas Boobies complete with twinkling lights

Most unusual material: stemware to decorate Boozie Boobies

Most Beautiful: a tie between beautifully hand-embroidered Sacred Heart and Mardi Bra’s beaded, sequined drama and comedy masks.

And the REAL WINNER is YOU for your support of this project. Funds raised at the Artful Bra Challenge (donations, bra purchases, votes) will go to Mountain Communities Hospital for their annual free mammogram program to provide screenings for local women who cannot otherwise afford them. And NO, everyone does not have insurance. Read the aforementioned letter.

Letter: Ode to the Lunch Lady

Artful Bras,

To be eligible to participate in any insurance benefits at the school district, you must work 20 hours per week/ or 4 hours or more per day. A classified lunch lady is allowed to work 3.75 hours per day, this is 15 minutes shy for any eligible health care program. We have come to expect a high degree of judgement any integrity from the school district, especially in regards to the health and well being of the long term employees. With the continued budget problems, and overall lack of interest, it is not likely benefits for yearly mammograms would even be considered for child nutrition workers.

Mountain Community Hospital and the Soroptimists organization have provided mammograms to hundreds of women in the local community who are unable to pay for them. Women like myself.

This Ode to the Lunch Lady is in memory of my mom. Jeanne M Ginnetty. I lost her to breast cancer a the very young age of 63. Please donate this artful bra to the mammogram program.

See you at the quilt walk on September 29, 2018

Sincerely,

Historian – Megan Peacock
