SUNDAY, DECEMBER 6 8 PM

Join us for an evening of beloved Yiddish classics, evoking a world that may feel distant yet remains forever close to the heart. Yitzhak Fried will share these timeless melodies with warmth and depth, offering fresh interpretations that resonate on a personal level. Raised in post-war Austria, he grew up immersed in the rich language and music of Yiddish culture, which continue to shape his performances today. Accompanied by acclaimed pianist Alan Mason—who has performed on stages around the globe—along with Alex Mikhaylovsky on the violin, who has collaborated with many of the leading names in Jewish music, and Evan Kline on percussion, the subtle "salt and pepper" that brings added texture and energy, Yitzhak will guide you through a moving program of songs and stories. The evening will capture both the tender and uplifting moments of life, all gently infused with a touch of humor.
