SUNDAY, JUNE 5 - 8PM
SHOW IN THE PARTY ROOM

SUSAN WINTER
MINOR MIRACLES
A MAJOR MUSICAL CELEBRATION

TICKETS ARE $6 IN THE PARTY ROOM

A transplant from NYC and award winning a cabaret 'maven' is presenting, "Minor Miracles." Susan has appeared in famed NYC venues such as the Algonquin, 54 Below and Rose Hall at Lincoln Center as well as concert venues throughout the metropolitan area. "Minor Miracles," a loving valentine to writers who made a mark on the art of popular song without forsaking the sounds of their rich ancestry, is a show that explores the developments in popular music that sprang from the minor key traditions of Eastern European Jews. Her musical findings include works composed by sons of cantors (George Gershwin, Harold Arlen and Kurt Weill) as well as memorable gems from Jewish emigres in Hollywood, culminating in selections from the next generation who transformed that "minor" motif into rock and roll, easy listening and rhythm and blues. And let's not forget the rich diversity from the Broadway tune-masters.

Steve Leeds

Like many of history's great vocal talents, Steve started singing from an early age. By the time he was in high school he formed his own acapella group called Steve and the Valatones. The Valatones often shared the same bill with performers like Bobby Rydell. Upon being discovered by Cy Coleman when he was 23, Cy signed Steve to a contract and became his personal manager. Cy himself was already a legend and wrote many hit songs for Frank Sinatra and Barbara Streisand. Cy also composed the music for "Sweet Charity" starring Shirley Maclaine for which Steve sang the title track. Tony Bennett, paying Steve the ultimate compliment after catching the show late one night at the Rainbow Room, said to him... "keep singing kid...we need younger guys like you in the business... we need singers that can really sing the great standards".

It was then that he realized that his destiny lay in the world of music.
