

Needlepoint Key Fob Sizing

You can make a key fob any size you like but generally they are 1" to 1 1/4" wide. The length varies, depending on personal preference. Flat key fobs are usually around 4" to 6", although we've finished shorter ones (guys often want really short ones that will fit in their front pocket easily) and longer ones too. The loop key fobs are normally 9" to 10" of stitched canvas (including the plain stitching at each end) and once looped and finished are about 4" to 5". Again, we've finished them a little shorter than that and have also done some that are long enough that the loop will fit over a hand. So just think about where you want to carry the key fob (pocket, purse or hand) and this will give you an idea of what size you would need.

Important:

Approximately 1" of the stitching on each end of the key fob will be covered. Keep this in mind when designing your key fob pattern to avoid having any important parts of your pattern covered.

You may use a binding stitch on your key fob if desired. If you do not use a binding stitch, please add two rows of stitching on the top and two rows of stitching on the bottom of your canvas so that we can fold this over without getting into your pattern.

The flat, square key fobs MUST have a binding stitch all the way around the edge of the design or we cannot finish them.
