History

The Innovative House of Prodigy is an international ballroom house based in Philadelphia, PA. We compete in an underground LGBTQ+ subculture known as the Ballroom Scene. Overall Father Mann (formerly Ebony) dreamed of creating a ballroom house with like minds merging their talents and strengths to build a powerhouse in a community filled with well-established houses. On August 24, 2002, his vision crystallized as The Innovative House of Prodigy. Together with five other co-founders, Mann debuted The Innovative House of Prodigy at the Iconic House of Revlon Ball in New York City, coming in 2nd place for the house with the most trophies. The founding members are all former members of the Iconic House of Ebony, which makes the Iconic House of Ebony the mother house of the Innovative House of Prodigy.

Fun Fact: The House of Manolo-Blahnik is the sister house to the Iconic House of Prodigy due to Icon Founder Jay Blahnik starting the house under Mann's leadership while they were in the Iconic House of Ebony.

Fun Fact: The Houses of Balmain, Herrera, Alpha & Omega, and Supreme Moncler are daughter houses of the Iconic House of Prodigy. These houses are founded by Rodney ex-Prodigy-Balmain, Marco ex-Prodigy-007, Caesar ex-Prodigy-Alpha Omega, and Jacen ex-Prodigy-007. They all started their houses under Mann's leadership in the Iconic House of Prodigy.

Sanction

4. Social Media Behavior

Please be mindful of your behavior on all social media. Social media posts also directly reflect the Iconic House of Prodigy. If your social media activity creates issues for the house, you may be DISMISSED from the house (Depending on the situation). You may not always agree with what other members post on social media, but please be respectful on public forums outside the house group. Examples: Inappropriate Behavior on BIGO; arguing with another Prodigy on social media; etc.

Sanction

1st Offense = Warning 2nd Offense = Dismissal

5. If you are involved in a heated situation with another member and you can no longer handle it, contact your chapter leader/parent. If not, reach out to the Overall Godparents to solve this situation.
6. Prodigy's are allowed to date within the house only if it does not conflict with Prodigy Business. Leaders are not allowed to date, or engage in any form of sexual activity, i.e. flirting, sexting, touching, etc, with a regular member. If either of these situations occur, the member(s) in violation will be dismissed.

7. Prodigies are expected to promote unity in the house and the community. Members are expected to assist other members, whether on a personal, ballroom, or friendship level when needed. We function as one! This notion means that we chant for, and help, one another prepare, no matter the personal situation. We are one family, and we will respect each other.

8. The House of Prodigy is not a big fan of drugs. If you use drugs, please ensure that you are using them wisely. Make sure that the house will not suffer the consequences of your drug use. Use "hard" drugs privately, not during a ball. Alcohol, know your limit! We are not responsible for your drinking behavior, which will become our problem if it affects our house image. Being with friends/family can be a great time but be aware of your surroundings. Violence, (hard) drugs and misuse of alcohol are intolerable in this house and will be dealt with accordingly. If you see or feel that you or a house member is struggling with substance abuse and need help, we are here to help you, not judge you.

If you have problems with the house dress code because of financials or personal reasons, Talk to your chapter leader as soon as possible for POSSIBLE assistance.

11. All members must stay at the table during a ball. We understand that balls are also a great social gathering, but we are there to compete and support our walking members. STAY AT THE TABLE! Anyone caught away from the table during the ball will suffer consequences from the Executive Board. Don't leave the table unsupervised. Leaving the table unsupervised causes uninvited people to sit at our table and profit from your dues. Staying at the table will also avoid any personal belongings being stolen. If you see an uninvited person at our table, please escort him/her/them from our space or have a leader do it if you don't feel comfortable!

Don't forget we show exclusiveness, so everybody cannot sit with us!

Sanctions

14. All members should not be more than 15 minutes late to a house meeting without a valid explanation. However, if any member is going to be more than 15 minutes late or absent, with a valid reason, that member should contact their leader. House meetings are not scheduled around members; these meetings are carefully planned according to all members' schedules. ### Official Rules & Regulations of The Founding Administrative Advisor Board

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board governs the entire board. They must finalize any significant decisions, including approving of opening new chapters, approving new chapter parents, approving house ball, approving changes to Prodigy Weekend, approving changes to the house logo, approving ballroom statuses presented to any member of the house with the partnership of overall parents, and approving changes to any Prodigy literature.

Founding leaders are to be included in the reentry process for any former member that wishes to renew membership. The founding father will make the decision and present the verdict to the Overall Parents. The Founding Administrative Advisor Board can also protest a candidate's entry into the house.

All house information is to be reported to The Founding Administrative Advisor Board by Overall Parents, Overall Godparents, Overall Overseer, and Overall Secretary; this does not include nonimportant issues.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board is also responsible for addressing any negligence or abuse of any board leadership roles.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board has the right to remove any executive board member, or board member, with a valid reason, only if an issue with the party involved continuously occurs. The founding father will deliver all removals and explanations.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board has the right to draft any candidate into the house without the approval of the Executive Board; however, the Founding Father will have to approve the draft. Afterward, Founding Administrative Advisor Board will notify the overall parents of their consent.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board will have monthly meetings to touch base with the overall parents and executive board for any house updates and reports.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board is here to support the Executive Board on any decision and assist in the house's daily functions. If the house is progressing positively and there are no problems, then The Founding Administrative Advisor Board holds no advisor duties! Explicitly, if there are no problems or concerns and no Founding Administrative Advisor Board addressing the overall parents and the Executive Board.

A Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader's responsibility is to give advice only when needed. Additionally, they must ensure that the overall board respectfully represents their leadership role correctly and that the integrity of the Iconic House of Prodigy's founding values is respected.

The Founding Father Mann Prodigy put the Founding Administrative Advisor Board in place to support him with making significant unbiased house decisions.

The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader has a category title, such as runway, performance, and realness. That leader has the final say in deciding a candidate's admission to the house. The Executive Board is responsible for convincing The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader that the candidate is a good fit!

If a Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader disapproves of a decision made by the Executive Board, the decision will be voted on by The Founding Administrative Advisor Board. However, if three Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders disagree on a decision made by the Executive Board, the decision is null and void, meaning the action cannot happen. This notion only pertains to an Executive Board decision.

Dues will be collected once a year from The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders. Dues are collected to support any Founding Administrative Advisor Board gathering and to assist The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders fee into a ball, if necessary. The dues would be applied to a leader's admission fee only if the leader in question was never delinquent on a payment. The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders are responsible for paying dues every January of each calendar year. The amount is $120, or $10 a month, paid directly to the founding father! The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader's dues do not include Prodigy Weekend dues!

If a Founding Administrative Advisor Board member chooses not to attend Prodigy Weekend, there is no penalty, which will reflect in that member paying their administrative board dues. However, if they decide to attend Prodigy Weekend, that member must pay their Prodigy Weekend dues in addition to The Founding Administrative Advisor Board dues.

When an Executive Board leader encounters an issue with a peer that is not resolved within the Executive Board group, The Founding Administrative Advisor Board steps in to assist and resolve the issue.

Any Executive Board member can come to a Founding Administrative Advisor Board member with any problem, comments, or concerns. Their conversation will remain confidential unless approved to discuss with all parties involved. If a Founding Administrative Advisor Board member leaks any information given by a leader, The Overall Founding Father will dismiss the Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader from their board duties!

If the Overall Parents feel a founding leader is abusing their power, it is to be reported to the Founding Father to be resolved. The founding father will investigate and render a verdict.

When dealing with an issue presented to them, it is not the Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders' responsibility to handle the problem alone. They are to advise the member in question and then redirect the member to the appropriate Executive Board leader. However, suppose the issue is beyond repair, and the member in question does not wish to present their case to the board. In that case, the Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader can set forth a motion with the Founding Administrative Advisor Board to conduct a hearing meeting with the member in question, and a decision will proceed.

All issues that are reported to The Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader will be investigated, and a Founding Administrative Advisor Board leader meeting will be held. The Founding Administrative Advisor Board will notify all parties involved, and a vote on a decision will proceed!

All Founding Administrative Advisor Board members must be available when an issue needs to be addressed! If there's a meeting called, Founding Administrative Advisor Board leaders must ensure you are in attendance!

Serving as a leader in the Iconic House of Prodigy is a privilege and being replaced is your option! Please respect and honor all terms and conditions of the founding leaders' rules and regulations. If any leader of this organization disagrees with these terms and conditions, address them with the Founding Father!

In the words of the founder, "We all must answer to someone to have a successful team. It's not about an individual and what they think, want, or feel; It's about the whole team and what we all think, want, or feel. No matter who it is, we all have a part in what Iconic House of Prodigy stands for! If your part interrupts the path of what I started, your path with Prodigy will be interrupted by me."
