KINESYS

Vector Console
Quick Start Guide

User Interface

User features:
1. LCD touchscreen
2. Navigation buttons
3. Keypad buttons
4. Function buttons
5. Emergency Stop button
6. Joystick
7. Rate adjust wheels and Play/Pause buttons
8. Dead man's handle (enabling switch)
9. Movement buttons
10. RFID reader

Back Panel

Power features:
1. Enable/Disable key switch
2. Power button
3. Mains Input (IEC connector)

External system connections:
4. Safety System connector
5. HDMI connector
6. Desk Light/Lamp connector
7. USB ports
8. Ethernet ports for Automation System
9. Ethernet port for Media Network
10. VGA connector

Power on and Login

- Make sure the desired automation devices and media servers are connected via the correct ports.
- Plug the power cable into the power cable port. Once the console has power, the Group Manual button will flash green.
- Press the Power button start the PC and wait for Vector Software to load.
- Insert the key to the key switch and turn it to the 'enable' position.
- Log In as one of the three User Access Levels: Operator, Programmer, or Administrator.
- Alternatively, tap the RFID card on the RFID reader.

Buttons and keypads

|
Jog	Allows the use of the rate adjust wheels for speeding up and slowing down cues.
Sim	Puts the console into Simulation mode where cues can be set up and edited but physical movement is not possible.
Edit	Allows the setup of channels, groups and cues in the Vector software.
Live	Allows you to run the cues once they have been set up in Edit mode.
Sel	Selects the currently highlighted cue, group or channel.
Q	Allows you to navigate and select cues.
Grp	Allows you to navigate and select groups.
Chan	Allows you to navigate and select channels.

- Number buttons for quick data entry.

|
Esc	Cancels or exits the current window.
→|	Selects the adjacent cell in the channels list.
←	Removes the entered data.
↵	Selects the next row down in the channels list.
-	Allows the entry of negative numbers.
.	Allows the entry of decimal places.

- Arrow buttons to navigate through channels, groups and cues on screen.

|
Q Up	Selects the cue above
Q Dn	Selects the cue below
Chan Up	Selects the channel above
Chan Dn	Selects the channel below

Live mode

- Press the Q Load button to load the selected cue from the Vector software.
- To begin movement, make sure the key switch is engaged and the dead man's handle is pressed. Then press the Play button corresponding to the assigned cue colour.
- Press the Pause button to pause the cue with the intention of restarting.
- To speed up or slow down the cue. use the rate adjust wheel above the Play/Pause buttons.
- Press the 'All Stop' button to stop all movement.

Manual mode

- Pressing either Channel Manual or Group Manual allows you to manually move individual channels or groups using the joystick.