

Proposal for Funding of Battlenova: Fight for the Universe

Introduction:

We are a mobile game development company with a proven track record of creating engaging and successful games. Our latest project, Battlenova: Fight for the Universe, is a real-time strategy game set in a sci-fi universe with three unique races, over 45 different buildings, 30 unique battle units, and approximately 600 quests.

We are seeking funding to enhance the development of Battlenova and take it to the next level. With your investment, we can improve the game's features, graphics, and performance, and also integrate blockchain technology and NFTs to create a unique and valuable ecosystem for players.

Proposal:

We are seeking a funding of $500,000 to support the development of Battlenova: Fight for the Universe. The funding will be used for the following:

Enhancing the game's features and performance: We will allocate $150,000 to hire additional developers and designers to enhance the game's features and performance. This will include the optimization of the Hero Training System, the integration of blockchain technology and NFTs, and the addition of new quests and maps.

Graphics and sound design: We will allocate $100,000 to hire top-tier graphic designers and sound engineers to create a more immersive and engaging experience for players. This will include the creation of new assets, animations, and sound effects.

Marketing and promotion: We will allocate $100,000 to market and promote Battlenova through social media, advertising, and influencer partnerships. This will help us reach a wider audience and attract more players to the game.

Infrastructure and security: We will allocate $50,000 to enhance the game's infrastructure and security, including the implementation of a secure server system and the addition of anti-hacking measures.

Contingency: We will allocate $100,000 for any unexpected expenses that may arise during the development of the game.

Return on Investment:

We are confident that Battlenova: Fight for the Universe will be a success with the right funding and development. Our projections estimate that the game will generate over $2 million in revenue within the first year of release, with a 50% profit margin. We plan to monetize the game through in-app purchases and a marketplace for NFTs.

Investors in Battlenova: Fight for the Universe will receive a 10% stake in the game's profits for the first two years of release, with the potential for a longer-term partnership. Investors will also receive early access to new features and updates, as well as exclusive in-game items and bonuses.

Conclusion:

Battlenova: Fight for the Universe has the potential to be a groundbreaking and successful mobile game. With your funding, we can enhance the game's features, graphics, and performance, and also integrate blockchain technology and NFTs to create a unique and valuable ecosystem for players. We look forward to the opportunity to partner with you and make Battlenova: Fight for the Universe a reality.