"E.D.U. is committed to implementing an NAEYC guided, adaptive curriculum to foster a transformative environment for all students, mentors and families.

This will collectively be achieved through continually evolving a natural learning framework, and interactive atmosphere that offers a "culturally-responsive," rooted foundation for the individual, the intergenerational community, environment, and the Treehouse Early Childhood Program.

This collaborative learning framework supports pathways to a meaningful connection and our unique intelligence with the Earth and our place within it, creating an experiential understanding of how community is profoundly dependent upon the immediate environment and vice versa."
