President's Message...

2023

The Washington State Scottish Terrier Club had a jammed packed 2023 year. Among the highlights were three specialties drawing enthusiastic exhibitors from several states and a summer barbecue.

We also held a highly successful DNA clinic and added more samples to the STCA's DNA data base than any other regional club. The clinic was funded via a grant from the Scottish Terrier Club of America.

We also had great fun at the summer Fala Day where everyone played games and had a great day with their Scots in the sun. A popular event was Highland Games in Enumclaw.

We also held a wonderful grooming clinic which drew participants from all over Washington State, California, Canada and 2024 ...

As shown on the events calendar (left), the WSSTC has an exciting potpourri of events planned to 2024. In choosing events, we have tried to have something for ALL Scottish Terrier enthusiasts. But we still need you to be involved and attend events.

New this year, we are setting up monthly meetings on the same day and time each month, namely the third Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. I hope this new time and date will allow more of you to become involved in events. If there is something that you want to discuss, please contact me and I will add it to the agenda.

This month we are holding a bladder cancer screening clinic. We already have 12 registered Scottish Terriers over the age of 5 years who are registered for the free event.

For the club to succeed, we do need members to become more involved. We always can use volunteers to help set up an event, organize something fun or specialty, contribute to the news letter.. Won't you be one of them?

Scotties Ages 5 -11 Years Only

Bladder Cancer Noninvasive Screening Test Planned For Sunday, February 18

Scottish Terriers have a 20 times higher risk of developing bladder cancer, i.e. TCC, than dogs in other breeds. At the early stages of cancer, the dog's anti-tumor immune responses are more effective at combatting the cancer.

To address this problem, the Washington State Scottish Terrier Club has been awarded a $1000.00 grant from the Scottish Terrier Club of America's Health Trust Fund to hold a bladder non invasive screening clinic for club members and other Scottie owners in our area.

Dr. Jessica Wilcocks of Evergreen Veterinary Clinic and a technician are donating their time to conduct the clinic. Grant money will be used to cover the cost of building and equipment use.

The screen clinic will be held on:

Sunday, February 18, 2024

Beginning at 10 a.m.

Evergreen Veterinary Hospital

14423 124th Ave NE, Kirkland, WA 98034

Appointments are on a first come, first serve basis beginning at 10:00 a.m. and every 15 minutes after. Scotties must be 5 years of age or older. The screening is ONLY for Scottish Terriers. Participants do NOT need to be members of the WSSTC just owners who have a Scottish Terrier. Contact Cheryl James at CherylJames66@gmail.com to reserve an appointment time. Limited openings.

How Will the testing be conducted.

Scottish Terriers over the age of five years are eligible to participate in the free ultrasound screening program. The ultrasound screening will take about 15 minutes per dog. Similar to an ultrasound screen for breast cancer, the test is NOT conclusive but it is a good initial screening tool. If the ultrasound shows images of bladder tumors, the owner will be given a copy of the ultrasound image and encouraged to get additional screening.

If the ultrasound suggests there may be bladder cancer, it is recommended that further testing be conducted. This includes an urinalysis with sediment exam. If the screening tests were positive or suspicious, then a biopsy was obtained via cystoscopy (right images).

Purdue Professor Deborah Knapp, DVM found that early screening is useful for several reasons:

1. Bladder cancer is usually not detected until it is too late to treat proactively.
2. Dogs with early cancer are in better overall health, allowing them to handle treatment well.
3. At the early stages of cancer, the dog's anti-tumor immune responses are more effective at combatting the cancer. In contrast, in more advanced cancer, the immune system has become exhausted and is ineffective in controlling the cancer
4. The blood flow to the tumor is better in early cancer allowing for good cancer drug delivery, whereas in more advanced cancer, the blood only reaches part of the cancer mass(es)
5. If dogs do not have any cancer-related symptoms at early diagnosis, then even if the tumor is just kept stable, i.e. not necessarily shrinking but not growing, then the dogs will continue to be symptom free.

In a three-year study of Scotties, Dr. Knapp found that screening found early cancer in 32 of 120 dogs (27%). And this was when the dogs had no outward evidence of cancer!

Marcia Dawson, DVM and chair of the STCA Health Trust further notes, " This is a great opportunity to put into action what we should all be doing with our Scotties once they reach the age of 5 years: Screen at least yearly for bladder cancer with an ultrasound exam. The earlier we can detect any abnormality in our dogs' bladders, the sooner we can get a diagnosis and start them on more effective therapy. Whichever therapy we choose, from NSAIDS or chemotherapy or alternative medicines and supportive diets, the sooner the better!"

How Can Bladder Cancer Be Detected?

Images of cancer in the bladder seen through a cystoscope in two dogs. The image in panel A is of a bladder tumor detected in a Scottie through screening. The tumor is limited to a small area. The cancer detected through screening was much smaller than the cancer not detected through screening.

The image in panel B is from a Scottish Terrier that was not in the screening study, and in which the cancer was found after the dog developed urinary accidents in the house and straining to urinate

There are various options for treating bladder cancer in Scotties and prolong the life of one's Scottish Terriers. In a small number of cases, the cancer can go into remission. In other cases, the growth of the tumor may be forestalled. The goal of most treatment protocols is to prolong the life of the affected Scottie.

Surgery: Unlike many other cancer types, TCC is not typically treated with surgery, given that complete excision often is not possible, and regrowth is common after surgery even when complete excision is performed.

Chemotherapy: If a tumor cannot be surgically removed or if you decline surgery, chemotherapy (as an intravenous injection or as a pill) is another option. This might require weekly hospital visits for three or four weeks. Depending on the protocol, chemotherapy has a 40% to 70% chance of shrinking the tumor or slowing its growth. Chemotherapy helps dogs with bladder cancer for between six and 12 months on average.

Stereotactic Radiation: Stereotactic Radiation is a newer form of treatment for dogs with bladder cancer. This typically requires just 1-3 treatments and has fewer side effects than chemotherapy. A dog that undergoes Stereotactic Radiation may still have blood in its urine as the tumor dies. The dog's skin may also be affected, similar to a sunburn, but that typically will resolve within a couple of weeks. It's also possible that hair will not grow back on the part of the abdomen that was in the radiation field. The dog could have diarrhea for a few weeks from the radiation, as well. This newer treatment aims to damage the tumor without harming surrounding tissues and organs.

Drug treatment: Drugs are also used to treat transitional cell carcinoma in dogs. One such drug is piroxicam (also known by the brand name Feldene), a non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drug (NSAID) that has anti-cancer properties against TCC in the bladder.

A dog's kidneys must be functioning well before piroxicam can be utilized. In one study, 62 dogs with TCC were treated with piroxicam. In 44 (about 2/3s) of dogs, the tumor either remained stable or decreased in size; the tumor went into remission in two other dogs. Dogs treated with piroxicam survived 195 days on average. In another study, a combination of piroxicam and chemotherapy, a 35% remission rate was achieved. Other non-steroidal drugs such as Rimadyl (Carprofen) may also be used to treat this type of cancer.

No treatment: If the decision is made to not pursue treatment, all of the symptoms can worsen and the dog's appetite may eventually decrease, leading to weight loss. Important to note, however, is that weight loss can occur despite a normal appetite — that is the cancer's affect on the body. Bladder cancer usually progresses in a matter of months and life expectancy does not extend beyond that.

AKC Launches New FETCH Program

When dog owners are asked about activities they like to do with their dogs, the most common responses are to take their dog for a walk and to play ball (fetch) with the dog.

American Kennel Club's new FETCH performance program was created as an activity in which owners could have fun with their dogs in the AKC Family Dog Program. Earning AKC Fetch titles provides opportunities for both physical and mental exercise. While some dogs are natural retrievers, AKC Fetch, especially at the advanced levels, will involve teaching new skills such as retrieving.

AKC Fetch is designed for all breeds.

AKC Fetch is a pass-fail noncompetitive test. The four levels of titles (Novice, Intermediate, Advanced, and Retriever) assess the ability of the dog to retrieve. In the Advanced and Retriever levels, the dog must respond correctly to signals. There is also a memory component in Advanced and Retriever because a retrieving bumper or ball is dropped (or thrown) behind a blind where it cannot be seen.

For each of the four titles, the dog must pass the test twice under two different approved AKC Fetch judges.

Dogs who are at least 6 months of age are eligible to take the AKC Fetch test as long as they are registered or enrolled with AKC and have an AKC, PAL, or AKC Canine Partners number.

Why Participate in AKC Fetch?

AKC Fetch provides a form of exercise for dogs and their owners. Dogs learn new skills and many handlers will learn to teach a skill (i.e., retrieving) they have not previously taught.

AKC Fetch titles are fun to earn and can be used as a required AKC title for earning the Gold level of AKC FIT DOG. For info on AKC FIT DOG, see: <https://www.akc.org/sports/akc-family-dog-program/akc-fit-dog/>

Facts About Bladder Cancer in Scotties

1. Scottish Terriers are 20 times more likely than ANY other breed of purebred dogs to get bladder cancer.
2. Invasive transitional cell carcinoma (TCC) is the most common type of bladder cancer in Scottish Terriers.
3. In a 2024 study, Scottish terriers exposed to cigarette smoke (in the air or licking it off clothing) were 6 times more likely to develop bladder cancer than those who were not exposed.
4. Scotties who consume cruciferous vegetables (green leafy, broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, kale, Brussels sprouts, collards, etc.) at least 3 times a week are less likely to get TCC cancer in their bladder.
5. An association has been found between exposure to lawn herbicides and pesticides and the risk of TCC in Scottish Terriers.
6. Female Scottish Terriers are more likely than males to get bladder cancer.
