Material to build our future

Driving the industry forward with performance-based, sustainable solutions.

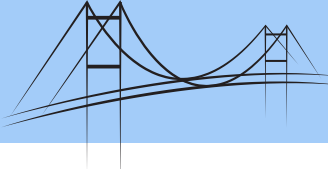

At Heidelberg Materials, we're committed to developing solutions — for our customers, for our community, for our planet — to be a partner and not merely a provider.

As one of the world's largest integrated manufacturers of building materials and solutions, we are exceptionally positioned to take on this role. In Maryland, we are suppliers of quality cement and slag for concrete producers. We are guided by our dual focus on digitalization and sustainability, which inspires us to push the boundaries of technology to work collaboratively with our customers toward a brighter tomorrow. We are proud to sponsor the 2025 MCMC conference

About Our Speakers:

“The Road Ahead: Economic Outlook for the Transportation Industry”

The Honorable Marc Korman
Chair, Environment and Transportation Committee
Maryland House of Delegates

Marc Korman has proudly represented District 16 in the Maryland House of Delegates since 2014. In 2023, he was named Chair of the Environment & Transportation Committee, where he champions issues like public transit, environmental protection, and sustainable growth. Previously, Marc served as House Majority Leader and chaired the Montgomery County House Delegation. A lifelong Montgomery County resident, Marc attended Montgomery County Public Schools, earned degrees from USC, Johns Hopkins, and the University of Maryland, and now lives in Bethesda with his wife, Rebecca, and their two children.

Brian Wolfe is the Director of Project Development for MDTA with 30 years of experience in the design and construction of transportation structures. Currently, he serves as contract manager overseeing the Key Bridge Rebuild and previously managed programs and projects developed out of MDTA's White Marsh Office, including the I-95 Express Toll Lanes Northbound Extension Program and the Nice/Middleton Bridge Replacement Design/Build project.

Nationally, he represents MDTA at the AASHTO/National Steel Bridge Alliance Collaboration, where he is a member of several task groups. Brian is also a member of the Executive Committee for the International Bridge Conference where he assists with developing the technical sessions and workshops.

He received a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering from Penn State and a Master of Engineering degree from the University of Maryland.

Brian is a licensed Professional Engineer in the states of Maryland, Virginia, and Ohio.

About Our Speakers:

Navigating Federal Policy: Maryland's Transportation Priorities in a Shifting Landscape

Sean Winkler
Senior Policy Advisor
MDOT

As Senior Policy Advisor for Transportation Equity & Engagement at the Maryland Department of Transportation, Sean supports the Assistant Secretary for Transportation Equity & Engagement in advancing strategic initiatives, policies, government relations, and external communication efforts on behalf of the Secretary of Transportation. Previously, he worked as the Manager of Federal Infrastructure Strategy in the Office of Government Affairs, where he provided strategic guidance to MDOT's collaborative and multi-modal efforts to compete for and secure historic funding contained in the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law and the Inflation Reduction Act. Since joining MDOT, the agency has secured nearly $1 billion in discretionary grant funding across its modes.

Immediately prior to joining MDOT, Sean was Vice President at Tai Ginsberg & Associates, a federal transportation advocacy firm, where he supported policy initiatives and federal funding pursuits on behalf of transit agencies, state-supported intercity rail corridors, and local units of government. Sean recently completed a graduate certificate in Sustainable Transportation: Planning & Livable Communities from the University of Washington and holds a B.A. from the University of Maryland, College Park. He served as a member of Governor Wes Moore's Transportation Policy Committee.

About Our Speakers:

National Leadership on Transportation's Most Pressing Issues

Richard A. Juliano, IOM,
CAE
General Counsel
American Road &
Transportation Builders
Association (ARTBA)

Rich Juliano is one of the nation's leading advocates for transportation construction contractors and investment. As general counsel of the American Road & Transportation Builders Association (ARTBA), he oversees the national group's legal and regulatory activities and works as a member of its government relations team. He also manages ARTBA's Contractors Division and serves as principal liaison to its affiliated state contractor organizations, as well as staffing ARTBA's Public-Private Partnerships Division and its annual conference.

Prior to joining ARTBA in 2002, Rich served as the White House liaison at the United States Department of Transportation under then-Secretary Norman Y. Mineta. He earned bachelor's and law degrees from the University of Chicago and is also a Certified Association Executive.

Evan Bender
Director, Government Affairs
National Stone, Sand &
Gravel Association (NSSGA)

Evan Bender serves as the Director of Government Affairs for the National Stone, Sand & Gravel Association (NSSGA), responsible for covering various issues impacting the aggregates industry including Transportation and Infrastructure, Appropriations, Tax, Labor, Safety, and Health.

Prior to joining NSSGA, he served as a Legislative Director for Congressman Troy Nehls (TX-22), and Legislative Assistant for Congressman John Carter (TX-31).

A native of Austin, TX, Evan holds a bachelor's degree in public administration from the University of Oklahoma.

Mitch Baldwin
Director, Government Affairs
National Asphalt Pavement
Association (NAPA)

Mitch joined the National Asphalt Pavement Association (NAPA) in January of 2024 after a 7-year career with the State of Maryland. First, in Governor Larry Hogan's office, assisting constituents with navigating the state government agencies and relaying their concerns to the governor's senior staff. Then, at the Maryland State Highway Administration where Mitch gained a wealth of knowledge about the asphalt industry and other transportation-related issues.

Mitch served as Special Assistant to the Administrator before moving over to SHA's Government Affairs. During his tenure on the Government Affairs team, Mitch led the lobbying efforts on many subjects, from work zone safety legislation to critical road funding bills while working in partnership with the Maryland Asphalt Association and other critical interest groups.

Mitch is a lifelong resident of Davidsonville, Maryland where he lives with his two young sons, Ross and Rhett, his wife Jennifer, and lab, Beau. In his free time, Mitch enjoys hunting and fishing.
