A way out of Domestic Violence

March Bottle Drive

Community Fundraising

Dear Friends, Supporters, and Community Partners,
We are excited to share our very first newsletter and celebrate the incredible support that continues to strengthen our mission of providing safety, advocacy, and hope for individuals and families impacted by domestic violence.

Thank you to everyone who donated bottles and cans, volunteered their time, and helped spread the word about our recent Bottle Drive Fundraiser. Because of your generosity, we raised valuable funds that will directly support survivor services, and emergency assistance.

A way out of Domestic Violence

Every bottle donated represented more than a contribution—it represented a commitment to creating a safer community for those affected by domestic violence. We are deeply grateful for your support and look forward to making this fundraiser an annual tradition.

A way out of Domestic Violence

Our Ceo and Founder

I am a domestic violence survivor, faith-based advocate, speaker, coach, and community leader.

During my own journey, I realized that many victims lacked access to resources, emotional support, financial guidance, and people who truly understood what they were going through.

Today, I use my lived experience, faith, and professional expertise to educate, encourage, and advocate for individuals and families affected by domestic violence.

“You cannot heal what you are afraid to address”
