

Corporate Volunteering with a Difference

Team building activities that are fun, cost effective and for a good cause.

As our world has changed and teams are working in new, more flexible ways, leaders continue to look for opportunities to engage and connect their people. In these difficult times, there are many worthy causes that still need support from corporate volunteers, especially since many of their traditional initiatives were postponed due to the pandemic.

As a solution to these needs, we offer innovative team building events that bring your teams and worthy charities together to do good and foster team spirit. Conducted either COVID-Safe 3 hours face-to-face or 2 hour online, our interactive events are tailored to each charity's needs, and designed in conjunction with them to help them achieve their specific goals.

Featuring a mix of educational activities, fun team competitions and prize-winning challenges, your people will leave more connected as a team and with a strong sense of having contributed to something greater. At the same time, our professional facilitators will draw parallels from the key messages and learnings in the sessions back to your team, enhancing their way of working.
