AI INTERNATIONAL MUSIC VIDEO FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES AUGUST 10 WINNERS

Hollywood, CA - The AI International Music Video Festival proudly announces the winners of its August 10 showcase, an electrifying program of four groundbreaking AI-driven music videos selected from 38 entries spanning 17 countries. This edition celebrated the raw energy of sound and image—immersive works that fused rhythm, visuals, and technology into unforgettable sensory experiences.

A sell-out audience at the historic Los Feliz Theatre was swept up in the pulse of next-generation music video artistry, their energy carrying into a dynamic conversation on the future of music and visual storytelling. See aimusicvideofest.org/august-2025 for more info.

Ten Expert Panelists from around the world discussed how the newest AI video tools are changing the game in filmmaking. Scott Mortman - CEO/Founder, AREDA AI; adjunct professor of AI law - provided an informed update on the latest state-level, national, and international developments regarding copywriting and regulation of AI.

The event ended with an exclusive after-party at Fred62—Los Angeles' favorite hip diner—where artists, producers, and fans mingled in an atmosphere as electric as the music itself.

The AI International Music Video Festival welcomes submissions across all formats—AI-generated, hybrid, animated, live-action, or documentary—provided they engage with AI either as a creative tool or a subject of exploration. The festival's mission is to illuminate AI's expanding role in music and visual expression, offering the public and the entertainment industry a lens into both the opportunities and the challenges shaping the future of creativity.
