Terms and Conditions for Cat Care

- Safety and Welfare: The utmost care will be taken to ensure the safety and wellbeing of your cat at all times. Any hazards or risks identified during care will be promptly addressed. Owners are responsible for providing a safe environment and notifying the carer of any potential dangers within the premises.
- Liability: While every effort will be made to look after your cat, the carer cannot be held liable for any injury, illness, or loss arising from circumstances beyond reasonable control, including unforeseen accidents, natural disasters, or pre-existing health conditions.
- Disclosure of Health Issues: Owners must fully disclose any known medical conditions, allergies, behavioural issues, or special requirements relating to their cat prior to commencement of care. Failure to disclose relevant information may result in termination of services and the owner assuming full responsibility for any resulting consequences.
- Veterinary Care: In the event of illness or injury, prompt veterinary attention will be sought. The owner authorises the carer to act on their behalf in seeking medical advice and treatment and agrees to reimburse any costs incurred for veterinary services.
- Insurance: Owners are advised to ensure their cat is covered by appropriate insurance to protect against unexpected veterinary bills and other liabilities.
- Data Protection: All personal and veterinary information provided will be treated confidentially and used solely for the purpose of caring for your cat.
- Consent: By engaging the cat care service, the owner confirms acceptance of these terms and conditions and consents to the procedures outlined above.
