 Chase Venstra currently being held on unrelated charges out of Montana was charged today with federal weapons charges stemming from a search warrant executed 6/12/2022 for an active homicide investigation. Chase has not been made a suspect in the disappearance of Dylan Rounds at this time. What the homicide investigation is the court documents refer to, is unknown.

Friday, July 8, 2022

- Court Hearing: Chase Venstra
   will continue to be held in Utah.
   Montana failed to collect him in the 30 days, the court will revisit extradition on August 12 at 9am, but since he has federal weapons charges and the initial appearance is on July 19th, it's unlikely Montana will make any more effort to get custody of him than the last time.

   for September 12th on the federal weapons charges, expect delays, it almost always

Dylan Rounds - Update

Elko, Nevada, August 15, 2022 – The Elko County Sheriff's Office assisted the Box Elder County Sheriff's Office with the application of a search warrant and service of the search warrant. Personnel from the Elko County Sheriff's Office, Box Elder Sheriff's Office and Search and Rescue used advanced searching methods, which included cadaver dogs, drones, and archaeological excavation procedures to process Brenner's property in hopes to locate information that would lead to the location of Dylan Rounds.

No items of interest or evidence was discovered on the property during the search.

Please contact the Box Elder County Sheriff's Office with any further questions about the investigation.

October 12, 2022 UPDATE FROM CANDICE via Um No Thanks Investigates YouTube discussing never before released information.

- Dylan's pistol was returned by an unknown person to his camp trailer on June 1st. It was located in the bathroom on a previously cleaned counter top. The key FOB was found in the same exact spot the next day (June 2nd).
- No DNA was found in/on Dylan's pickup, the grain truck, the key fob or the pistol and clip.
- Dylan's phone was found on June 18th in Lucin pond by BESO Search & Rescue.
- James Brenner has been calling members of the Rounds/Cooley family from jail. He has had conversations with Justin and Karen Rounds declaring his innocence.
- James Brenner's DNA was found on Dylan's boots (found behind the dirt mound on the shed property). James Brenner has admitted to putting the boots behind the dirt pile. He said he found them near the shed.
- Phone pings of Robert Aviles and Chase Venstra show they were no where near Dylan's farm or the shed property on May 28th, the day he disappeared. Chase was seen on video surveillance Sat 5/28 at the Flying J in Snowville, UT and later that day in Clinton, UT at a KFC.
- On June 2nd, James Brenner did some "spring cleaning" in the shed as BESO watched him remove 4-5 garbage bags of potential evidence. If you have seen images of the shed you will clearly see significant mess that was not cleaned up as part of his "spring cleaning".
- When BESO allowed the family to take Dylan's pickup and drive it, they lost any data that was stored in the trucks system. It is only recorded and saved for the last 100 miles.
- Evidence was present that James Brenner walked his horse from the shed property to the railroad tracks during the time period Dylan went missing (5/28-5/29) and then his horse went one direction and he went the other.
- May 31st. BESO declined approval for blood hounds to come search the shed property. The family had been in contact with resources to get them out there and they were ready to bring a team.

Week of 10/30/2022 Equusearch Midwest joins in on the onsite search for Dylan.

You can see in the photos provided, they searched mines and washes for any sign of Dylan or clues to what happened. MOBCrew flew drones and a group of cadaver dogs were out searching as well.
