Cancer Care Team Members and Types of Care They Provide

More Information Here

Types of Care you may use, let your doctor know:

- Chiropractic Care
- Acupuncture
- Cannabis
- Herbs and Supplements

We encourage all AYAs to have a PCP, HERE is information why.

Find PCP Here

Your Medical Oncology Cancer Care Team

Oncologists
Advocate Medical Group Oncology
847-268-8200

Oncology Social Worker
Jamie Sorenson
Jamie.sorenson@aah.org

Licensed Clinical Social Workers available to people diagnosed with cancer and their support persons who need assistance accessing info & community resources.

847-723-5693

Click below for Information & Support

Resources provided at:

- Cancer Survivorship Center
- Counseling Services
- Nutritional Services

Cancer Survivorship Program New Participant Intake Form

Primary Care Provider - PCP

Additional Types of Cancer Care

Integrative Medicine
End of Life Care
Palliative Care

Support Services that begin when you are first diagnosed with cancer and continues throughout your life.

Information Here

Get App & Sign in Here

makes managing your health and wellness easier. With this app, you will find more ways to live well on the go – message your care providers, get test results, practice guided meditation and more.

Diagnosis Treatment

After Primary Treatment

Supportive Care Resources For Adolescents and Young Adults (AYA) Ages 15 - 39 with a Cancer Diagnosis

Facing a cancer diagnosis and undergoing treatment can feel and be overwhelming. This resource tool is your guide through the challenging times; it's here for you when you're ready. It offers a wealth of knowledge, from the moment you received that diagnosis to the different phases of your life beyond. While not every piece may directly align with your experience, it's all here for you to explore at your own pace.

Got questions or need guidance? Don't hesitate to reach out to a dedicated member of your care team. We're here to support you every step of the way!

When you get familiar with this tool, please let us know HERE if it is helpful.
Financial Help
Family Building Options
Fertility Legal Rights
Fertility Preservation Information
Click below for Information & Support

Supportive Care Resources
Fertility Preservation for people with a cancer diagnosis
•

Additional Resources:
there may still be options. Talk to a cancer care team member.

The resources below provide oncofertility information, financial help, and

Your cancer care team will help you

•

Cancer + Careers, A guide to Insurance

•

Contact your health insurance (number on your card's back) to ask about

•

Help with Feeling Stressed, Worried

•

Connecting to Other AYAs

•

Help with Health Insurance

•

Information for AYAs

•

Resources provided at:

•

The Advanced Fertility Preservation Institute

•

Advocate Cancer Survivorship Center

•

Livestrong

•

The Oncofertility Consortium

•

Credible Cancer

•

Genetic Testing for

•

What is an AYA

•

Is

•

Research is being carried out to see if there is a way to help people who have cancer still have children in the future. One of the things they are looking into is oncofertility. They can refer you to fertility specialists who can further

Keep a record of the storage procedure. It also might be helpful to talk to your care team, your social worker or member of your care team.

The treatment does not have to begin right away. After your treatment, you may want to talk to a fertility preservation specialist about how your situation might affect your ability

The storage method that was carried out and where the tissue is being stored. Make sure the storage facility has your up-to-date contact information.

•

If you think you may have financial

•

Some fertility preservation costs may be covered by law. Call the member customer service number on the

•

Cancer + Careers can help you pay for and

•

Learn more about cancer care &

•

Words Matter!

•

Phone numbers to call to learn about cancer care &

•

Financial Help

•

Family Building Options

•

Fertility Legal Rights

•

Fertility Preservation Information

•

Click below for Information & Support