Welcome to the tenth edition of The Hovan Narratives Newsletter!

Forestton

A wizard must protect Earth, his adopted home, from people who should not be here.

A man, haunted by the reoccurring nightmare of the loss of his wife, attempts to escape the anguish with a change of scenery. The Wizard Hovan, using his magic, moves to Earth. Someone followed. Or preceded him. Whichever, they do not want him on the planet. Or alive. The feeling is mutual.

This good man, capable of violence, must protect both this magically vulnerable planet and his home town of Forestton. Someone has to. He must protect his friends, human and elf, while also relying on them for help. Moving between worlds to fight this evil, the wizard attempts to mix magic and technology, humans and elves, and keep everyone safe. So much for escaping the memories.

May the One he serves protect them.

This story is part epic fantasy and part magical realism, as it occurs on the parallel worlds of Ra'viinen and contemporary Earth.

Book Signing in one month!
Tuesday, May 26th at GrillMark
from 7 pm to 8 pm

Welcome to the tenth edition of the Hovan Narratives. I'm sending this one out a few days early because my first book signing for Forestton is one month from today!

My novel 'Forestton The Hovan Narratives' will publish in May as well. It should be available May 17th. I am finalizing details though and will send out the exact date as we get closer. You will be able to purchase it at Amazon, Google Books, Apple Books, and Kobo. It will also be distributed through IngramSpark to bookstores and libraries that request it. The trade paperback lists for $14.99 and the ebook for $3.99.

You can purchase copies of 'Forestton' from me (the publisher) if you wish for $14.00, sales tax included.

My first book signing will be held at GrillMark in Albertson. It is very kind of them to host me.

I am self-publishing the novel. This allows me to retain complete creative control of the project, but also requires me to learn details of the publishing and business side of the project. Yes, I have made some rookie mistakes. But that is all part of the learning curve. Hopefully, I got enough of the details correct so you will enjoy a professional, well written book.

As always, I appreciate any help you can offer in spreading the word about the novel: either through word of mouth or social media. When you finally get to read it, if you like it, please leave a review on Goodreads. If you purchased the novel online, please leave a review on the website you used. It all helps! A four or five star review would be awesome!

I continue to build an email list (sign up at christopheriolaire.com) and an Instagram following. Join me on Goodreads.com as well. Please spread the word and repost. You can find me on Facebook at Christopher Iolaire and on Instagram at @christopher_iolaire. If you wish to read previous excerpts from 'Forestton', then click on past newsletters at Christopheriolaire.com.

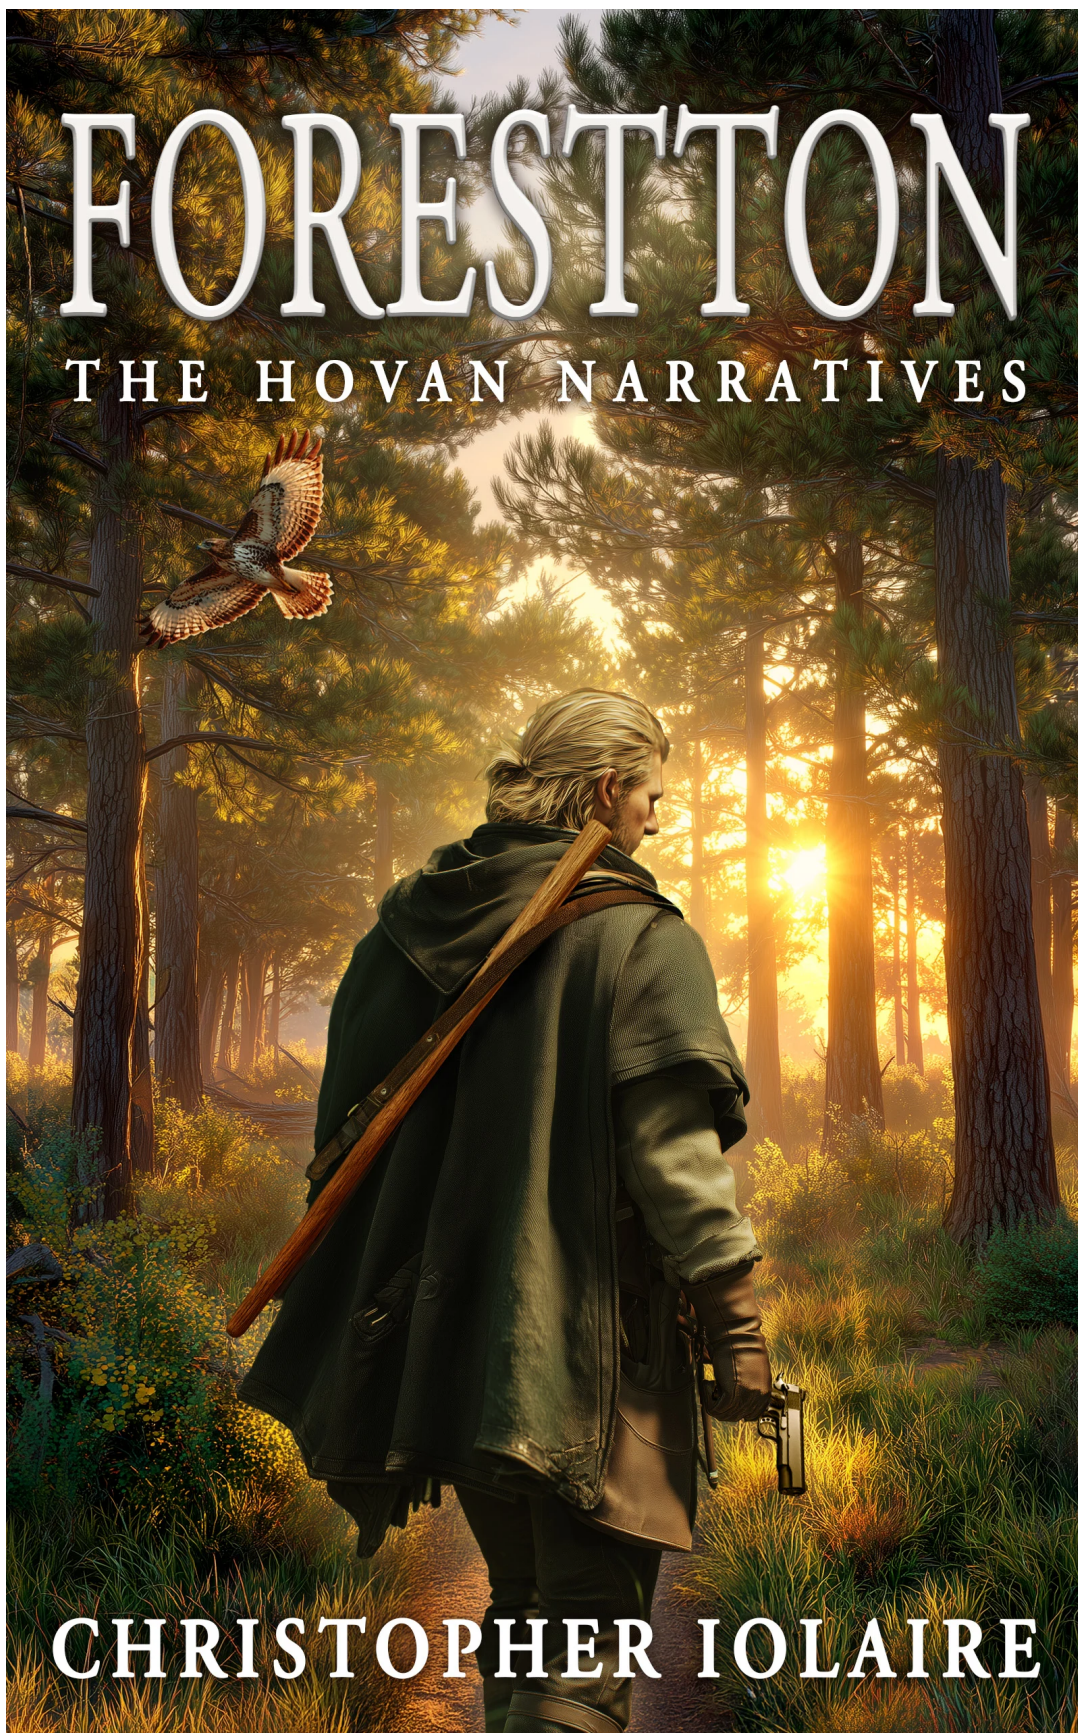

I hope to see you on May 26th, if not sooner.

Take care,

Chris Iolaire
