Read the passage and answer the following questions.

Once, in a green garden full of flowers, there lived a small butterfly named Bella. Bella loved flying from flower to flower, sipping nectar and enjoying the sunshine. One day, as she was resting on a rose, she heard a loud croak. It was a frog trapped under a big leaf after a heavy rain.

“Please help me, little butterfly!” cried the frog. Bella thought for a moment. She was small and could not lift the heavy leaf, but she had an idea. She quickly flew to call her friends — the ants. The ants came marching together and started lifting the leaf bit by bit. Soon, the frog was free!

“Thank you, Bella,” said the frog happily. “You may be small, but you have a big heart and a clever mind.” From that day, all the garden animals respected Bella, not for her size, but for her kindness and intelligence.
