1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Nagaland, one of India's smallest states, is located in the north-east. It is bounded by Myanmar on the east, Arunachal Pradesh on the north, Assam on the west and Manipur on the south. Nagaland is mostly mountainous except the part bordering the Assam Valley. Mount Saramati is the highest peak and forms a natural barrier between Nagaland and Myanmar.

The Nagas, inhabitants of Nagaland, form more than 20 tribes. Konyak is the largest of the Naga tribes. Traditionally, the Nagas wear colourful tribal outfits with bamboo shields and decorated spears. They are simple at heart, and are known for their festive spirit.

Folk songs and ballads popular among the Nagas uphold the values of bravery, love, generosity etc.

Bamboo dance is a well known dance of the Nagas. Colourfully dressed young girls perform the bamboo dance with great speed and accuracy.

Almost all Naga tribes have their own festival. Sanskarni is the major festival of the Zemis tribe.

Sekrenyi is a festival celebrated by the Angamis tribe to ensure the health and well being of the community. Moatsu is most important festival celebrated by the Aos tribe after the seed sowing is over.

Wood carving is a famous Naga craft. The Konyaks, the best wood carvers among all the Naga tribes, are skilled in carving human and animal figures. Weaving is a traditional Naga art in which each tribe has its own special design and colour.
